

Air Tragedies In Month Post Death Toll Past 200

(By Associated Press)
The crash of an American Airlines plane at Dallas Tuesday raised the death toll from major civilian and military air accidents in the past month to more than 200. Twenty-eight persons were believed killed at Dallas.

It was one of the worst months for aviation in peacetime history. Just about a month ago on Oct. 31 an Eastern Airlines plane and a P-38 fighter collided near Washington, D. C., killing all 51 passengers and a crew of four on the DC-4.

Representing the greatest loss of life in American commercial aviation, the Washington crash spurred authorities to ban combat-type aircraft from the busy National airport where the accident occurred.

Three days before a Paris-New York Transatlantic airliner crashed in a flaming heap against a mountain peak in the Azores. The 48 dead included Marcel Cerdan, former French and world middleweight boxing champion.

Then, on Nov. 20, a Dutch mercy plane carrying 28 Jewish refugee children from North Africa to Scandinavia came down in a mass of twisted wreckage near Oslo, Sweden. A 12-year-old boy survived, but 34 others died.

Superforts Suffer
Meanwhile, the air force, plagued by a series of tragic mishaps, took some of its famed B-29 Superfortresses out of the air for overhaul.

The Air Force's November pack of woes was highlighted by the loss of 18 personnel when two superforts collided in a mock bombing run near Stockton, Calif., on the 16th.

It also was marked by one of the most extensive peacetime searches for a downed military plane which resulted in the Nov. 19 rescue of 18 of twenty air force men forced down near Bermuda. Their B-29 was ditched three days before.

During rescue operations, on Nov. 18, another Superfort, off to hunt for the missing plane, crashed into Tampa bay, killing five of the nine-man crew.

Other disasters in which the $1,000,000, four-engined planes figured include:
Nov. 3—A B-29 weather observation plane, crippled by engine trouble, crashed into the sea off Kindley field, Hamilton, Bermuda, 11 dead.

Nov. 11—A Superfort crashed near Indianapolis with an engine in flames, two of the crew of 12 died.

Nov. 14—A crippled Superfort made an emergency landing at Salt Lake City, Utah; ten of the crew of 13 parachuted safely. Three died.

DOG HOUSE REALISM
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Those weren't wolf calls echoing through Hollywood streets. Just 50 varieties of dog howls.

Police arrested Actor Dean Hall, who makes his living barking like a dog for the movies. Booked on suspicion of drunkenness, Hall told officers that he can imitate 50 breeds.

Fellow prisoners said he kept them awake all night proving it.

Catholic News Vendors Get Holy Office Warning

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Catholic news vendors who "knowingly and freely" sell Communist newspapers must be refused the Sacraments, the Holy office has ruled.

It made allowances, however, for news vendors "under effective coercion" to handle Communist publications.

The Holy office ruling explained provisions of the historic papal decree of last July excommunicating Catholics who militantly defend Communism and denying the Holy Sacraments to those who "publish, read or disseminate books, newspapers or leaflets in support of Communist doctrine."

In Italy, the Holy office ruling affects the daily Communist organ "Unita," the Communist party's weekly magazine "Vie Nuove" and other lesser publications supporting the Communist doctrine. In the United States and Britain it applies to the Communist "Daily Worker."

The Supreme Court building in Washington is believed to contain more marble than any other structure.

BLOOD GIFTS PLENTIFUL

LOS ANGELES, — (AP) — Hollywood has not forgotten Evangeline Russell, 47, screen star of the silent days.

She said she learned this when she made a public appeal for a pint of blood she needed before undergoing surgery.

"All I needed was one pint of blood but I received enough of hers to make up 15 gallons," she said in a hospital. "All the studios responded. I have found a gold mine of lost friends and made many new ones."

She is the widow of Film Producer J. Stuart Blackton.

Easing Of Winter Load Limits Asked By Loggers

PRINEVILLE — (AP) — Central Oregon lumber operators have joined those of the Willamette valley in petitioning for an easing of load limits on logging trucks this winter.

Petitions are directed to the State Highway department. They contend that load limitations place a hardship on logging and sawmill operators by decreasing earnings and curtailing payrolls.

At the same time the central Oregon operators complained that a shortage of rail cars was hampering shipments.

TOWN BUYS UTILITY

ROCKAWAY, Ore. — (AP) — This coastal city is acquiring its own water system after years of buying water from a private company.

It is purchasing the Sunset Water company for $70,000. The city also is laying plans to start a sewer system in the next year.
