MODEST MAIDENS. MONTREAL, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Mario Berini, Metropolitan opera tenor, was robbed and assaulted in a downtown section of the city last night only a few hours after he arrived from New York to sing the leading role in tonight's performance of La Boheme at a local theater. The internationally-known concert star required hospital attention but was released following treatment for an open cut on the head and several body bruises. Although shocked by the experience, Mr. Berini said he would "appear as scheduled" this evening. The Met star said that while walking along Mountain street he was accosted by a man who asked for a match. Before he had a chance to do anything, Berini said someone hit him from behind. The assailants fled after taking a small amount of money from his coat pockets and wallet.

LAST ACT SOON. CHICAGO.—(AP)—The last act soon will go on at the old Haymarket theater on Madison street near Halsted, opened in 1887. Legitimate drama, vaudeville and movies were featured at one time or another. But it probably was best known as a burlesque house. The building will be torn down to make way for a super-highway.
