U. S. Denies Permit To Send Rifles To China

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—(P)—
The State department said today it has turned down a request from a private firm for permission to send 100,000 rifles to nationalist China.

Officials said it was rejected because the firm had no rifles on hand and no specific source of supply for them.

China obtained $125,000,000 for arms aid from the United States during the 12 months which ended last July 1. Both State department and embassy officials said all this money has long since been spent or obligated.

A Chinese army mission which was set up to buy arms with the money was discontinued several months ago.
