

Newsboy Of 17 Publishes His Own Farm Paper

By W. J. STOUT
AP Newfeatures

McIntosh, S. D.—In only two years, a 17-year-old McIntosh boy has risen from carrier boy to editor and publisher of his own newspaper.

He is David Payne, one-man staff of the "Corson County Youth." It's a six-page tabloid put out, he says, "just for kids and youngsters, and especially for 4-H club members." Its masthead carries the slogan: "The youth of today—the voters of tomorrow."

Payne works as a helper in the printing shop of the Corson

NEW PARSONAGE—This modern parsonage of the Church of the Nazarene will be dedicated Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, in services at the church, from 7:30 to 8:30. After 8:30, open house will be held at the new building, 900 E. Douglas St., where the Rev. and Mrs. Forrest Hill reside. Dr. W. W. Hess, district supervisor from Portland, will be the guest speaker at the church and will lead a short dedication service at the parsonage. The new building includes a large basement recreation room with a fireplace and kitchen for social functions of the church.

County News and Morristown World, a weekly published by Charles Kirk, when his young assistant came up with the "kids' paper" idea, Kirk gave him permission to use the shop equipment.

The first edition came out in October. "Youth" is on a monthly basis, but Payne is thinking of making it twice monthly if all goes well.

Payne says he "just naturally drifted into the newspaper business." He was interested in papers as a carrier boy in Minneapolis, before his mother moved here two years ago. "I never realized how interested I was," he explains, "until I started working here."

"Now I wouldn't change occupations for the world."

"Youth" began after a boys' club Payne started failed to raise enough money to build a projected youth recreation center. Profits from the paper go into the building fund.

Most of the work on "Youth" is done after regular office hours. Payne sets all the type, writes copy, takes ads, promotes subscribers, does makeup and runs the press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Supreme court by a vote of 4 to 3 Monday upheld the government's right to deport former aliens who lose their American citizenship.

The tribunal also split on identical lines in ruling that the government may exclude war brides and other aliens without a hearing if it considers them poor security risks.

Two deportation cases were decided by the court, one involving Otto A. Willumit, a one-time leader in the German American Bund.

Willumit was accused and convicted of plotting with other persons to deliver military secrets to Germany and Japan. His naturalization was canceled in 1944 on the ground that it was illegally obtained. But when the attorney general sought to deport him, Willumit contended a 1920 deportation law did not apply to him because he was not an alien but a naturalized citizen at the time he was convicted of conspiracy to commit espionage.

In the second deportation case, the Supreme court ruled against Richard Eickelburg, a former New York restaurant owner convicted in 1941 of having conspired to act as an agent for Germany without being registered as a foreign agent.

He too contended the deportation law could not apply to him because he was a naturalized citizen when he was convicted.

Justice Burton, writing the majority opinion for the court in both cases, said:

"There is no question as to the power of Congress to enact a statute to deport aliens because of past misconduct." Burton was joined in the majority by Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Minton.

Three Justices Dissent

Justice Frankfurter wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Justices Black and Jackson. Justices Douglas and Clark took no part in any of the alien cases.

Frankfurter said two possible meanings could be read in the deportation act and added:

Where a statute permits either of two possible constructions without violence to language the construction which leads to hardships should be rejected in favor of the permissible construction consonant with humane considerations."

He also said the majority's decision "has a serious implication with respect to citizens denaturalized for reasons not involving espionage."

Bride Exclusion Upheld

In the exclusion case, the court ruled specifically that Mrs. Ellen Knauff, German-born bride of an American veteran was properly denied admission to the United States solely on an order of the attorney general.

The court minority argued that the government should have been required to prove openly that she was regarded inadmissible.

She and Kurt W. Knauff were married in Frankfurt, Germany, on Feb. 28, 1948. Mrs. Knauff applied on Aug. 14, 1948, for admission to this country, but was excluded by order of Tom Clark, then U. S. attorney general.

Justice Minton delivered the decision on behalf of himself, Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Burton.

In his majority opinion, Minton said the war brides act relieved Mrs. Knauff of certain physical, mental and documentary requirements and of quota provisions of the immigration laws; but other than those points, she still comes under the immigration laws.

Other Actions Of Court

In other actions Monday the tribunal:

1. Upheld in effect the Florida law which restricts picketing to the immediate premises of an employer involved in a labor dispute. The court refused to consider an AFL attack on the act on the grounds that it violates free speech guarantees.
2. Rejected a legal move by Judith Coplon to win a new espionage trial here on claims that

Relieve Stuffy Nose FAST!

Quick. Put a few Vicks Vapo-nol Nose Drops in each nostril. Vapo-nol works right where trouble is. Relieves head cold stuffiness almost instantly!

"Ah-h-h! I can breathe again!"

VICKS VA-TRO-NOL NOSE DROPS

reach mister!

For Your Radio Dial—Then Stay Tuned to KRNR-MBS For:

Fran Warren Sings

The vocal interpretations of Songstress Fran Warren, accompanied by the Allen Roth Orchestra.

9:15 - 9:30 A. M.—Thursday

★

Behind The Story

Tomorrow: John Nesbitt tells of "Strange Inventions."

4:30 - 4:45 P. M.—Tues. and Thurs.

★

Dick Haymes Show

The music of Carmen Dragon and the songs of Helen Forrest... Added attractions!

7 - 7:15 P. M.—Mon., Wed., Fri.

★

What's The Name of That Song?

A rollicking half-hour of fun with Bill Gwinn, Bob Bence, and the twin-piano team!

8 - 8:30 — Tonight

★

I Love a Mystery

A Carlton E. Morse thriller based on the adventures of Jack, Reggie and Doc.

10:30 - 10:45 P. M.—Mon. thru Fri.

★

KRNR
1490 on your Dial

THE MUTUAL DON LEE BROADCASTING SYSTEM

World's Greatest Regional Network

Need Of Housing Called Biggest Alaska Problem

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Insufficient housing is described as the biggest but not the only problem in building up the defenses of Alaska against any surprise attack from Russian Siberia.

This was the explanation given Monday by military men concerned with Alaskan defenses when asked about reports that the territory now is virtually defenseless. Governor Ernest Gruening, in a mass meeting here last week, declared that Alaska could be captured "by a minor scale airborne invasion."

A start has been made on strengthening the far north defenses—but it is only in the earliest preliminary stages. The previous session of Congress authorized an expenditure of $96,000,000 for building new barracks and houses for garrison forces in Alaska. The Air Force assigned $31,000,000 of its funds for the current fiscal year to be used in speeding construction of a radar aircraft warning and control system in Alaska.

Defense experts say some of the complications of carrying out the program are these:

Money for building in Alaska doesn't buy as much as it does elsewhere. A house that costs $10,000 in the states, costs $50,000 or $60,000 in Alaska because of transportation, materials and labor cost differences, a spokesman said. The armed forces are tailoring some of their plans to fit revised appropriations.

The military estimates it costs an average of $10,000 to house one soldier, without his family, in Alaska, but that by construction of less durable the cost can be cut to about $8,500.

Deportation Of Ex-Citizens Upheld, 4 To 3

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Supreme court by a vote of 4 to 3 Monday upheld the government's right to deport former aliens who lose their American citizenship.

The tribunal also split on identical lines in ruling that the government may exclude war brides and other aliens without a hearing if it considers them poor security risks.

Two deportation cases were decided by the court, one involving Otto A. Willumit, a one-time leader in the German American Bund.

Willumit was accused and convicted of plotting with other persons to deliver military secrets to Germany and Japan. His naturalization was canceled in 1944 on the ground that it was illegally obtained. But when the attorney general sought to deport him, Willumit contended a 1920 deportation law did not apply to him because he was not an alien but a naturalized citizen at the time he was convicted of conspiracy to commit espionage.

In the second deportation case, the Supreme court ruled against Richard Eickelburg, a former New York restaurant owner convicted in 1941 of having conspired to act as an agent for Germany without being registered as a foreign agent.

He too contended the deportation law could not apply to him because he was a naturalized citizen when he was convicted.

Justice Burton, writing the majority opinion for the court in both cases, said:

"There is no question as to the power of Congress to enact a statute to deport aliens because of past misconduct." Burton was joined in the majority by Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Minton.

Three Justices Dissent

Justice Frankfurter wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Justices Black and Jackson. Justices Douglas and Clark took no part in any of the alien cases.

Frankfurter said two possible meanings could be read in the deportation act and added:

Where a statute permits either of two possible constructions without violence to language the construction which leads to hardships should be rejected in favor of the permissible construction consonant with humane considerations."

He also said the majority's decision "has a serious implication with respect to citizens denaturalized for reasons not involving espionage."

Bride Exclusion Upheld

In the exclusion case, the court ruled specifically that Mrs. Ellen Knauff, German-born bride of an American veteran was properly denied admission to the United States solely on an order of the attorney general.

The court minority argued that the government should have been required to prove openly that she was regarded inadmissible.

She and Kurt W. Knauff were married in Frankfurt, Germany, on Feb. 28, 1948. Mrs. Knauff applied on Aug. 14, 1948, for admission to this country, but was excluded by order of Tom Clark, then U. S. attorney general.

Justice Minton delivered the decision on behalf of himself, Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Burton.

In his majority opinion, Minton said the war brides act relieved Mrs. Knauff of certain physical, mental and documentary requirements and of quota provisions of the immigration laws; but other than those points, she still comes under the immigration laws.

Other Actions Of Court

In other actions Monday the tribunal:

1. Upheld in effect the Florida law which restricts picketing to the immediate premises of an employer involved in a labor dispute. The court refused to consider an AFL attack on the act on the grounds that it violates free speech guarantees.
2. Rejected a legal move by Judith Coplon to win a new espionage trial here on claims that

Spain Seeks Grain In Famine Threat

MADRID, Jan. 16 (AP)—Anti-Communist Spain says she is threatened with famine this spring and wants 500,000 tons of grain, perhaps even from Red Russia.

Generalissimo Franco's government has disclosed it is willing to pay scarce American dollars for the wheat if necessary. Simultaneously reliable sources said the government on Feb. 1 would demobilize one-third of Spain's 300,000-man army as an economy measure.

Spain has grain stocks estimated to last until March 1. The country's next crops will not be harvested until June and July. Supplies had been anticipated from Argentina but reliable authorities said the commercial treaty with the South American nation has broken down completely.

Highly reliable sources said Spain already had appealed to Russia to exchange wheat for Spanish wolfram and mercury.

Dollars for wheat purchases probably would come from proceeds of a new loan which informed sources said the Franco government was seeking from the Chase National bank of New York.

In Washington, a U. S. government food official said America has sufficient surplus wheat to meet Spanish needs. The official said the U. S. government prefers Spain to buy through regular trade channels.

Yoncalla

By MRS. GEORGE EDES

Snow has fallen every day since the first of the year in Yoncalla valley. Three feet of snow is reported on Red Hill and in the Shoestring country. The mills have been closed until weather conditions improve and schools will not be opened until road conditions warrant the buses being able to bring the students in. This is the worst snow storm this valley has seen for many years.

Mrs. Ruth Moore returned to her home in Eugene, Tuesday after spending two weeks here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Newby.

Mrs. Marvin Dean Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith and Mrs. Elmer Ellison motored to Eugene Tuesday. Mrs. Ellison remained in Eugene for a few days to be with her husband, who is recuperating from an appendicitis operation.

Mr. Freeman, Meredith Freeman and wife and Paul Reeves were Roseburg visitors Monday.

DOORS
$6.95 to $33.00
PAGE LUMBER & FUEL
164 E. 2nd Ave. S.
Phone 242

OIL TO BURN
For prompt courteous metered deliveries of high quality stove and burner oil
CALL 152
MYERS OIL CO.
Distributors of Hancock Petroleum Products For Douglas County

Talking
About a Home?

So many people do nothing but talk about it! But if you really want to own your home, consult me now. Personal attention. Economical terms.

RALPH L RUSSELL
Loans and Insurance
Loan Representative
Equitable Savings & Loan Assn.
112 W. Cass Phone 913

DOORS
$6.95 to $33.00
PAGE LUMBER & FUEL
164 E. 2nd Ave. S.
Phone 242

What's The Name of That Song?

A rollicking half-hour of fun with Bill Gwinn, Bob Bence, and the twin-piano team!

8 - 8:30 — Tonight

★

I Love a Mystery

A Carlton E. Morse thriller based on the adventures of Jack, Reggie and Doc.

10:30 - 10:45 P. M.—Mon. thru Fri.

★

KRNR
1490 on your Dial

THE MUTUAL DON LEE BROADCASTING SYSTEM

World's Greatest Regional Network

Deportation Of Ex-Citizens Upheld, 4 To 3

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Supreme court by a vote of 4 to 3 Monday upheld the government's right to deport former aliens who lose their American citizenship.

The tribunal also split on identical lines in ruling that the government may exclude war brides and other aliens without a hearing if it considers them poor security risks.

Two deportation cases were decided by the court, one involving Otto A. Willumit, a one-time leader in the German American Bund.

Willumit was accused and convicted of plotting with other persons to deliver military secrets to Germany and Japan. His naturalization was canceled in 1944 on the ground that it was illegally obtained. But when the attorney general sought to deport him, Willumit contended a 1920 deportation law did not apply to him because he was not an alien but a naturalized citizen at the time he was convicted of conspiracy to commit espionage.

In the second deportation case, the Supreme court ruled against Richard Eickelburg, a former New York restaurant owner convicted in 1941 of having conspired to act as an agent for Germany without being registered as a foreign agent.

He too contended the deportation law could not apply to him because he was a naturalized citizen when he was convicted.

Justice Burton, writing the majority opinion for the court in both cases, said:

"There is no question as to the power of Congress to enact a statute to deport aliens because of past misconduct." Burton was joined in the majority by Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Minton.

Three Justices Dissent

Justice Frankfurter wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Justices Black and Jackson. Justices Douglas and Clark took no part in any of the alien cases.

Frankfurter said two possible meanings could be read in the deportation act and added:

Where a statute permits either of two possible constructions without violence to language the construction which leads to hardships should be rejected in favor of the permissible construction consonant with humane considerations."

He also said the majority's decision "has a serious implication with respect to citizens denaturalized for reasons not involving espionage."

Bride Exclusion Upheld

In the exclusion case, the court ruled specifically that Mrs. Ellen Knauff, German-born bride of an American veteran was properly denied admission to the United States solely on an order of the attorney general.

The court minority argued that the government should have been required to prove openly that she was regarded inadmissible.

She and Kurt W. Knauff were married in Frankfurt, Germany, on Feb. 28, 1948. Mrs. Knauff applied on Aug. 14, 1948, for admission to this country, but was excluded by order of Tom Clark, then U. S. attorney general.

Justice Minton delivered the decision on behalf of himself, Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Burton.

In his majority opinion, Minton said the war brides act relieved Mrs. Knauff of certain physical, mental and documentary requirements and of quota provisions of the immigration laws; but other than those points, she still comes under the immigration laws.

Other Actions Of Court

In other actions Monday the tribunal:

1. Upheld in effect the Florida law which restricts picketing to the immediate premises of an employer involved in a labor dispute. The court refused to consider an AFL attack on the act on the grounds that it violates free speech guarantees.
2. Rejected a legal move by Judith Coplon to win a new espionage trial here on claims that

High Court Also Okays Barrier To War Brides For Security Reasons

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Supreme court by a vote of 4 to 3 Monday upheld the government's right to deport former aliens who lose their American citizenship.

The tribunal also split on identical lines in ruling that the government may exclude war brides and other aliens without a hearing if it considers them poor security risks.

Two deportation cases were decided by the court, one involving Otto A. Willumit, a one-time leader in the German American Bund.

Willumit was accused and convicted of plotting with other persons to deliver military secrets to Germany and Japan. His naturalization was canceled in 1944 on the ground that it was illegally obtained. But when the attorney general sought to deport him, Willumit contended a 1920 deportation law did not apply to him because he was not an alien but a naturalized citizen at the time he was convicted of conspiracy to commit espionage.

In the second deportation case, the Supreme court ruled against Richard Eickelburg, a former New York restaurant owner convicted in 1941 of having conspired to act as an agent for Germany without being registered as a foreign agent.

He too contended the deportation law could not apply to him because he was a naturalized citizen when he was convicted.

Justice Burton, writing the majority opinion for the court in both cases, said:

"There is no question as to the power of Congress to enact a statute to deport aliens because of past misconduct." Burton was joined in the majority by Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Minton.

Three Justices Dissent

Justice Frankfurter wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Justices Black and Jackson. Justices Douglas and Clark took no part in any of the alien cases.

Frankfurter said two possible meanings could be read in the deportation act and added:

Where a statute permits either of two possible constructions without violence to language the construction which leads to hardships should be rejected in favor of the permissible construction consonant with humane considerations."

He also said the majority's decision "has a serious implication with respect to citizens denaturalized for reasons not involving espionage."

Bride Exclusion Upheld

In the exclusion case, the court ruled specifically that Mrs. Ellen Knauff, German-born bride of an American veteran was properly denied admission to the United States solely on an order of the attorney general.

The court minority argued that the government should have been required to prove openly that she was regarded inadmissible.

She and Kurt W. Knauff were married in Frankfurt, Germany, on Feb. 28, 1948. Mrs. Knauff applied on Aug. 14, 1948, for admission to this country, but was excluded by order of Tom Clark, then U. S. attorney general.

Justice Minton delivered the decision on behalf of himself, Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Burton.

In his majority opinion, Minton said the war brides act relieved Mrs. Knauff of certain physical, mental and documentary requirements and of quota provisions of the immigration laws; but other than those points, she still comes under the immigration laws.

Other Actions Of Court

In other actions Monday the tribunal:

1. Upheld in effect the Florida law which restricts picketing to the immediate premises of an employer involved in a labor dispute. The court refused to consider an AFL attack on the act on the grounds that it violates free speech guarantees.
2. Rejected a legal move by Judith Coplon to win a new espionage trial here on claims that

DOORS
$6.95 to $33.00
PAGE LUMBER & FUEL
164 E. 2nd Ave. S.
Phone 242

DOORS
$6.95 to $33.00
PAGE LUMBER & FUEL
164 E. 2nd Ave. S.
Phone 242

Thirst, too, seeks quality
where else does quality mean so much?

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Coca-Cola
Coke

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Coca Cola Bottling Company of Roseburg
© 1950, The Coca-Cola Company

KRNR DIAL-LOG

"Song" producer has narrow escape: Awakened by choking smoke in her trailer home at Huntington Beach, California, Rita Williamson, producer of "What's the Name of that Song?" barely escaped with her life from the fire that destroyed her luxurious trailer. She suffered minor burns on her feet in the mishap. Damages are estimated at $9,000, including a $2,500 wardrobe. Defective wiring in the clothes closet of the lavishly appointed trailer is believed to have been the cause of the fire that resulted in total loss of the vehicle and virtually all of the household equipment it contained. An adjacent cabana, used as an extra sitting room and dinette, was saved but also suffered some damage. Finishing touches had just been made on the recently completed combination trailer-house when the fire occurred.

New "Tom Mix" offer: A beautiful golden plastic bullet that becomes a powerful telescope, a magnifying glass, a "Smalifying glass and a secret compartment to hide maps or messages, and a magic tone bird call that whistles, hums and drones. Both—for only one Ralston boxtop and fifteen cents. For details on this double top-offer, tune to "Tom Mix" Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5:30 p. m.

THURSDAY: Second in the series of new "Fran Warren" shows at 9:15 a. m. . . She'll sing "A Sunday Kind of Love," "Envy," and "Over the Rainbow." Her guests: the Jumpin' Jacks, featuring accordionist Art Van Damme in their rendition of "After You've Gone." Stay tuned for Leroy Hiatt's "Muse and Music" session at 10:15, for a variety of moods in poetry.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Supreme court by a vote of 4 to 3 Monday upheld the government's right to deport former aliens who lose their American citizenship.

The tribunal also split on identical lines in ruling that the government may exclude war brides and other aliens without a hearing if it considers them poor security risks.

Two deportation cases were decided by the court, one involving Otto A. Willumit, a one-time leader in the German American Bund.

Willumit was accused and convicted of plotting with other persons to deliver military secrets to Germany and Japan. His naturalization was canceled in 1944 on the ground that it was illegally obtained. But when the attorney general sought to deport him, Willumit contended a 1920 deportation law did not apply to him because he was not an alien but a naturalized citizen at the time he was convicted of conspiracy to commit espionage.

In the second deportation case, the Supreme court ruled against Richard Eickelburg, a former New York restaurant owner convicted in 1941 of having conspired to act as an agent for Germany without being registered as a foreign agent.

He too contended the deportation law could not apply to him because he was a naturalized citizen when he was convicted.

Justice Burton, writing the majority opinion for the court in both cases, said:

"There is no question as to the power of Congress to enact a statute to deport aliens because of past misconduct." Burton was joined in the majority by Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Minton.

Three Justices Dissent

Justice Frankfurter wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Justices Black and Jackson. Justices Douglas and Clark took no part in any of the alien cases.

Frankfurter said two possible meanings could be read in the deportation act and added:

Where a statute permits either of two possible constructions without violence to language the construction which leads to hardships should be rejected in favor of the permissible construction consonant with humane considerations."

He also said the majority's decision "has a serious implication with respect to citizens denaturalized for reasons not involving espionage."

Bride Exclusion Upheld

In the exclusion case, the court ruled specifically that Mrs. Ellen Knauff, German-born bride of an American veteran was properly denied admission to the United States solely on an order of the attorney general.

The court minority argued that the government should have been required to prove openly that she was regarded inadmissible.

She and Kurt W. Knauff were married in Frankfurt, Germany, on Feb. 28, 1948. Mrs. Knauff applied on Aug. 14, 1948, for admission to this country, but was excluded by order of Tom Clark, then U. S. attorney general.

Justice Minton delivered the decision on behalf of himself, Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Burton.

In his majority opinion, Minton said the war brides act relieved Mrs. Knauff of certain physical, mental and documentary requirements and of quota provisions of the immigration laws; but other than those points, she still comes under the immigration laws.

Other Actions Of Court

In other actions Monday the tribunal:

1. Upheld in effect the Florida law which restricts picketing to the immediate premises of an employer involved in a labor dispute. The court refused to consider an AFL attack on the act on the grounds that it violates free speech guarantees.
2. Rejected a legal move by Judith Coplon to win a new espionage trial here on claims that

Spain Seeks Grain In Famine Threat

MADRID, Jan. 16 (AP)—Anti-Communist Spain says she is threatened with famine this spring and wants 500,000 tons of grain, perhaps even from Red Russia.

Generalissimo Franco's government has disclosed it is willing to pay scarce American dollars for the wheat if necessary. Simultaneously reliable sources said the government on Feb. 1 would demobilize one-third of Spain's 300,000-man army as an economy measure.

Spain has grain stocks estimated to last until March 1. The country's next crops will not be harvested until June and July. Supplies had been anticipated from Argentina but reliable authorities said the commercial treaty with the South American nation has broken down completely.

Highly reliable sources said Spain already had appealed to Russia to exchange wheat for Spanish wolfram and mercury.

Dollars for wheat purchases probably would come from proceeds of a new loan which informed sources said the Franco government was seeking from the Chase National bank of New York.

In Washington, a U. S. government food official said America has sufficient surplus wheat to meet Spanish needs. The official said the U. S. government prefers Spain to buy through regular trade channels.

Damage Suit On Trial Before Jury

Eight witnesses took the stand in circuit court Monday in the damage suit brought by R. L. Whipple, administrator of the estate of Clark F. Bartholomy, against the Southern Pacific Co.; W. E. Irvin, the alleged train engineer, and Charles Swearingen.

The suit is the result of a truck-train collision near Drain last March 19, in which Bartholomy and his wife June, received fatal injuries.

The plaintiffs allege that Swearingen was driver of the truck.

Witnesses heard by the jury Monday included Roby McDonald and Maude Deaver, Drain; Ben Irving, county surveyor, who drew a chart of the accident scene; Don Maples, Drain, alleged witness to the accident; Dr. L. H. Imboden, attending physician to the accident victims; Vernon Pouncy, Drain police department; J. A. Haystead, state police officer and Oliver Bartholomy, brother of the deceased.

Do The Job YOURSELF with The NEW DISSTON One-Man CHAIN SAW

Save your muscles. Head for the woods with this new Disston One-Man Chain Saw. Light weight, gasoline-driven power saw. Fells... Bucks... Limbs. Operates at any angle... even upside down.

CARL J. PEETZ
Phone 279
920 S. Stephens

INDIA Theatre
PHONE 380

- 7:45—Local News.
- 7:50—Music.
- 8:00—Favorite Hymns.
- 8:15—Churchwagon Jambores.
- 8:30—Haven Of Rest.
- 8:45—Modern Home.
- 9:00—Fran Warren.
- 9:15—Man About Town.
- 9:30—Heater Mailbag—MBS.
- 10:00—News—MBS.
- 10:15—Music & Music.
- 10:30—Say It With Music.
- 10:45—Jack Holt.
- 11:00—Ladies First—MBS.
- 11:30—Queen For A Day—MBS.
- 12:00—Music At Noon.
- 12:15—Sports Page Of The Air.
- 12:30—Music At Noon.
- 12:45—Local News.
- 12:55—National News.
- 1:00—Market Reports.
- 1:05—Man On The Street.
- 1:15—The Rose Room.
- 1:30—Music.
- 1:45—Driver's Playhouse.
- 2:00—Phone Fun.
- 2:15—It's Requested.
- 2:30—Songs Of The Pioneers.
- 3:15—School Show.
- 3:30—W. C. T. U.
- 3:45—Andre Kostelanetz—MBS.
- 4:00—Fulton Lewis Jr.—MBS.
- 4:15—Hemingway—MBS.
- 4:30—Behind The Story—MBS.
- 4:45—Music.
- 5:00—Straight Arrow—MBS.
- 5:30—B-Bar-B Riders—MBS.
- 6:00—Music At Six.
- 6:15—Mutual Newscast—MBS.
- 6:30—Sports Page.
- 6:45—Musical Interlude.
- 7:00—Local News.
- 7:15—Songs In The Evening.
- 7:30—Bill Henry—MBS.
- 7:45—Sports Case—MBS.
- 7:55—Music You Remember.

Dr. E. W. Carter
Chiropractor—Foot Specialist
129 N. Jackson
Phone 1170
Over Rexall Drug Store

STARTS TODAY

LOVE FLIES HIGH with the Dip Hostess

Reservations for private Skating Parties are available at the Rainbow Skating Rink, Winchester Phone -26-R-2

TWO KINDS of JOLLY POP CORN
DELICIOUS WHITE HULLERS NEVER FAILS—ALWAYS POPS

KAZAN
Box Office Opens 6:45 P. M.

Star Theatre Phone 287

STARTS TODAY

THE MOST DREADED CRY OF THE WEST!

'The DOOLINS ARE COMING!'

Randolph SCOTT in The DOOLINS of Oklahoma with Louise ALLBRITTON, John IRELAND, George MACREADY, Virginia HUSTON, Charles KEMPER, Noah BEERY, Jr.

Shows Daily 1:15, 7:00, 9:00 P. M. CONTINUOUS SATURDAYS

INDIA Theatre PHONE 380