

Troop Observes Boy Scout Week At Canyonville

Troop 125, Canyonville Boy Scouts, observed Boy Scout week from Feb. 6 to 12th. All week there were various displays of their records and accomplishments about town. The scout membership record was observed in the window at the William's Sporting Goods store, the scout knot board and a miniature camp stood in the window of the Canyonville Hardware, and camp equipment was observed in the window of the Warfall residence on the corner of Main and Fourth streets. Lewis Gable, Roseburg, inspected each display on Friday.

Thursday night there was a Scout and Parents night dinner in the club room of the community hall with about 15 participating. Mrs. William Hoffer, Mrs. Dayton Bailey and Mrs. H. M. Anderson were in charge of arranging the tables and decorating. The dinner was pot luck.

Following the dinner Harold Glover gave a brief talk on scouting. He stressed the importance of the troop committee and told how they could assist the scoutmaster and the boys. He complimented W. I. Worrall, local scoutmaster, and stressed the importance of leadership in providing the proper types of training for boys in their development of character and leadership, and in their learning of self-directed activities.

An impressive candlelight ceremony was part of the evening's program. Bill Hoffer and Maynard Hoff received their first class badges; Larry Bailey received his second class badge and Robert Springstead, his star scout badge. Mrs. Springstead was asked to present the award to her son.

This was a proud moment for Scoutmaster Worrall, parents and friends, who had a share in helping the boys to earn their badges through their interest and leadership.

William Cox and William Hoffer, committeemen, took part in the ceremony and the awarding of the rank badges.

On Sunday morning the scouts attended church services at the Methodist church in Canyonville. Terminating Boy Scout week, the local troop attended the mass mobilization for 200 scouts which was held in Roseburg Sunday afternoon.

Lumber Output Heavily Cut In Wintry Spell

PORTLAND — Old Man Winter took a heavy toll of lumber production in the Douglas fir region as output from West coast sawmills in January dropped off more than 50 million feet a week below December figures, according to H. V. Simpson, executive vice-president of West Coast Lumbermen's Association.

Deep snows, frozen log ponds and low temperatures closed hundreds of the region's lumber manufacturing plants, Simpson said, and many have not operated since the Christmas holidays. Logging camps are virtually all battened down tight, except for a few along the Oregon and Washington coast.

Freezing weather cut sharply into shipments, Simpson pointed out, and only 577,772,000 board feet were loaded out during January, some 32 million below December. Gross stocks at mills dropped in the face of short production to 994,720,000 board feet, lowest in 16 months while unfilled order files jumped to 804,320,000 board feet as orders continued briskly.
