

Woman Becomes A Man After Sex Operation

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(AP)—A strange new adventure in life has begun for a 33-year-old woman—she has become a man.

Dr. Charles F. Church said that the former Edna Genecki of nearby South River has been changed into Ed Genecki—at "her" own request—by an operation at an out-of-state hospital.

Genecki lived his first 33 years of life as a girl and woman. He graduated from Rutgers university and later became a junior executive at Johnson and Johnson company here—all as a woman.

But "Edna"—though considered a good-looking coed by Rutgers classmates—had deep doubts as to her rightful place in nature's scheme, Dr. Church said.

She found she had to shave every day, and she had unusually strong hands and arms for a woman.

Finally, Dr. Church said, she came to him for advice.

Dr. Church sent the troubled woman to leading medical authorities. They agreed that she was predominantly male and with her full cooperation suggested an operation to complete the transformation to a normal man.

The new Ed Genecki will be coming home next week. He'll take up his old job where he left it and take a new place in the community as a man.

Neighbors and co-workers have been told of his change.

They all want to help Ed lead

BRIDGES TRIAL JUDGE—Federal Judge George B. Harris, above, has the job of trying Harry Bridges and two CIO-Longshoremen's Union aides on charges of perjury and conspiracy. Harris is seen at his bench in San Francisco as the trial began.

OODLES OF APPLES—The biggest apple crop since 1939 has created a "dangerous" surplus that even government buying can't absorb. This year's harvest would provide almost a bushel of apples for every person in the United States. Growers are conducting a strenuous selling drive and the government is buying more apples for federal school lunches to help ease the surplus.

Eight Children Attend Great Grandma's Nuptials

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 21—(AP)—If the eight attendants at Mrs. Catherine Glinther's wedding today bear a family resemblance to the bride, that's all right. They're her great grandchildren.

The eight volunteered after Mrs. Glinther, who is 67, announced she would wed Charles Ward, 82, in the climax of a romance that started on a California-bound train last September.

Mrs. Glinther met Ward while on her way to visit her son, Ward, a retired farmer of Wisconsin Dells, Wis., was on his way to visit a daughter on the West coast.

Medical authorities explain that cases like Ed Genecki's occur about once in every 150 births. In most similar cases, however, one sex overcomes the other tendency, and the dominant sex is established naturally.

Sometimes, though, the struggle between the two sexes goes on in later life—as it did in Ed Genecki's.

WEED KILLS SHEEP MOSCOW, Idaho—(AP)—Sheepgrowers in the west are cooperating with plant experts to fight an innocent-looking weed known as the halogeton. It looks like a Russian thistle but contains enough oxalic acid to kill a sheep that eats a pound and a half of the weed.

Thousands of sheep have been lost since the halogeton first appeared in Idaho two years ago. Nevada has had a similar loss. It is spreading, and is hard to control because it takes hold readily on poor land that is worth less than the cost of killing the weed off. From such bases it

Albert Cockeram Sells His Ranch At Red Hill

Albert Cockeram, who has spent his entire 65 years on a ranch on Red Hill near Yoncalla, has sold his 730-acre to Homer and Bertha Walters of Okanogan, Wash. The transaction was made through the Bob Crawford Real Estate company. Mr. and Mrs. Walters will take possession Dec. 1.

Mr. Cockeram, one of eight children and his brothers Harvey, Ralph and Ward, all own large ranches on Red Hill. He also has four sisters. His plans are indefinite at present, but he expects to spend the winter visiting his two daughters, one in Portland and one in Eugene, and other relatives and also friends. He hopes to ultimately locate somewhere near Yoncalla.

Mrs. Cockeram died last spring, and Mr. Cockeram, whose health is not the best, felt he had to get closer to town.

Sex Crimes Stir Action By Los Angeles P.T.A.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21—(AP)—Some 25 cases of sexual molestation of children—way more than usual—have been reported in Los Angeles in the week since six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoft was slain sadistically.

The citizenry here is so keyed up about the situation that a mass meeting will be held tonight under the sponsorship of parent-teacher groups. Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss methods of dealing with sexual criminals.
