Soviet Embassy Magazine Offers 'Truth To U.S.'

WASHINGTON — (P)— The Soviet embassy's English-language magazine, barred from a number of American schools, has in vited subscriptions from "many thousands of Americans eager for more truth" about Russia.

The latest issue of the USSR Information Bulletin, after listing some of the "fine articles and revealing photographs" it has carried in the past to give a "thorough-going, rounded picture" of the Soviet Union, says:
"Your relative, neighbor or shopmate is missing all these things through no fault of his or her own. We believe you could help us—and them— and therefore are addressing you on this page.

"We want these Americans to know our publication, to become acquainted with both it and the sculet people."

acquainted with both it and the Soviet people."

Special Rate Offered

It said it is offering special gift-rate Christmas subscriptions—SI for 24 issues—so its readers can "join with us in building friends in the cause of peace, international understanding and good-fellowship."

The builletin is a slick-paper magazine offering a strictly Soviet view of world issues, along with a bright picture of life in Russia.

It lists its regular price as 10

Soviet "New Times" entitled
"Tito sells refugee children"—

TWorried about the situation in "Worried about the situation in Yugoslavia and Greece, the British and American cliques that rule these countries against the interests of their people are now working to contrive a Belgrade-Athens Fascist-police 'axis'."

The magazine's full-page appeal for wider circulation is addressed "Dear Reader" and goes on:

"The postman brings us daily evidence that many thousands of Americans are eager for more truth, more facts about the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

"Mail received in the office of the USSR Information Bulletin attests to this hunger—and it is expressed in letters and cards that are sincere, honest and friendly."

RETIREMENT—DEATH

He was one of the few educators to head a large high school without a college degree.

Judge Rules Against Claim Of Paternity

LOS ANGELES, — (P) — Leroy Hedge, 21, who claims paternity of the son born Oct. 15 to unwed Loretta Miller, 17, has no legal rights as a parent, says Superior Judge Arnold Praeger.
Hedge is trying to keep the girl from offering the infant for adoption. His attorney told the judge "mothers should not have should be a father or not."

Judge Praeger replied, "The Legislature has given her, that right. Under the law, the mother is the only parent of an illegitimate child."

SPECIAL SHOWING

FOR STUDENTS AND CHILDREN

TOMORROW NIGHT

not be a new low in Roseburg history—and as a smattering of soft, wet snow makes its pre-Christmas debut on the scene-there's little doubt that the population hereabouts has the Christmas spirit. We at KRNR are afflicted with the same happy malady . . for where else is one more concerned with all of the Christmas carols . . . the Christmas drama . . . and the over-all creating of the Christmas theme, than in radio? We gotta produce . . or else we'll get a deluge of verbal punches in the noses via cards, letters and telephone calls . . . and so we will produce, as a result of wanting to. It's about this season of the year that the dialer switches on his radio to hear Crosby singing "Silent Night," Colman doing his "Scrooge" routine, or our own Boy Hiatt rendering "Twas the Night Before Christmas." And we'll have them all—all the

Christmas music, messages, and drama that can possibly be fitted

And so to "Queen of America"—the phrase on every tongue. Seems that when the lucky winner of "Queen's" current "Queen of America" contest is announced early next month, she'll be showered with a list of prizes practically unheard of, even during these days of fabulous giveaways. A glorious trip to Europe, a British MG car, a fabulous wardrobe including virtually every kind of clothes and sportswear, suites of furniture, an all-electric kitchen, a diamond bracelet and watch, other jewelry, camera and home-movie equipment, a children's equipped playground, a complete set of luggage, furs and dozens of other feminine treasures are included in the list of prizes. Entries for the contest closed Saturday, December 10. "Queen for a Day" is heard daily over KRNR . . . 11:30 a. m. to 12 noon. Tune in tonight's "Jr. Chamber of Commerce Forum" at 7:30

Improvement Sought

PORTLAND — (A) — Walnut growers are seeking ways to improve their product and increase sales.

The Nut Growers Society of Oregon and Washington was told here that the improvements are needed, for the market is dwindling.

needed, for the market is dividing.

Among suggestions offered were proposals to plant cover crops in the winter and to add organic humus to the soil.

Harry L. Pearcy, Salem, was elected president; Burr Fisher, Springfield, and Guy L. Anderson, Longview, vice-presidents.

'Big Jim' Thompson, I.W.W. Campaigner, Dead

SEATTLE, — (#) —"Big Jim"
Thompson, a veteran campaigner in the LW.W.-led strikes in the lumber and other industries many years ago, died here Thursday at age 76.

James P. Thompson was his proper name, but he was known the breadth of the land as "Big Jim" during the era when the "woobly" label was the popular one for members of the Industrial Workers of the Wrold.

He had been in retirement here for many years, except for an occasional sally at oratory for the LW.W. organization.

Thompson went to prison for his LW.W. activities in World War I. He was sentenced to Federal prison from Chicago in 1918 but went free under a presidential pardon five years later. An old friend at LW.W. headquarters here said his sentence was for violating the espionage act.

He was one of the founders of the LW.W. organization and was active as an orator during the 1917 lumber strike if the Pacific Northwest.
