

Methodist Choir To Offer Special Program Sunday

An evening of music, both secular and sacred, is promised for Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Methodist church as the choir and assisting artists present another of the popular music festivals, the pastor, W. A. MacArthur, announced today.

In addition to the choral music by the choir under the direction of R. Cloyd Riffe, a group of girls from the senior high school will be present to offer a group of three numbers. Wendell Johnson, music instructor of the high school, will direct the sophomore girls' chorus as they sing selections both sacred and secular.

Of additional interest will be two tenor solos given by Warren Mack.

The Rev. Mr. MacArthur will base his scripture meditation on one of the "strange texts of the Bible," when he speaks from the book of Jeremiah on "The Irrevocable in Life." The public is invited to participate in this hour, after which light refreshments will be served in the social hall to all who want to stay.

The program follows:

Yanks Will Win Pennant This Year, Rizzuto Says

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Take it from Phil Rizzuto—the New York Yankees will win the American league pennant this year.

The diminutive Yankee short-stop tossed off that prediction last night a few minutes after receiving a tall trophy naming him as New Jersey's outstanding professional athlete of 1949.

The award was made at the Newark Athletic club's annual dinner honoring the garden state's outstanding professional, college, club and high school athletes.

"Yes, we'll be even better than in 1949," the smooth-fielding infielder said.

WILL ABANDON MOVIES—Colleen Townsend, 21-year-old motion picture actress, holds a New Testament as she tells newsmen in Hollywood, Calif., of her plans to quit the movies and dedicate her life to Christianity. She intends to continue in Hollywood until September, then enter a theological college. She wants to work with orphans.—(AP Wirephoto).

Al Simmons Signs As Cleveland Indians' Coach

CLEVELAND, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Al Simmons, former slugging outfielder for the Philadelphia Athletics, was signed as a coach today by the Cleveland Indians.

President Ellis W. Ryan of the Tribe said "we believe that Al may supply the spark which the team lacked last season."

He will increase the Tribe's coaching staff to four. The other members are Mel Harder, Oscar Melillo and Muddy Ruel. Simmons spent 26 years in the majors.
