

American Denied U. S. Attorney

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Robert A. Vogeler, U. S. businessman held incommunicado here on espionage and sabotage charges, will not be able to have an American attorney defend him in his trial beginning Friday, a Hungarian lawyer said Monday.

He said Hungarian law permits only Hungarian subjects to practice law, and that only qualified lawyers can act for the defense.

Foreign radio broadcasts heard here said Vogeler's family and the International Telephone and Telegraph Co., of which he was European representative, had engaged an American attorney to defend him.

Morris L. Ernst, New York attorney and author, announced in New York Sunday he had been retained to defend Vogeler. He said he had applied by cable for a Hungarian visa and had asked the Hungarian government to postpone the trial to give him time to interview his client.

Vogeler was arrested Nov. 18, Edgar Sanders, British subject and Budapest I. T. & T. representative, and five Hungarian nationals, are scheduled to be tried with Vogeler.

Hoover Report Baset By Politics, Norblad Says

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Rep. Norblad (R-Ore) accused the administration Monday of playing politics with the Hoover report.

He asserted in a radio broadcast that the administration was ignoring recommendations of the Hoover commission.

"In my opinion neither the President nor his leaders want the report with its accompanying great savings put on the statute books for the simple reason that too many people on the federal payroll who vote the right way would be out of a job," he said.

Canyonville Lions Club Offers Resuscitator Use

R. E. Olsen, president of the Canyonville Lions club, would like the people in Canyonville and outlying areas to know that the resuscitator which belongs to the Lions club is available to everyone.

In case it is needed at any time contact the telephone operator at Canyonville and she will connect you with one of the members of the volunteer fire department, police officers or deputy sheriff W. I. Worrall. All will be capable of operating the resuscitator.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson left Thursday for Portland where they expect to visit for several days.

The month of February has brought its usual flurry of "child diseases" most of which are the contagious type that many of us grown-ups are still dodging, some unsuccessfully. Mumps, measles and chicken pox are all fighting for recognition and to date mumps seem to have more victims to its credit. This column is not long enough to report all cases in this community, but among the latest afflicted are Mrs. Daisy Fox and son, Gary, Larry Walker and Linda and Bobbie Forrest.

Mr. Howard Lengele made a business trip to Eugene Thursday. Lengele operates our local hardware store, known as Howard's Hardware.

Still another new house has received its final brush stroke in Winston and new residents have moved in to occupy the dwelling. This new home, owned by Howard Lengele of Winston, is located across from the Fullerton Beverage Company and is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lucky, formerly of Roseburg. Lucky is employed by Local Loan and Mrs. Lucky works in the office of Tipton and Permin Insurance in Rose-

French Reds Dump War Material Into Sea

NICE, France, Feb. 15.—(AP)—About 1,000 Communist-led workers fought off police and swarmed over a truck Tuesday to dump its cargo of war material into the Mediterranean.

The material — which the Communists said was a ramp for a V-2 rocket — was to be loaded on an Italian ship.

The workers were called off their jobs by the Communist-led general labor federation. They were armed with crow bars, broken bottles and stones.

Police finally drove them off with tear gas.

It was not immediately explained what the war material was or whether it was destined for Indochina. French Communists are conducting an active campaign to prevent the shipment of arms to French troops battling Communist-led Guerrillas in the far east county.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fullerton of Winston, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morgan of Roseburg, motored to Eugene Thursday and took the streamliner from that city to San Francisco. They report a pleasant trip, the weather being in their favor. The route was particularly so at this time of year with the mountains covered in a heavy blanket of snow and the sun shining throughout their trip, they said. They encountered rain only once and that was while in Berkeley. While in San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton visited with the former's sister, Mrs. Lloyd Roberts, while Mr. and Mrs. Morgan attended the gift show, where Mr. Morgan made purchases for his local business. Rejoining each other, they all attended the Breakfast Club broadcast and there Mrs. Morgan was interviewed over the air. Many around Roseburg and Winston have reported hearing the broadcast on which she participated. Later they attended the famous stage play, "The Philadelphia Story," in which Sarah Churchill, daughter of Winston Churchill, took the leading role. Both families returned to their homes Thursday evening. Morgan is owner of the Roseburg Book store in Roseburg and Fullerton is owner of the Fullerton Beverage company in Winston.

Parachutist Hurt Trying Leap From Pasadena Bridge

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Robert (Jumping Jack) Niles, 24, parachutist who likes to jump from buildings and bridges, was seriously injured Tuesday when an attempted leap from the Colorado street bridge went haywire.

A friend said Niles recently jumped from the Golden Gate bridge in San Francisco.

With three companions, he went to the famous bridge, near the scene of the annual Tournament of Roses parade, and climbed over a high wire fencing erected years ago to halt a succession of suicide jumps.

While his companions went below to take pictures, Niles let himself down by a rope from under the highest point of the arch, 150 feet from the ground.

One of his companions, George

Workers To Be Needed For Canyonville Temple

Guy McGee, architect for the Canyonville Masonic temple, has announced work crews will be needed to resume work on the new building starting Sunday, Feb. 26. Additional material has been delivered to the site and members are requested to report for work on that day.

Last year the membership of the Masonic lodge was divided into two work crews with the workers alternating Sundays. The Eastern Star social club served potluck dinners to the workers.

Cochrane, said that suddenly Niles yelled: "Come and get me! I'm slipping."

His friends ran to the bridge and attempted to pull him to safety but evidently Niles' hands slipped and he fell. Cochrane said the parachute did not open.

The city has an ordinance prohibiting climbing of the fence on the bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McMurray have just returned from California to give us a tantalizing weather report of sunshine without the "scattered showers." The McMurrays arrived here Friday after spending some three weeks with relatives in Rodondo Beach, San Jose and San Francisco. They motored down via highway No. 99 and returned by way of the Redwoods, highway No. 101. Road conditions were reported good.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carpenter have left for a visit with relatives and friends in Cottage Grove. Carpenter is bookkeeper for the Dillard Lumber Company.

William Dixon of Sutherlin transacted business in Winston Tuesday. Mrs. William M. Jamieson and daughter-in-law, Mr. C. M. Jamieson of Winston attended the Helping Hand club at the home of Mrs. Robert Caley in Edenbower Wednesday afternoon.

Betty Jean Post, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Post of Winston met with an accident in her home this week. The third finger of her left hand was caught and mangled in an electric mixer, causing her severe pain and making it necessary for the doctor to remove the nail and take several stitches. Betty has been taking care of the Post household in the absence of her mother who has been in Portland receiving medical attention for the past two weeks. Mrs. Post is reported to be responding nicely to the treatments being administered to her in Portland and hopes to be able to return to her home in about two more weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett J. Owens and small daughter, Wrayanne, of Salem arrived here Friday to spend the weekend with relatives and friends. They have postponed their visit for three successive weeks due to the bad weather conditions in that city. Mrs. Owens is the former Norma Porter of Roseburg.

Mrs. Helen Duncan transacted business in Grants Pass Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Percy Powers of Gresham spent several days of last week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Powers of this community. They returned home Sunday and Mrs. Powers accompanied them to Gresham for a visit. Dr. Powers is a veterinarian in that city and is a previous resident of Winston at which time he attended the schools in Roseburg.

The sudden burst of sunshine Friday gave Winston residents a premature dose of spring fever. Tractors, not heard nor seen since last fall, echoed throughout the neighborhood, spring pruning of
