Missing Plane Believed Sighted On Mt. St. Helens

PORTLAND, Nov. 29. — (AP) — A search plane today sighted high on snow-capped Mt. St. Helens what may be the wreckage of a missing C-54 transport plane. Apparently the battered remains of a large plane, it was sighted at the 6500-foot level on the east side of the 9671-foot mountain in southwestern Wash-

GOOD YEAR
Studded Sure Grip

BEST FOR GO IN MUD AND SNOW

Regular arrangement of studs provides traction forward or reverse.

Each stud digs in and grips in turn—penetrates mud or snow to take hold for maximum pulling power.

"Channels" around each stud throw off mud and snow.

If business or necessity calls for year-around operation of your car or truck on all kinds of roads... make sure of "getting through" with Studded Sure-Grips—the specially designed Goodyear "Go-Anywhere" tire.

DAYS NUMBERED—The bachelor days of Louis Adamski, manager of Wayne's Shoe store, are numbered. He is soon to wed Miss Ameer Pawluck, now employed at Mercy hospital. Last week some of his friends honored him with an informal luncheon at the Ice Creamery's "Terrace Room." The affair was arranged by H. C. McDonald. Others included Roy Bellows, at left above; Jim Turk, Ken Bushey, George Singleton, Hank Henry, and Warren Ward, all seated at booth in lower picture, and Rod Nevue, at table. Adamski is seated at right in the lower picture.—(Staff pictures.)

ington. The mountain is 80 air miles north of Portland.

That area has been searched since last Tuesday, when a C-54 from McChord field, Wash., disappeared on a training flight to Portland. Six men were aboard.

Lt. John F. Boersig, air base information officer here, said ground parties would leave shortly for the scene, which can be reached only by a long motor trip through the town of Castle Rock and up the lone road to the mountain. The search party will have to climb the last several miles to the scene by foot.

The plane last reported by radio at mid-day a week ago. The ship was flying on instruments through clouds, and the navigator believed the plane was some 30 miles west of Mt. St. Helens. The transmission ended suddenly. Nothing further was heard.

Aboard were Capt. Elrino Neher, Jr., 27, instruction-pilot, San Francisco; Capt. Joseph F. Chuse, 33, co-pilot, Mattoon, Ill.; Lt. Thomas C. Hardisty, 23, navigator, Sarasota, Fla.; S/Sgt. Richard C. Hoerner, 25, New Haven, Conn.; S/Sgt. Homer C. Detwiler, 31, of Payette, Idaho; and Lt. Richard M. Fanning, 31, Portland.

Ohio Auditor Out As Foe Of Taft

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 30. — (AP) — State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson made it official last night. He formally announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for U. S. Senator.

Ferguson did it at a banquet put on by the Franklin county Democratic Executive committee here. Many party leaders from over the state were on hand for Ferguson's long-awaited declaration.

He has been saying for some time that he is the only democrat who can beat Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft in the November election. Taft is regarded as almost certain to win GOP nomination in the May primary.

Numerous farm and labor leaders have joined some Democrats in trying to get Ferguson to stay out of the primary. They want democrats to unite behind a single candidate they feel has a better chance of beating Taft.

But Ferguson turned them all down. His announcement is regarded as a death blow to advocates of a single democratic primary aspirant for the senate. He and four other announced candidates could withdraw later but that isn't believed likely now.

COUNTY LEADER DIES
 MADRAS, — (AP) — Lewis H. Irving, 63, who helped father Jefferson county and long was a leader in the fight for irrigation here, died in a Bend hospital. Irving, an attorney was active in the separation of Jefferson from Crook county, and helped lay out the boundaries of the new county in 1919. He also was instrumental in naming it Jefferson county. An irrigation advocate, he was a leader in the movement that culminated in establishment of the north unit of the Deschutes reclamation project.
