Nativity Scene Attracts Christmas Spirit At Veterans Hospital At vererans nospiral The Nativity scene at the Vet-erans hospital will remain for townspeople to view over Christ-mas weekend, probably until Tuesday, it was announced from the hospital. The life-sized pictorial of the birth of Christ, with the manger, shepherds and sheep, have at-tracted a large number of per-sons, according to Ralph Church of the hospital personnel depart-ment. Comes To Town In Poverty's Grip

SHALLMAR, Md., Dec. 24.—(P) —The spirit of Christmas burned brightly in this little mountain town today.

And it is spreading to other poverty-stricken communities of the mountain area.

All but a few of Shallmar's 200 residents were utterly destitute a few weeks ago. ment. Checkers counted more than 1. 000 cars through Wednesday night, and many more have since driven through the hospital grounds and stopped at the park-ing space. The scene is floodlighted in the evening. The project was hull There had been no work in the community since its only mine closed down in March for lack of orders.

Thin, scantily clad children be-came faint in school for lack of food. Some families had subsisted for weeks on a diet made up mainly of potatoes and apples. evening. The project was built by patients in the occupational therapy wards.

Then the plight of the town and its 80 children leaked into the outside world.

Soon trucks loaded with food and clothing started bumping their way over the narrow moun-tain road to Shallmar. The pack-ages were sent from all sections of the country.

Hundreds of toys arrived and the mails brought letters from each of the 48 states. Many con-tained a coin or a check. More than $3,000 is on hand now.

It will be used to assure hot lunches for the children.

In all six and one-half tons of clothing and foodstuffs have been sent to Shallmar.

That would have been enough to carry the community for a long time.

But Christmas is coming and many families of nearby Mary-land and West Virginia communi-ties have been facing a cheerless Yule.

So Shallmar is dividing its gifts with less fortunate neighbors. with less fortunate neighbors. Seventy neighboring families have received Shallmar food bas-kets in the last day or two. The children of 30 families have been clothed from Shallmar stocks. Many toys are being repaired by the men of the town. They will be sent to mountain homes were Christmas stockings would have been empty. Shallmar has given so much that there is just enough food left for the weekend. But this is a big weekend. The folks here are glad they have had a chance to spread the spirit of Christmas.
