Mary Lee Rust Fine Example Of 4-H Activity

Mary Lee Rust, 18, above, of Azalea is a shining example of a person who has made the best of what she had with which to work, according to County 4-H Club Agent Frank von Borstel. Mary has been attending the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. The congress was terminated Wednesday. She was one of four outstanding 4-H workers selected to represent Oregon in the all-expense paid trip.

A graduate of Glendale high school and currently a freshman in journalism at the University of Oregon, Mary lives on a farm in an isolated area far up Cow Creek beyond Azalea.

Although she has attended 4-H summer school at Oregon State college, Corvallis, and has made several trips to the state fair, her enrollment at the University and her trip to Chicago have given her the first real opportunity to get away from the farm. Long interested in 4-H work, her records show she has produced livestock and farm crops valued at nearly $3,000. She has raised 1,200 chickens, 12 head of sheep, farmed an approximate three acres of land, canned over 200 quarts of fruit, has made 16 garments and has served 200 meals. She has participated in 33 4-H projects. She has taken part in dollar dinners twice at the state fair and placed second both times.

Among her other accomplishments she states she has driven a tractor 11 years. In high school she worked on the school paper and annual, and was correspondent for the Myrtle Creek Mail newspaper.

A letter contained in her achievement record book states: "Clothing is a wonderful project to take. You can decorate your bedroom to suit yourself if you sew, and you can do it much cheaper, too.

"I have taken sewing for seven years. I have not taken it just because I wanted something to do. I have taken it because I liked it. It is so much fun to make a dress, decorate your bedroom, or make new curtains for the living room. To do these things gives one pride in one's self, and that is something I think we all need more of."

Mary began sewing at the age of nine years in the third grade.

"We had so much fun making floor cushions and lunch cloths. We did most of the work at school and everyone enjoyed it. When spring achievement day came my sister and I took our exhibits. The achievement day was held at Canyonville. After a program, Mr. Britton, our teacher gave us our prizes. I only got a white ribbon and 20 cents, but the 20 cents was what did it. Here I am seven years later, still taking sewing, not sewing one, but sewing four.

"Three times I have won championships on my sewing project, and it has gone to the state fair. Twice I have won free trips to the state fair on my sewing, and I have gone there to model it. The Oregon State Fair is a wonderful experience for anyone, because you get to see what everyone else is doing.

"There is one big thing I have learned from 4-H, and I think it would be nice if everyone else could learn it too. A quitter never wins, and a winner never quits."

Window Shopping with Corinne

Here, you lucky people, are some special prices on Zeiss Ikon and Ikonta cameras at CLARK'S STUDIO, 105 S. Jackson. They are in perfect condition, but have been handled and are just slightly shopworn. Several projectors have been reduced in price, too, including a 16 mm. sound projector made by Moviemite, a Revere 8 mm. and a Keystone 8 mm. They've been out on rental a very few times, but have been thoroughly checked and are good as new ones. Numerous small items are on sale at lower prices. We took special note of a battery illuminator for the Viewmaster viewer. It clips on the viewer and gives the necessary light for looking at color slides even in the dark. Go in this week and see it for yourself—this streamlined version of the stereoscope.

Make this a record Christmas for the little folks, with Victor Kiddie records from MILLER'S RADIO RECORD SHOP. The "Little Nipper" series has albums of records with pictures and stories for most of them. In standard and 45 r. p. m. albums, you'll find "Peter and the Wolf," "The Little Engine That Could," and "Pecos Bill" with Roy Rogers. Can't you just see your kiddies' delight with any of these? Let them handle these records themselves—they're unbreakable. There's a story behind the "Little Nipper" title. Mr. Bushey tells us: Nipper is the Victor Dog, who listens beside the loudspeaker on the Victor trademark. "Little Nipper" is the doggie on the trademark for children's records. Go down to Miller's Radio Record Shop this week and select several albums for the youngsters on your gift list.

Elgin American is getting in the act, too, with handmade pearls in one, two and three strands. See them now at ASHCRAFT'S, 106 S. Jackson. Elgin searched the world for the finest pearls created by man. They found them on the island of Majorca, in the blue Mediterranean. They are made into the most carefully graduated pearl necklaces you'll ever see, with silver clasps that are precision perfect and distinctive in design. They are sold with their own satin-lined jewel box, made of jeweler's bronze.

Where can you get handmade items for Christmas gifting? Why, at the CLOVER EXCHANGE, on Melrose road, just beyond Fairhaven. There you will find daintily embroidered pillow slips, table linens, and dozens of other handmade things to please the most discriminating. One pair of pillow slips we took note of are eyelet and satin embroidered with a chrysanthemum design in all white. Wouldn't that be lovely for a winter bride's shower? Another pair has a knitted lace edge. It's all-white, too, in a flower petal design with leaf scallops along the edge. A 5-piece luncheon set with 40" square cloth and matching napkins embroidered in bright colors, with crocheted scalloped edge. Want to give something really superb? Then give this cutwork dinner cloth in a full 72"x54" size with eight matching napkins. The design is "Wild Rose."

Here are exquisite lingerie gifts, at LUVERNE'S, 124 N. Jackson. Mojud panties come in dainty pastel blue, pink, white, green, orchid, or yellow, gaily trimmed with ribbon or lace. But for a romantic Miss or Mrs., your most pleasing gift will be a nightie of nylon jersey. Just look at them and you'll know why. In pink or white, with tiny puff sleeves for wearing off-the-shoulder, they have the frothy look of frozen custard. So sheer, they'll look like nothing at all—or at most like tinted cellophane! Priced so low that you should be able to give her two.

In a hurry, like all the rest of us are these days? Rushing madly all over town to get your Christmas shopping done? For fear's sake, do take time out for a refreshing, old-fashioned chocolate malt at the ICE CREAMERY. Anytime from 11 to 3 you can get a toast-ed or grilled sandwich to go with it, for a lunch that will pep you up when you're tired. For dessert, why not a hot fudge sundae, or a strawberry sundae made with fresh strawberries? Pineapple sundaes topped with nuts are delish, either for lunch or for after-show snacks. Who gets the free lunch at the Ice Creamery, this week? Well, now, Santa whispers the name, Mary Cox. So if she will clip this coupon out of Window Shopping and show it to Mr. McDonald any day next week, she can order anything she wants for lunch, on the house.

P. S. Order a banana split, Mary. It's made with three scoops of ice cream and three different sauces, served on a split banana and the whole thing simply covered with whipped cream.

"Smatter, don't you sleep well at night? Maybe what we both need is a Platex Superfoam pillow from JOSSE'S Drapery Department. They promise the best sleep you've ever had, because they retain their shape always and don't lump under your head. Covered with white muslin or satin in rose, blue or pastel green with corded edges to match, they are interlined with cotton and are a size that fits any pillow case. They are 100% allergy-free, dust-proof, mothproof, mildewproof. Better pick up a pair of them right now, don't you think?

the quilted cover that shrank when cleaned? Who of us hasn't deplored the stains and holes that develop in spite of our best care? Now we can have two card table covers in one, made of Velon plastic in two colors and quilted. Grippers fasten it at the corners for quick reversing. It looks and feels like satin, but is alcohol and stain proof and flame resistant. It won't chip, crease, peel, or crack, and is easy to clean—just wipe with a damp cloth. Lester's has any number of laugh items, too, for gay and care-free hosting. There is a 10c grab bag at Les' this week, full of novelties that make clever party prizes or favors. Just dip in your fist and see if you don't get something you can use or give away.

LESTER'S GIFT SHOP has the answer to the card table problem. Who of us hasn't cursed
