High Court Rules In Large Batch Of Cases

Variety Of Issues Are Involved In Appeals Up For Final Decisions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The Supreme court yesterday upheld an Arkansas "right to work" law which makes it a crime to use force or threats to keep a worker from any lawful job.

In another decision, the tribunal ruled 6-2 that the old Wagner act permitted the firing of workers who tried to have their union replaced by a rival labor organization.

The Taft-Hartley act flatly bans such discharges.

In other actions the court:

1. Agreed to rule on the power of American civil courts to overturn court martial convictions. The tribunal will review a decision by the U.S. Circuit court at New Orleans that Eugene Preston Brown, an American soldier convicted of murder by an army court in Germany, should be freed. The lower court held that Brown's court-martial was so "replete with highly prejudicial errors and irregularities" that he did not get a fair trial "even under military law."

2. Refused to rule until state courts have considered further the constitutionality of a Los Angeles anti-Communist program intended to determine the loyalty of county employees. A group

Unpopular Police Chief Rates Entire Force Zero

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Every member of Bellingham's 36-man police department received a zero grade for conduct on his monthly civil service rating yesterday.

Police Chief Fred Benson posted the November report at headquarters himself. Officers are graded on three readings: conduct, industry, general value.

With the exception of the assistant chief, who resigned his office recently, all department officers had signed a petition to the mayor and city council asking the chief's removal.

Mayor Don Satterlee has refused to remove Benson—his appointment — but the council wishes him replaced.

of 26 county employees challenged legality of the program which requires them to swear to loyalty oaths.

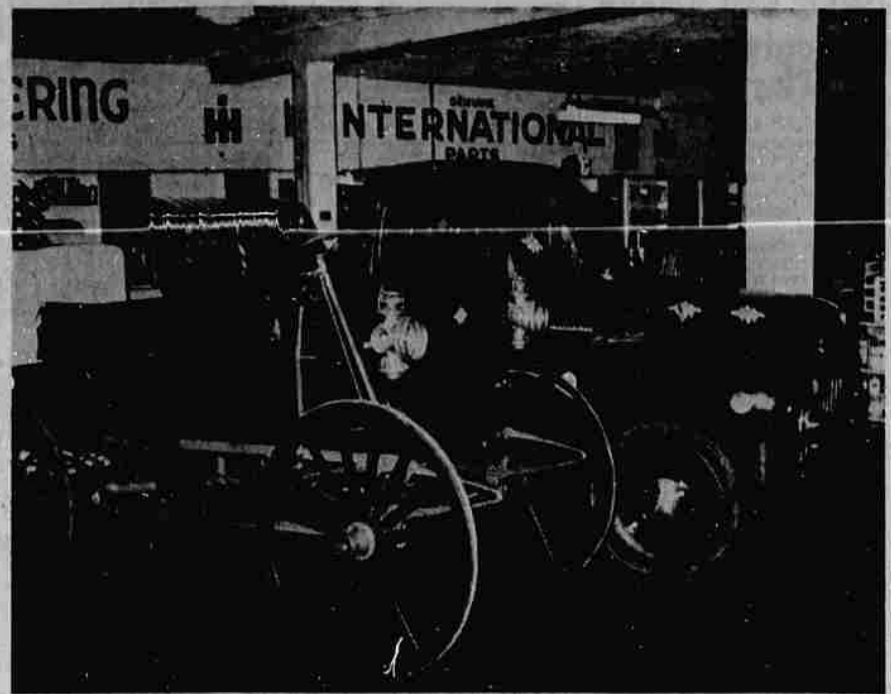

3. Refused to consider a government complaint that federal judge Ben H. Rice, Jr., of San Antonio, Tex., had shown "an abuse of judicial power" in his handling of an anti-trust case. The justice department objected to an order by Judge Rice requiring separate trials for 81 defendants accused of anti-trust act violations in their conduct of small loan offices.

4. Agreed to review a Kansas Supreme court decision denying citizenship to a conscientious objector, German-born Martin Ludwig Cohnstede, who told a Naturalization examiner in 1947: "I cannot contribute anything to be used solely and directly in furtherance of armed conflict."

5. Agreed to hear arguments in two suits brought by the federal government in an effort to get possession of oil-bearing tideslands off the coasts of Texas and Louisiana. The tribunal refused a Louisiana plea for a rare jury trial before the Supreme court. Two Negroes involved.

Justice Jackson delivered the 8-0 decision in the Arkansas case, with Justice Douglas taking no part.

The validity of the law was attacked by attorneys for the CIO, on behalf of two Negroes sentenced to a year's imprisonment each because of their activities

THE OLD AND THE NEW in light trucks are displayed in the above picture taken at Sig Felt's Implement company. At left is a light motor truck experimental model built by International Harvester in 1905. Parked next to it is a late model International pickup. The 1905 model is powered by a two-cylinder, air-cooled opposed type engine, using gasoline as fuel. It is chain driven and has two speeds forward and one reverse. The two head and tail lamps are kerosene burners. Owner P. W. "Dave" Davis said he bought the car three years ago from a Day's Creek farmer who had not run the vehicle since 1918. Reconditioned in his spare time, the vehicle is termed by Davis as "the oldest vehicle" in Oregon. (Picture by Master Photo studio)

In a 1945 strike at the horth Little Rock plant of the Southern Cotton Oil company. The day after Christmas four strikers met five non-strikers near the plant. In the case involving the Wagner act, the court ruled that the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company need not reinstate 37 employees who were fired in 1945 on demand of a CIO union.

The 37 worked at the Colgate Glycerine plant at Berkeley, Calif., during the war. The National Labor Relations board found the CIO union demanded their discharge because they were active in favor of a rival AFL union.

Justice Minton delivered the decision to which justices Reed and Burton noted dissents. Justice Douglas took no part.

Actions in Other Cases
 The court agreed to hear arguments in two suits in which the federal government is trying to get possession of oil-bearing tideslands off the coasts of Texas and Louisiana.

The court said it will hear arguments on Monday, February 6. In taking this step the court in effect rejected pleas by the two states that the suits be Saturday, December 10 will be the last day for nominations for the "Queen of America" honor. That is the final date on which club-member women listeners to Mutual-Don Lee's "Queen for a Day" program can submit the name of one of their local leaders for this coveted award—an honor which will provide national recognition and acclaim to a woman leader for her civic, social or church activities in her own community. The fabulous list of prizes to be awarded the lucky "Queen of America" winner, includes a trip to Paris and London, an M. G. Car, furs, a diamond bracelet and wrist-watch, a complete wardrobe and a complete set of luggage. One of the "Queen's" prizes, however, will not be hers alone. The program has arranged for the donation of a pipe organ, valued at approximately $4,000, to the club to which the "Queen of America" belongs. Selection of this "Queen" will be made during a broadcast early next month.

A reminder that Fulton Lewis Jr. is the news-making commentator this week . . . and KRNR's got him . . . daily, 4 to 4:15 p. m. and 9:45 to 10 p. m. He's presenting a special series of behind-the-iron-curtain stories on Russia and the activities of its agents during the last war on his week-day newscasts. Mr. Lewis and his staff of reporters in Washington, D. C., have been gathering information for the series for the past several months. In addition to his news style reports, Mr. Lewis will present in person eye-witness accounts by American authorities who actually saw the described events and actions as they occurred inside the Soviet Union. His first broadcast in this series was made last Friday, Dec. 2.

Mayor Albert Flegel takes you "Behind the Mayor's Desk" tonight at 7:30 . . . followed by "Box Thirteen" starring Alan Ladd at 8 . . . "Jovin Jamboree" and its citizen-of-the-week feature at 8:30 . . . and a real "Live" broadcast of the maestro Carmen Cavallero and his orchestra direct from the Elk's ballroom tonight . . . 11 to 11:30.

The tribunal also in effect denied a government request that it decide the suit against Louisiana at once, on the basis of evidence and pleadings now available to the justices.

The government said Texas may have certain special defenses growing out of the circumstances of its admission to the union. It suggested the court hear the defenses before giving judgment in the case against Texas.

By its action today, the court in effect turned down a Louisiana request that the suit against it, if not dismissed, be decided by a jury trial—a rare occurrence in Supreme court history.
