Special Choral Practice Slated

A special rehearsal has been slated by the Roseburg Choral society for Sunday, 1:30 p. m. at the junior high school auditorium.

Members of the 50-voice singing group were told at the regular practice Monday night that Sunday's practice session will be in the form of a "dress rehearsal," in preparation for the "Messiah." The Christmas oratorio is to be presented at a free public concert Tuesday, Dec. 20 at 8 p. m., in the junior high auditorium.

Charles A. Ricketts, choral society director, said the group will practice Sunday, wearing the choir robes rented from a Portland theatrical and costume firm especially for Tuesday night's performance.

Choral society members who plan to participate in the "Messiah" performance are urged to attend both the special rehearsal Sunday and the regular practice Monday night at 7:30, Ricketts said.

Now Hospitals Are "Banks," Too!

Doc Simpson was saying, "Hospitals are building up 'bone banks' that work just like blood banks. When bone is needed, the surgeon takes one from a refrigerator, cuts it to the right shape and simply splices it in."

"You doctors are sure making progress," I say, "but tell me, are any of the patients fussy about whose bone they're getting?"

"No sir!" replies Doc. "No more than they worry about whose blood they get. No one yet asked for a bone from a man who went to the same school or church he did."
