It was built and painted by Albert Bacher, member of the city street department, who spends much of his time doing paint jobs for the city to the satisfaction of all, if his sign is a fair example.—By Paul Jenkins

COUNTY EXTENSION UNIT HOLDS MEETING

Home Extension county committee members met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Standley at Edenbower last Saturday and discussed activities and progress of the units.

Mrs. Earl Ollivant, chairman of the committee, opened the meeting. The committee agreed it would be favorable for Winston to begin a unit and each county unit was urged to try to reach a goal of $40.00 to contribute to the Azalea House fund.

The committee members pointed out that work to be emphasized during the next few years should include principally activities of a community service nature. Program planning was set for April 18 in Roseburg.

Discussion was held on each unit contributing a dime per member for the support of a state delegate to be sent to Denmark in September. Each unit which desires may also suggest a member from their unit with her qualifications, to be considered as a delegate.

The Refugee Toy drive was discussed and the group suggested that each unit may prepare a box of toys. These should be taken to the program planning day, April 18, and it was suggested that toys be wrapped in clothing.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Corinne McTaggart, Mrs. A. J. Standley, Mrs. Ray Doerner, Mrs. Earl Ollivant and Mrs. Cecil Hartford. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Standley at Edenbower Saturday, Feb. 25 at 1 p. m.
