MEADOW MUSIC—Miss Nora Johnston tests her theory that music for cows increases milk production by serenading a barn-bound herd on her portable carillon at Staines, England.

FROM THE FARM TO THE MUSEUM?—Rep. Reid Murray (R., Wisc.), shares his grief with crepe-shrouded Rosie, over congressional repeal of oleomargarine taxes. The dairy state congressman claims the new tax relief, plus large government subsidies on oleo ingredients, will possibly destroy the cow as well as the dairy business.

Losee Busy As High Executive Of Lions Club

Forrest Losee, a member of the Roseburg Lions club and governor of District 36E, last Sunday was elected second vice-president of the board of governors of Lions Districts 19 and 36, at the midwinter conference held at Wenatchee, Wash.

Delegates were present from the two districts, which embrace Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Western Canada, said Losee, who returned to Roseburg Tuesday. He said there are about 38 district governors in the area.

Losee left Wednesday of last week by train, and was joined en route by past District Governor Larry Neely, Medford; District Governor Frank White of Gardiner-Reedsport Lions and District Governor Floyd South of Portland.

The conference opened Jan. 20 and continued through Sunday. The principal purpose was to formulate plans for the Lions International convention, including housing and transportation for Pacific Northwest area delegates at Chicago, July 16 to 20, inclusive.

Tuesday night Losee, accompanied by his wife, attended as governor the Ashland Lions induction of 17 new members. Ashland, chartered in 1938, had seven of its 11 past presidents present.

The district governor will go to Medford Saturday night for a governors' meeting, and on Sunday at 10 a. m., will preside over a general meeting of the state council, to formulate plans for the state convention in that city June 11, 12 and 13.

Lewis Consents To New Parley In Coal Situation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—New maneuvers in the coal dispute held out promise today of getting soft coal miners back to work—and maybe helping John L. Lewis in his legal complications.

George H. Love, president of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company and, as such, a leader in the operator ranks, said at Pittsburgh that he believed the operators will agree to resuming contract talks with president Lewis of the United Mine Workers next Wednesday.

Love was commenting on Lewis' quick reply to a qualified invitation Love had made that negotiations in the strike-plagued industry be resumed. It was Lewis who suggested the Wednesday date.

President Truman found his own position relieved. He had been reported about ready to use the Taft-Hartley act's emergency machinery for stopping a coal strike, if no agreement was reached this weekend to restore production by Lewis' miners.

The operators had broken off contract negotiations during the strike Lewis called in October. Since then the mine owners sought a court injunction against Lewis' three-day work week, saying Lewis refused to bargain in good faith and was using the short week to coerce them into an illegal contract. A hearing on that is scheduled next Wednesday. Lewis would re-open negotiations at the same hour.

The coincidence of timing could be due to plans for Lewis to bulwark any denial that he has not been willing to bargain in good faith.

The possibility was clear, too, that miners who have been observing a "no day week" might decide to go back to work for at least three days a week now that negotiations are in prospect.

On Capitol Hill, a Republican-sponsored resolution calling on President Truman to use the Taft-Hartley emergency machinery came up for a vote in the Senate Labor committee.

The Democratic senators making up a committee majority made clear in advance they would vote against it—meaning they were opposed to forcing the president into the dispute before he was ready to come in.

Dental Movie Is Shown To Lions

"It's Our Health" was the subject of a dental society film shown to the Roseburg Lions club by Dr. Earl Neuhr Thursday night at the Hotel Umpqua.

The film stressed the importance of preventative dentistry in preserving teeth and the effects of good teeth on health. The proper diet, which eliminates use of an excess amount of sugar, was pointed out in the film.

A second film, on Nova Scotia, was also shown.

The program also included an educational session on Lionism, pointing out the meaning of the Lions slogan of "Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation, Safety."

Ray Benston was appointed as a representative to tonight's Boy Scout meeting at Carl's Haven, and M. W. Slankard was named as a delegate to the Camp Fire Girls' council meeting next Monday.

The Lions will combine a meeting next Thursday with the Oregon Alumni association at the Hotel Umpqua. The Oregon Mothers club is also joining for the affair. Tickets are to be secured in advance at the hotel. Dr. Harry Newburn, University of Oregon president, will be the speaker.

Priests Ordered To Keep Politics Out Of Pulpit

YORK, Eng., Jan. 27.—(AP)—England's second-ranking churchman, the archbishop of York, has ordered his Church of England priests to keep politics out of their sermons about Britain's general election Feb. 23.

"No sermons should be preached in support or criticism of any of the parties," said the archbishop, Dr. Cyril F. Garbett, in a diocesan leaflet.

Dr. Garbett added: "Much of the hospitality to the Roman Catholic church on the continent is largely due to its active intervention in party politics."

Labour party circles previously had interpreted recent political remarks by some clergymen as anti-labor.

Orchids Ordered For Tennis Tilt

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 27.—The feminine tennis fans of the Willamette valley area will be the envy of their fellow net followers here at McArthur court on Feb. 8 when Bobby Riggs brings the four leading players in the world to Eugene for a three-match exhibition.

Orchids, queen of the flower world, have been added to the tennis kings to make the evening complete for the feminine fans. Riggs, Leo Harris of the University of Oregon, and Vincent Farina of Flowers Unlimited in Eugene, have completed arrangements for the presentation of an orchid to all ladies who hold reserved seat tickets on the night of the exhibition.

Farina will have the orchids flown from Hawaii to his shop in Eugene and there will add the final touches before they are given out at McArthur court. The orchids will be kept in cold storage until the evening of the matches and then will be passed out at the reserved seat gates to all ladies holding reserved seat tickets.

A half dozen collegiate beauties, headed by Miss Frances Robson of Portland, will handle the distribution at the doors.

And the tennis exhibition, featuring Jack Kramer, Pancho Gonzales, Francisco Segura, and Frank Parker, will be good, too—the best in the world!
