Presentation Of "Messiah" Pleases Capacity Crowd

Roseburg cut another notch in its cultural annals last night with the presentation for the first time of George Frederik Handel's "The Messiah," by the Roseburg Choral society, led by Director Charles A. Ricketts.

From the opening notes of the overture to the echoing remains of the chorus "Hallelujah," the capacity crowd was captured completely by 50 voices of the Roseburg Choral society, led by Director Charles A. Ricketts.

Half-a-hundred townsfolk, many with little background in music but with a great desire to sing, provided their listeners with a little touch of the true Christmas spirit.

The imagination was stirred as Christ's biography was told in song by the chorus and nine soloists.

After the overture, Wendell A. Johnson, tenor, reported "Every Valley Shall Be Exalted" with sureness and clarity.

Don Castle, bass, handled a seemingly difficult number, "But Who May Abide the Day of His Coming?" in a manner that indicated much preparation. Then Marion Ross bravely attempted to reach the far corners of the auditorium with "Behold! A virgin Shall Conceive" in her light, contralto voice. Mrs. Ross received able assistance from Martha Jane Plimpton at the piano.

Both Mrs. Plimpton and Esther Geddes, the latter at the organ, helped balance off the vocal portion of the program with instrumental introductions and accompaniment.

Herschel D. Scott displayed his versatility by first entering "For Behold, Darkness Shall Cover The Earth," accompanied by the organist, then walking across the stage and in his deep, rich bass voice sang "The People That Walked in Darkness," aided by Mrs. Plimpton.

Part one of "The Messiah" was brought to an end with solos by Helen Bamford, Lois Rich and Marion Jones, punctuated with a stirring "Glory to God" by the chorus.

Part two was opened with two

STATE OFFICER GIVES OBLIGATION TO GROUP OF C. V. GRANGERS

State Deputy Howes attended the Camas Valley Grange meeting Tuesday night and gave the first and second degree obligations to 18 of the 20 new members. Five officers, who were not present at the installation held at Riversdale Grange recently, were installed by the state officer.

A social hour closed the meeting. Announcement was made of a New Year's party to be held at the schoolhouse Thursday, Dec. 29.

numbers by the chorus. "Behold the Lamb of God" and "Surely He Hath Borne Our Grievs," after which Warren A. Mack set the pace for the approaching climax with a strong tenor rendition of the recitative "Thy Rebuke Hath Broken His Heart" and the air "Behold, And See If There Be Any Sorrow."

Rev. Willis F. Erickson ended the procession of solitary singers with "He Was Cut Off Out of the Land of the Living" and "But Thou Didst Not Leave His Soul in Hell."

Weeks of preparation by the choral group was exploited to the fullest in the final choral numbers "Lift Up Your Heads O Ye Gates" and "Hallelujah."

The audience arose in a body as the first chorus of the final number drifted over the hall. Apparently hating to see it all end, the people again sat down.

Finally it was realized the program was over. They drifted out, very much impressed with Handel, the choral society and Director Ricketts.
