Beck's Taft-Hartley Law

Widnell, who directed his campaign fire at federal spending and veered away from the Thomas issue, will serve for the remainder of 1950. Candidates will run for a full two-year term in November. The new congressman advocates continuation of the anti-American activities committee, bi-partisan foreign policy, enactment of civil rights legislation, defeat of socialized medicine and retention of the Taft-Hartley labor act.

Widnell has served in the state assembly since 1945, representing Beran county, a wealthy suburban area across the Hudson river from upper New York City. He gained statewide attention two years ago when he sponsored new laws strengthening hotel fire safety measures.

Film Boycott Urged

The Albuquerque, N. M., Ministerial alliance called on citizens to boycott "Stromboli" because of what it called "glamorizing and sensationalizing of adultery."

In Abilene, Tex., the board of censors asked exhibitors not to show "Stromboli." Sioux City, Ia., Catholics were asked to pass up the film by Bishop Joseph Muller because of what he called "conjugal infidelity." An Indiana chain of six theaters announced it would not show "Stromboli." And in Los Angeles, the membership of the Trinity Methodist church voted a resolution banning any movie starring Mrs. Bergman.

The San Diego, Calif., Daily Journal said it was withholding publication of an Ingrid Bergman romance serial because of reader protests.

Despite the outbursts of public opinion, a spokesman for RKO studios said: "No comment. We're pretty busy getting ready to release the picture." Offices of the Motion Picture association here also had no comment. The picture takes its name from the volcanic mediterranean island of Stromboli, where Rossellini and Miss Bergman were on location for months.

tion vital to our security has been made available to alien agents and persons of questionable loyalty."

"Fair Deal" Blasted

The policy declaration, approved by Republicans in the Senate and House and by members of the party's national committee, bore down on the Truman administration's "fair deal" with these words:

"Basic American principles are threatened by the administration's program for a planned economy modeled on the socialist governments of Europe, including price and wage control, rationing, socialized medicine, regional authorities and the Brannan plan with its controls, penalties, fines and jail sentences."

Bosh, Democrats replied generally, with Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) accusing the Republicans flatly of trying to steal the administration's program.

He said this was proved by the GOP policy declaration which said: "We hold that government can use its just powers to foster national health, promote real security for the aged, develop sound agricultural and labor-management policies and advance civil rights."

Several Senators Dissent

The Republicans approved their platform in time for it to be scanned at a $1 a basket Lincoln day dinner in a local arena.

GOP National Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson told the gathering that "from this night on the Republican party is going to be the strongest, most active and vigorous opposition party that has ever been known in the history of our country."

There were 20 speakers at the monster rally, each limited to 45 seconds. Attendance was estimated at 11,000 for a show that included everything from operatic selections to band music.

While the GOP platform was finished in plenty of time for the big meeting, approval was not unanimous.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) said he and "four or five others" voted against it in a conference of all Republican senators.

Volunteers Not Meant For Rap In Fire Story

Several calls have been received by the News-Review regarding a front page story in Monday's paper which appeared derogatory to Roseburg's volunteer firemen.

Although the story explained the misleading first paragraph, several complaints have been received as to use of the word "volunteer."

By "self-appointed volunteer firemen," this paper meant those sightseeing kibitzers who tie up traffic, offer unhelpful suggestions and otherwise hinder operations of the Roseburg fire department and its 29 volunteer firemen.

The department's volunteers are elected, not self-appointed. Their training consists of regular monthly meetings, special weekly training classes and other meetings and general training sessions.

Coal Miners Show Defiance Of T-H Law

miners in eastern Pennsylvania and about 30,000 bituminous (soft coal) miners covered by new contracts.

It is the first nationwide coal walkout since Dec. 1. That one ended a few hours after it started on orders of UMW Chief John L. Lewis.

Word that President Truman reluctantly had invoked the Taft-Hartley act in the 10-month-old coal dispute had little effect on the embittered miners. They have termed this a showdown fight in their battle with the coal operators for more pay, and an increase in welfare fund payments.

The president's action included naming a fact finding panel to investigate the drawn out contract dispute. The next step is for the attorney general to ask a federal court order directing the union to get its miners back on the job for 70 to 80 days.

Lewis and the union were fined $1,420,000 in 1948 for defying a court back-to-work order.

Contempt Risk Faced

Refusal to restore production after a court injunction might put the miners' union and Lewis in contempt of court again. They have been fined a total of $2,130,000 for two earlier offenses.

If the court followed Justice T. Alan Goldsborough's yardstick for fixing contempt fines against Lewis, the amount would be doubled.

The major task on enforcing an injunction would rest with the Justice department.

Government lawyers pointed out that the law can't force a miner to work, but he can be punished for persuading other miners not to work. That's where the local and district union leaders, as well as Lewis, might be held liable.

Goldsborough ruled that the union itself was responsible for the concerted acts of its members, and he termed it "ridiculous" not to take notice of the "wink, nod or code" which touched off that union action.

Lewis May Not Cooperate

Any hope of peace without an injunction showdown seemed to rest with the three members of the Truman board. They are seasoned arbitrators, with a record of successes behind them.

There was no assurance from Lewis that he would cooperate with the board. A UMW spokesman said he had no comment on that question.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said Mr. Truman had pointed out to him in a White House visit 10 days ago that there is no penalty for resuming a strike after an 80-day injunction.

Brewster noted that the president is authorized to take the dispute to Congress if it persists after the court order expires.

"Perhaps the (Taft-Hartley) act will need strengthening on that score if the emergency is as grave at the end of 80 days," the Maine senator said.

Milk Dispute Phase Affects Teamsters weapon to enforce their demands by threat of strike, should the union agreement be signed.

Origin Of Dispute

The original dispute began when dairy farmers, members of the Umpqua Valley Milk Producers association, asked that the price they are paid for their milk by distributors be set at $6 per hundred-weight. Prior to Nov. 1, farmers received $6.12 per cwt. but on that date the price was dropped to $5.50 per cwt., the new minimum set by the state milk marketing administration.

The milk producers later affiliated with the Roseburg Central Labor council, giving as their reason, an opportunity for more bargaining rights.

An Associated Press dispatch from Grants Pass said milk consigned to Umpqua Dairy was being held there today because of reported labor trouble.

Sullivan declared no labor trouble had developed as yet, that the country was "full of milk" and that no shortage was foreseen.

Mayo said later this morning that the Umpqua dairy was asked to appear Dec. 7, 1949, before the central labor council and show reason why it should not be placed on the "do-no-patronize" list.

He said the owners failed to appear and sent no representative. The dairy was then placed on the list and has remained there since that time.

Carl Binder of Elkton, president of the milk producers association, announced last month that the Umpqua Dairy refused to recognize his group of dairy farmers as a bargaining unit.

According to Mayo, "it is only a matter of policy" that this association, now affiliated with the labor council, should be supported by the stronger group.

Telephone Union Stays Call For General Strike

tracts would not permit them to join in the first walkout.

Hint Of Congress Action

In his appeal for more time, Ching gravely warned that the consequences of a telephone strike may not be limited to a temporary inconvenience to the public.

"Many of the freedoms which both sides presently enjoy, and are enjoyed by employers and unions, generally, will be endangered by a demonstration of an absence of sound and stable manager-labor relations in the critical communications industry," he said.

This appeared to be a hint at the possibility of congressional legislation aimed at the telephone industry and perhaps others.

Junior High Sets Assembly On Giant 'Eye'

The National Assemblies of Los Angeles offer a special treat when they bring the noted expert on the 200-inch telescope of Palomar and master storyteller, Robert Edgar, to Roseburg junior high school Wednesday, Feb. 8, at 11 a. m.

The public is invited to this special assembly. Principal R. R. Brand said today. There is no admission charge.

Edgar, a young Australian, will tell the story of the great Palomar telescope which has been in the limelight so much recently. His talk will be illustrated with models and pictures.

He will take his audience on a "visit" to the observatory to show the magnitude of the undertaking which produced the world's greatest "eye." The giant "eye" will reach a billion light years into space and bring the moon within 25 miles of us, figuratively speaking, the National Assemblies organization states.

Copco Franchise On New Basis Proposed

a special committee, headed by Percy Croft, is incorporated in the city zoning ordinance.

An ordinance amending the present city law to incorporate this change, requiring that garages must be built not less than four feet from the side lines in residential zones, and increasing the available space on a lot for building construction, provided set-back lines are conformed to, will be presented to the council at the next meeting.

A public hearing on the matter will be held the first Monday in March, prior to final action on the ordinance.

W. Roseburg Zones Fixed

The council accepted a report of a special committee on the zoning of West Roseburg, which recommended the following zone boundaries: the property on either side of Harvard to the average rear property line except the commercial hospital property, would be business zone; all area north of Harvard from the rear of the property lines of Harvard would be residential class 2, except that area east of Umpqua avenue and north of Umpqua Ave. E., which would be class 1; all area south of the rear property line on Harvard west from the old city limits to Wharton Ave., and including a small area west of the south end of Wharton would be residential No. 2, and the area from Wharton Ave. west to the west city limits would be residential class 1.

Considerable discussion centered around the opening of Umpqua Ave. E. to connect with Bodine Ave. and Riverside drive in Laurelwood upon the written request of Robert Bellows and Dr. Donald R. Gibbs. No action was taken by the council, but the street committee and city manager were instructed to make a study of the matter.

Water Problem Studied

The same committee was instructed to investigate the possibility of securing adequate water for fire protection in West Roseburg areas now served only by two-inch water mains. City fire hoses will not reach some of the areas, including that on Umpqua Ave. E., from the present fire plugs on Harvard street. New fire plugs cannot be installed in these areas until four-inch water mains are put in.

Councilman Frank Ashley, West and John Hart were named to investigate the need for a city ordinance requiring physical examinations for cooks, waitresses and other food handlers.

Gasoline Bids Submitted

The following oil companies submitted bids to supply gasoline to the city: Richfield $1.973 regular, $2.173 ethyl; United Petroleum, $2.21 regular and $2.35 ethyl; Union $2.075 regular and $2.225 ethyl; Shell $1.958 regular and $2.158 ethyl; General Petroleum $2.16 regular and $2.26 ethyl; Associated $2.024 regular and $2.224 ethyl; Signal $2.02 regular and $2.22 ethyl; Texas Co. $2.099 regular and $2.299 ethyl. Because of other allowable discounts listed in the bids, they were referred to the finance committee for study and awarding of a contract to the lowest bidder.

A motion to alter the bicycle ordinance, requiring an annual license for bicycles was approved. The present ordinance requires only that a bicycle be licensed, and the fee is 25 cents. The council split over whether to make the annual fee 25 cents or 50 cents, with Mayor Flegel casting a vote in favor of the 50-cent figure. However, no final action can be taken until an ordinance is drafted and the figure will then be inserted by vote of the council.

An ordinance was approved adopting previously recommended ward changes, to include newly annexed areas within city wards. An emergency clause was attached so that the ordinance would be effective prior to the coming primary election. An ordinance was also passed vacating a portion of Clair St.

New Fireman Named

The resignation of Russell Westcott as a city fireman and the appointment of James Bewley, effective as of Jan. 31, were approved. A business permit was granted Wilma Meske to establish a beauty salon at 321 So. Stephens. Official confirmation of the annexation of West Roseburg, Miller's Addition-Sleepy Hollow and a portion of Beulah's Addition has been received from the secretary of state.

A letter was read from H. R. Kettel, backer of Cloverdale Park homes, offering to sell to the city 60 homes, already built for public housing. He stated he had heard reports Roseburg is seeking public housing. He claimed he could not see the need, while he still had 60 homes in the park addition completed ready to occupy, at no down payments, except certain transaction costs, and $65 monthly payments, or rental from $65 to $75 a month. The letter was filed.

N. Y. Outlaws Gumwrapper Dropping On Sidewalks

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(AP)—You can get arrested in New York City today for dropping a gum wrapper on the sidewalk.

It's part of a city sanitation campaign. Blue-coated inspectors handed out 172 summonses yesterday to persons caught dropping paper, sweeping refuse onto the sidewalk, or leaving garbage cans uncovered.

The maximum penalty is a $500 fine and a year in jail, but the first offenders are expected to get off considerably easier when they appear in court Thursday.

The drive so far applies only to the central section of Manhattan between 14th and 72nd streets, where 4,800 new wire wastebaskets have been set up. But it probably will be extended.

Burglar Eludes Guards In Drop Of Six Stories

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(AP)—A burglar, trapped in an office building just off Fifth avenue, escaped from guards early today by leaping six stories into a heavy netting over a skylight.

He then made his way to the street from a second-story extension. The unidentified burglar had been seized by two guards of the Holmes Electric Protective company. They had rushed to an eighth-floor textile company office at 44 West 28th Street when an alarm went off at 12:30 a. m. (EST).

The burglar grappled with the guards, broke loose and made his daring leap from an open window. Search of the office showed that nothing had been disturbed.

Family Deserter Back After 34 Years; Jailed

WARRINGTON, England, Feb. 7.—(AP)—It was 1915 when Edward Williams walked out on his wife and five kids.

It was 1950 when he finally came back—72 years old, deaf and partly blind.

Mrs. Williams called a policeman. Yesterday Williams was sentenced to three months in prison for failing to pay his wife 12 shillings ($1.68) a week support money under a court order she won 34 years ago. Mrs. Williams said the only payment he ever made was the first one.

Williams said the only reason he came back was to get his birth certificate. He wanted to apply for a government old age pension.

Arrested Pair Yields "Dope" Worth $80,000

PORTLAND, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Two men were arrested and $80,000 worth of narcotics seized yesterday by detectives. They made the arrest at an auto court just outside the city with the help of Multnomah county sheriff's deputies.

City Detective Capt. William Browne said Carmen Anthony Bacco, 41, and Domingo Carrier, 39, both of San Francisco, had been trailed since Sunday. Both were charged with possessing narcotics and held under $10,000 bail.

Ten one-ounce packs of heroin, five ounces of loose drugs and about 1,000 morphine tablets were found in the men's luggage, Browne said.

First Triplets Born At Hospital In Bend

BEND, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Triplets—two boys and a girl—were born here yesterday—and the hospital and the doctor told the parents there would be no charges.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Ashcraft of Madras weighed 4 pounds 9 ounces, 4 pounds 11 ounces and 5 pounds. The infants and their mother were reported by the St. Charles hospital to be in good condition.

Boy Scouts Act As City Officials In "Lesson" Day

Roseburg's city officials did a little loafing on the job Monday, but with good reason—each official had an understanding for the day as Roseburg Boy Scouts took a lesson in city management.

The occasion was the "kickoff" day for National Boy Scout week, Feb. 6-12, during which the Douglas district of the Boy Scouts of America will join others in the nation to celebrate the 40th birthday of scouting.

Other events will highlight scout activity this week, including mobilization Sunday for a simulated disaster, scheduled to hit some Douglas county town on that day.

Monday, the boys were sworn in as city officials, appeared on a radio program, held a parade through downtown Roseburg streets, attended the city council meeting and some were introduced by their sponsors at the chamber of commerce noon forum luncheon.

Headed by Mayor Bill Riley and City Manager Norman Rand, the group included Bobby Davis, city recorder; Gifford Evans, police chief; Don Watts, fire chief; Dan Young, judge; Jim Pinar, street superintendent; Ken Reson, building inspector, and Phil Singleton, park superintendent.

City councilmen were Dan Harrison, Larry Gill, Richard Duvall, John McCulley, Arthur Mandville, Steve Reed, Jerry Roberts and Lloyd McComb.
