

Lifer Freed For Blood Exchange

OSISING, N. Y., Dec. 23.—(AP)—Louis Boy walked out of Sing Sing prison in the rain today and looked around at a world he hadn't seen in 18 years.

By risking his life for a little girl doomed to leukemia, the 50-year-old convicted murderer won freedom from a life sentence.

"I'm feeling fine," he told reporters. "This is the merriest Christmas I've ever had."

Boy's vein-to-vein exchange of blood last summer did not save the child, though it brought Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's commutation of life sentence to time already served.

Boy, Italian-born, voluntarily became the first person who ever knowingly took into his veins the taint of leukemia, a cancerous blood disease. He acted without promise of reprieve.

Today the prison gave him a new suit of clothes, $20 and a railroad ticket to New York. He was told to report to the state parole board there.

Boy said he had received several job offers.

Holly and Ivy have been identified with Christmas from very early times.

Agreement Increases Local Price Of Milk

terfat and $2.13 per hundred weight for milk, based on a four percent butterfat content. This total price of $5.73 per hundred weight for milk falls short of the $6 originally asked by the producers' group but is an increase of 23 cents over the price they have been receiving.

However, Herb Sullivan, co-owner of Umpqua dairy and spokesman for the distributors, told the farmers this increase paid them would result in a corresponding one-half-cent raise to the public. He declared the distributors were not prepared to absorb the increase, but would be forced to pass it along to the consumer.

Spokesmen for the producers claimed the half-cent raise to the public was not justified. Binder charged the distributors with "keeping their profits intact at the expense of the buying public."

"The whole question arose when the milk marketing administration lowered the minimum which farmers could be paid," Binder said. "Our price was cut from $6.12 to $5.50, yet our production costs continued to climb. At the same time, the distributors did not reduce the price of milk to the public, but continued to pocket that increased profit."

Binder branded this situation as "unjustified and intolerable." Binder called attention to an article in Tuesday's News-Review which he claimed made the farmers' group appear arbitrary in its request for a price increase. Binder said his statement was to the effect that no more milk would be delivered to local distributors until "a satisfactory understanding is reached." He said he was not quoted correctly, in that the statement was printed "no more milk... will be delivered unless the price demand is met."

Ormond Feldkamp, co-owner of Umpqua dairy, advised the News-Review this morning that farmers were delivering their milk "as per agreement."

Yule Dinner Cost Less This Year

LOS ANGELES, —(AP)— Your Christmas dinner this year will cost almost 25 per cent less than last year.

This welcome yuletide news comes today from George S. Higl, western vice president of A and P stores.

Chief savings for a family of four, he points out, is in a 10-pound hen turkey, which last year cost $7.70. Now the cost is $5.50.

Three pounds of apples cost 24 cents, compared with 37 1/2 last year, but if you insist on a dozen fresh oysters, you will pay 39 cents this year, compared with 29 in 1948.

However, two packages of frozen peas are down seven cents to 38, and celery stalks are selling at 10 cents, five cents under last year.

Coffee is up a bit — 10 cents instead of seven.

He figures the total cost of a Christmas dinner for four is $3.01 this season, against $10.34 last.

Bomber's Fiery Crash Kills All Eleven Aboard

scene were forced back by flaming gasoline, floating on the water. The flames were visible for miles.

The plane had been in service at Chatham for a year or a year and a half. The B-50, an improved version of the B-29 Superfortress, has a wingspread of 141 feet, is 99 feet long, and weighs 125,000 pounds. The Air Force describes it as a more powerful version of the B-29 which bombed Japan.

The crash was only a few miles from the spot where a chartered airliner crashed Jan. 7, 1948, killing 18 and injuring 18 Puerto Ricans on a flight from Newark, N.J., to their home.

The Air Force waited until dawn to send a large crash boat with a score or more men, armed with shovels and ropes to try to remove the bodies. They had to transfer to small flat-bottomed swamp boats to get to the wreckage.

In accordance with military policy the list of personnel will not be released until the identification is complete and next of kin notified. This might take several days, military men said.

The operations office at Chatham field said six of the 11 men aboard the B-50 were believed to be officers.

All were committed to the city jail for ten days, until payment of $20 fines is made.

Operation Of Gambling Equipment Is Denied

Marshall Spaulding of Roseburg, manager of the Vets club, pleaded innocent in justice court this morning to charges of possessing and operating illegal gambling equipment. Justice of Peace A. J. Geddes reported.

A bail bond of $350 was posted by Spaulding.

City police issued a complaint against Spaulding yesterday, following a raid Wednesday night which allegedly netted three gambling machines and eight money punchboards, according to Police Chief Calvin H. Baird.

This was the second such raid on the Vets club within a year.

Truman, Pope Stress Peace In Messages

advancing world order founded on morality, justice, truth and freedom."

Such nations, he said, do not "permit their peoples to live as good neighbors, and to join with the multitude in striving to build a world wholly and truly at peace."

"To bring a just enduring peace among the nations is the great task that beckons still ahead and calls for re-dedication."

"Mindful of its Christian heritage, and of the moral tenets that alone can lead to the good and the true in the lives of the far-flung community of the nations as in the lives of individuals, the United States gladly re-dedicates its efforts to the creation of a peaceful and advancing world order. This is my message to you for the most blessed day of the year."

Brotherhood Emphasized
Pope Pius remarked that "your excellency has appropriately made reference to the great benefits that the birth and mission of the Divine Redeemer have brought to mankind."

"Indeed," he continued, "salvation will not come for the world until mankind, deriving its inspiration from the teachings and example of Christ, comes to recognize that all men are children of the one Father in heaven, destined to be truly brothers through the union of His Divine Son, whom he sent to be Redeemer of all."

"Only this brotherhood gives to man, with the highest sense of personal dignity, assurance of true equality, the necessary basis of justice."

"Only this brotherhood guarantees the gift of true liberty in the enjoyment of our rights and in the fulfillment of our duties in obedience to the laws given by Almighty God and His Divine Son for the morality and sanctity of human life."

Goal Of Efforts Cited
Toward the attainment of a peace which is real and solid, just and enduring, the Pope said, "We have ever dedicated all our efforts; first, that war be averted; later, that its destruction and resulting griefs be circumscribed; and now, to lessen the sorrowful consequences that still today press heavily on so large a part of the human family."

"In this beneficent work of Christian charity, we are pleased once again to recall—that it may be recorded to the honor—the cordial understanding and the valued cooperation of the people of the United States.

"In this generosity, so bounteous and spontaneous, we recognize with pleasure, and hold up as an example to all, that good will which, according to the Christmas message of the angels, gives glory to God and hastens the coming of peace on earth."

Faye Roosevelt Hurls Wrench In Romance Rumor

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Faye Emerson Roosevelt, estranged wife of Elliott Roosevelt, has put the brakes on a reported romance between the late president's son and cafe singer Gigi Durston.

The third Mrs. Roosevelt said she found the report "a little surprising" and that she "may not be able to get away to get my divorce."

Mrs. Roosevelt apparently meant going to another state which has more liberal divorce laws than New York which only recognizes adultery as grounds for such action.

Roosevelt had no comment on his reported romance with Miss Durston of Hartford, Conn. Wednesday Mrs. Gladys Durston, the singer's mother, said her pretty brunette daughter and Roosevelt were "interested in each other."

Mrs. Roosevelt, a pretty blonde, apparently took this as an announcement of an engagement. She told a reporter that her television program would keep her in town—maybe for two months, maybe two years.

"And when I get ready to get my divorce," she added, "I'll announce it myself!"

Miss Durston had no comment.

asked the office to send someone over to give him some aid.

Murphy drew the assignment. After that Mr. Truman, who liked Murphy's ways, called on him for a lot of other work.

It was Murphy who drew up the Senate resolution which resulted in the creation of the Truman War Investigating committee.

The work of that group spotlighted Mr. Truman and gave him the prominence which is credited with later putting him on the National Democratic ticket.

When Murphy was attending Duke university he was working at night to pay his way.

Portland's Last Legal Punchboard Facing Test

PORTLAND, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The last remaining legal punchboards in Portland face a court test today.

The city filed a circuit court case to determine the legality of question-and-answer boards. Other kinds previously were ruled illegal.

City Attorney Alexander G. Brown said he hoped to gain a decision that would make clear "the degree of chance which constitutes a lottery."

The question-and-answer board has been in doubtful status because each punch presents a question and a number. If the customer answers the question within 20 seconds, he wins a prize. The number determines the prize he gets.

A trial date has not been set.
