Columbia Fishing Season Ends, But Nobody Cares

ASTORIA, Dec. 2.—(P)—The commercial fishing season on the Columbia river ended Thursday, but nobody cared very much. Hardly anyone had been catching anything, anyway. The CIO fishermen's union reported fishing growing steadily worse, and predicted the year's catches would prove to be among the lowest in history. The commercial season will open again at noon Jan. 29. Only such fish as shad and smelt, on which there is no limit, can be caught commercially in the meantime. A few boats will fish for smelt, but most fishermen plan to spend the next two months preparing their gear for next year.

Oregon, Washington Census Taking Job To Start April 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(P)—Nearly 5,000 persons will be engaged in taking the census in Washington and Oregon starting next April 1. The Census bureau announced the organizational setup today and showed that in Oregon a total of 2,131 persons will be employed while in Washington a total of 2,676 will collect the data.

Of Oregon's total, 87 will be employed in the district offices and 2,044 will be crew leaders and enumerators. In Washington 150 will be employed in the district offices and 2,526 will be crew leaders and enumerators. The work is expected to require about two weeks in the cities and about a month in the rural sections.

The enumerators and temporary workers will not be chosen until late next February or March and applications for the short time jobs must be sent to the district headquarters. They will not be acted upon from Washington and in the district offices will not be chosen until almost time for the census to start.

Ten Questions Listed
The enumerators will generally ask ten questions, the person's name, relationship to the head of the household, race, sex, age, marital status, state or county of birth, citizenship status, the employment status the previous week of every person 14 years old or older and the occupation, industry and class of worker.

In addition the census will gather information on duration of employment, income, income from relatives and the veteran status of males from every fifth person. From every 30th person will gather other information concerning marital status, occupation, industry and class of worker or persons who worked last year but were not looking for work the week before.

The enumerators also will gather information concerning the dwelling unit and much more detailed information from farm-ers.

There will be six district offices in Oregon. These, with the number of employees in each district office, the crew leaders and enumerators are:
Astoria—14; and 185; taking in Clatsop, Columbia, Tillamook, Washington and Yamhill counties.

Bend—12; 11 and 112; Creek, Deschutes, Harney, Klamath, Lake and Malheur counties.
Eugene—22; 22 and 322; Coos, Curry, Douglas, Jackson, Josephine, Lane and Linn counties.
La Grande—15; 11 and 121; Baker, Gilliam, Grant, Hood River, Jefferson, Morrow, Sherman, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wasco and Wheeler counties.
Portland—26; 26 and 493 covering Multnomah county.
Salem—20; 17 and 280; Benton, Clackamas, Lincoln, Marion and Polk counties.

Trade Schools Hit By Vets' Plaints

PORTLAND, Dec. 1.—(P)—Veterans' complaints that some trade schools here have misrepresented bids for ex-GI enrollment are to be submitted to Governor Douglas McKay. The Multnomah County Veterans' Service committee has asked the governor to name a citizens' committee to look into the situation. Committee Chairman Carl Frellinger said the citizens' group should also act as an approval agency for the schools. Frellinger said ex-servicemen from other states were among those complaining. Some were from as far away as Los Angeles and Butte, Mont., he said. The chairman said the veterans reported the schools had promised part-time employment and housing. He did not name the schools. A Veterans administration official, William Saxson, predicted a rapid decline in GI-bill enrollment at colleges after January. He said 72,172 of the 150,000 eligible in Oregon for veterans' instruction programs had participated under the plan.

Crackdown On Sex Crimes Plan At Legion Meet

(By the Associated Press)
The nation-wide upsurge of sex crimes drew a double blast today in Washington state.

In Olympia, Atty. Gen. Smith Troy called for a vigorous crackdown on sexual offenses. And in Seattle, Dr. A. H. Wittman of Philadelphia, chairman of the American Legion's National Child Welfare commission, said the problem of sex crimes will be made a special order of business for tomorrow's session of the Legion's Western Child Welfare conference.

The American Legion conference will include delegates from 11 western states, Alaska and Hawaii.

A special committee to consider ways and means of fighting sex crimes against children includes Stephen F. Chadwick of Seattle, past national commander of the Legion, and Mrs. Pearl A. Wannamaker, state superintendent of public instruction, on its rolls. Wittmann said the Legion's program of preventive action falls into two categories: 1. A long-range program for the detection of sexual perverts at an early stage to enable their treatment or, if necessary, their segregation; 2. Immediate alerting of parents as to their basic responsibilities in

Rocket Plane To Span U. S. In Less Than Hour Talked

(Associated Press Science Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(P)—A rocket airplane to fly from New York to San Francisco in less than an hour was described to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers here.

It will travel almost 10,000 miles an hour, but will land at only 150.

The shape is a fat, sharp-pointed pencil, 80 feet long, 9 feet wide. A pair of small wings is set midway between point and tail. The tail fins are as big as the wings, and the vertical tail fin is bigger.

This outline drawing was shown to the American Rocket society section of the meeting by Dr. Hsue-Shen Tsien, of the California Institute of Technology. He is Robert H. Goddard professor at the Daniel and Florence Guggenheim jet propulsion center.

The ship hasn't been built. But it is a lot closer than engineers suspected.

"The requirements," said Dr. Tsien, "are not at all beyond the grasp of present day technology." The plane would travel 12,000 miles under rocket power, and then glide 1800 miles farther. Most of the first-1200 miles would be up above the atmosphere, somewhere over 30 miles.

FOURTH HORSE SLAIN

ASTORIA—(P)—John Simmons Olney, complained that he has just lost his fourth riding horse to hunters. Simmons found the horse, purchased from the Bing Crosby stables, dead from gunshot wounds. He wasn't sure whether the killing was accidental or not.

It is the fourth time this has happened to Simmons.

State Official Named President Of Chamber

PORTLAND, Dec. 2.—(P)—Edgar W. Smith, president of the Oregon State Board of Higher Education, was elected president of the Portland chamber of commerce yesterday. Smith, who has been in the flour, shipping, and insurance business, has wheat and cattle interests in Eastern Washington. He was born in Pendleton.

BASS FIDDLE STOLEN

SEATTLE.—(P)—A thief with big ideas almost loused up the opening bars of the roadshow musical "Oklahoma!" at the Metropolitan theater here. He stole the orchestra's bass fiddle. A substitute was found and the show went on.

GIFTS that are "DIFFERENT"

Is Papa a problem? Is Daddy a dilemma? Is Father a first-rate frustration? Don't bat your brains out trying to think of something to please him on Christmas morning. Go to your favorite Gift Shop at 323 South Stephens Street (as if you didn't know), and let them do it for you! It's painless and perfectly pleasurable when you shop DOROTHY'S way.

Getting down to the really personal, nothing could be more intimate than one of those gorgeous agate rings with the large masculine setting. Or perhaps a tie clasp or currency clip, each set with a flawless polished agate. And lookie—, I just happened to remember that slick musical bar at DOROTHY'S, with tumblers and stuff; lift the lid and it plays a convivial tune. Lord love a duck, the Governor will take to that like a mastiff takes to raw meat.

For something different in many cosmetics the Russian Bouquet is tops; after shave lotion, talc and their ilk. And don't look now, but Pappy likes bubble bath, the old scallawag! Don't forget DOROTHY'S on Stephens is open each week-day evening until seven. Just across from the Greyhound depot, or phone 1071-R.
