Prominent Rural Pastor To Speak At Camas Valley

The Rev. Claude A. Brown, recent transfer to the Oregon Methodist conference, is scheduled to speak at the Camas Valley Methodist church Sunday at 11 a. m., Nov. 27. The Rev. Mr. Brown commenced the Christian life in Camas Valley 30 years ago this fall and returns to preach there for his first time. In his ministry he has specialized in the rural field, has studied extensively in this area and has written important articles appearing in periodicals of his church. He held an experimental parish in Idaho, built a distinctive rural church at Orchards, Wash., and is now serving McFarland in a Rural Youth and Lord's Acre project.

The Rev. Mr. Brown states that he is in the rural field because it represents the greatest unevangelized field in America. His father, the late Arthur Brown, was deputy master of the Grange, for many years and was widely known through his chaplain's articles appearing in the State Grange paper. Relatives living in Camas Valley are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, uncle and aunt; Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wheeler, uncle and aunt, and Mrs. Wilfred Brown, aunt.

Camas Valley is on the Dillard circuit and is regularly served by the Rev. W. W. Appleyard.

The newspaper for one edition of a metropolitan Sunday paper requires about 24 acres of forest.

Garbagemen Find Baby Alive Stuffed Into Can

hospital and is kicking and crying healthily. I guess the young mother is pretty happy now that they're together. She was certainly pretty upset.

Sickles said the mother, 18 years old and unwed, came to the Tri-Cities (Pasco-Richland-Kennewick) area about three weeks ago from the Puget sound area in western Washington. After leaving the theater she had given birth to the child in an empty taxi cab in a vacant lot behind the police station. Then she had deposited the baby in the garbage can and headed back for Richland where she lived with a girl friend.

Pros. William J. Gaffney said he was "undecided" whether to file charges against the girl.

"But you know," mused Sickles after rejoining his family for Thanksgiving. "The 'kicker' on the whole affair is the name of the picture—a Lee Gorey and the Bowery Guys number called 'Hold That Baby.'"

Holiday Tornado Takes 44 Lives in Alabama

were hurt. Property damage was heavy.

Another person was killed and five injured by the tornado's fury on Sand mountain, near Valley Head in Dekalb county. Valley Head is 90 miles northeast of here.

Sheriff W. F. Maynor of Blount county reported that an unidentified body was taken from the ruins of a burned home near Oneonta.

A Red Cross disaster crew was dispatched to the Hackneyville storm area to aid other Negro families whose houses were damaged by the twister.

Gov. James E. Folsom called on National Guardsmen at Oneonta to aid in the search for the missing. Blood plasma, hospitals supplies and nurses were sent to the oneonta area by highway patrolmen.

Maynor said damage in Easley was "widespread" and that many persons there were injured. Mrs. Tidwell and her sister-in-law died in their storm-crushed home.

Jesse McCullough, an Easley resident, related that he was picked up by the wind and carried across three acres of land, finally landing in a tree top.

Evidence of the wind's might was shown when a school bus standing in front of Eugene Gibson's house was blown completely over the building, landing in the back yard.

Newsman reported widespread damage to timber over a 20-mile swath.

Broken Hydrant Creates 'Lake'

Water gushing from a fire hydrant at Winchester and Beacon streets made a shallow lake in several front yards last night, after an automobile reportedly shovered off the hydrant.

Assistant Police Chief Alvin Hughes said the car was driven by Robert McFarland, 313 Neuse street, who suffered bruises and abrasions in the accident.

Hughes said McFarland's car struck an automobile parked on Winchester street, careened across the street, sheared off the hydrant, and came to a stop in the yard at 1114 Winchester street.

The automobile damaged by McFarland's car, according to Hughes, was owned by W. I. Bridges, 1020 W. 3rd street.

The police officer said that McFarland, refusing to be taken to the hospital, was taken by an ambulance to his home.

Temporary repairs to the fire hydrant were made by a California Oregon Power company crew last night. The hydrant was to be replaced today.

Official On Way To Aid Of Ward

HONG KONG, Nov. 25.—(AP)—An American State department official was reported today bound for Shanghai aboard the freighter Sir John Franklin to try to effect the removal from Communist China of Consul Angus Ward in Mukden.

Sources close to the United States consulate said the State department official boarded the vessel, which sailed early this morning.

The Franklin is due in Shanghai Monday. It is operated by the Transoceanic Lines.

These same sources said if the release of Ward and the consular staff can be arranged the Franklin may go to Tientsin or some Liaotung peninsula port in North China to pick up the Americans.

Word spread in Hong Kong today that Ward, who with four members of his staff, were banished from Mukden by a Communist court, had already arrived in Tientsin. A U. S. consulate official said he had no information on the report.

Community Chest Fund Objectives Emphasized

came from the Rev. Walter A. MacArthur, pastor of the First Methodist church, the principal speaker at the luncheon.

He stressed that the "main difficulty" in raising funds this year, has been that citizens have not been informed of the purposes of the Community Chest and its "one-package" campaign.

He pointed out that the budget committee, headed by Frank Ashley, must have had "a tremendous job" in combining the financial requests of the participating agencies into one budget.

As a warning, the minister declared that Roseburg "must get concerned for the kids of the future" and act by giving their backing to the Community Chest.

Harold Hickerson, chairman of the campaign steering committee, pointed out that if participating agencies can raise funds under their own names, they certainly can do so under the Community Chest. He also said that some businessmen in the city have failed to support the Community Chest.

Another meeting will be held next Wednesday at the Hotel Umpqua, when the Community Chest campaign will be further discussed and financial reports received.

2 Bar Customers Shot By Bandit

LEWISTON, Idaho, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Two barroom customers were shot to death early today as they wrestled with a masked gunman intent on robbery.

A police dragnet was spread around the city immediately in an effort to catch the killer.

The victims were Charles Lemmons, 70, and John Hendley, 32, both of Lewiston.

Lemmons was the first to die. As the masked gunman walked into the Main street bar at midnight and waved a pistol at the bartender, Gladys Keller, Lemmons stepped from his booth. "You can't do that to her," he shouted.

Filipino Rebels Strafed, Shelled

MANILA, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Constabulary headquarters expressed the opinion rebels held up in the mountains of Batangas province today suffered "great slaughter" in a combined air, artillery and ground attack by government forces.

Planes in repeated sorties, strafed and bombed the rebel positions. A joint army, navy and constabulary offensive was ordered by President Elpidio Quirino. Three Manila newspapers deplored the order.

Allied-German Pact Will Relax Controls

While Socialist deputies were out of the chamber in caucus, the rest of the assembly overwhelmingly rejected Schumacher's proposal on which the opposition movement. It was a motion challenging Adensuer's constitutional right to negotiate and sign the agreement with the Allies without parliamentary approval.

In the hot debate which preceded the vote, Schumacher criticized the chancellor for agreeing to recognize the international authority to control the industrial Ruhr. To his "chancellor of the Allies" taunt conservative deputies replied with shouts of "insolence," cat-calls and boos.
