DIAL-LOG

Twenty-eight and one-half million women radio listeners with telephones in their homes will provide, in part, the pool of candidates for Mutual-Don Lee's "Queen for a Day" week-day Cinderella honors, starting this week. It will no longer be necessary to be in Mutual's Hollywood studios at broadcast time to be a "Queen" contestant. The lady's telephone will make her one. This is how emcee Jack Bailey will operate the plan: He will invite those wishing to compete for Queen honors from their homes to send a postcard with their name, address and telephone, and telling why they wish to be "Queen for a Day." From this group of cards he will make his pre-broadcast telephone calls. The woman called will be told her conversation is being recorded, and will be asked exactly the same questions she would hear were she standing before the microphone. The record will then be entered as a "contestant" on the show, along with the "live" candidates, and will be given the same "Queen" program treatment accorded the in-person contestants. In the event the "telephone contestant" is voted "Queen for a Day," she will be brought to Hollywood—for all the regal honors the program bestows. She will also have her "Queen" wish granted (Weekdays, 11:30 - 12 noon).

Daily Newspapers Circulation Now At Record High

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — More than two out of every three persons in the United States spend some time daily reading a newspaper according to N. W. Ayer & Son's directory of newspapers and periodicals.

The agency drew its conclusion after announcing that daily newspaper circulation has reached an all-time high. The directory reported a combined circulation of 52,271,000 and figures that the average copy of a newspaper is read by more than one person.

Other statistics listed by the directory included:

The nation's 302 morning papers have a combined circulation of 20,151,000, an increase of more than six per cent since the end of the war.

The 1,498 evening papers have a circulation of 30,911,000, a gain of slightly less than six per cent.

Four all-day newspapers, publishing around the clock, have a circulation of 1,209,000, slightly less than a year ago.

Circulation of Sunday papers has fallen off slightly to 44,730,000 but still is 12 per cent above the distribution four years ago. The number of Sunday papers has increased from 553 to 577 in the last year.

A total of 20,686 newspapers and periodicals are published in the United States. During 1949, 307 new publications were started and 402 suspended operations.

In the weekly field, 100 new papers were added in 1949, bringing the total to 9,774.

Washington State Tax Ruling Made

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 — (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday let stand a decision that the Washington state business and occupation tax may not be applied to goods delivered across state lines.

The state appealed to the high tribunal from decisions by the Washington state supreme court that the tax imposed an unconstitutional burden on interstate commerce. But the tribunal refused to review the case.

The state court findings were given in suits filed by the Columbia Steel company, of San Francisco, and by the Weyerhaeuser Sales company, which has sales offices in Washington state.

Columbia makes wholesale sales of iron and steel products in Washington state. Weyerhaeuser objected to the taxation of receipts on sales of timber delivered from Oregon and Idaho to buyers in Washington state.

The tax was levied on gross receipts of all business houses for the "privilege of doing business" in the state. The rate and measure for calculating it varied for different business activities.

In another case involving warrants, the tribunal held, 6 to 2, that a home owner may refuse to admit a city health inspector unless he has court approval for a search. The case involved Mrs. Geraldine Little, who was fined $25 in municipal court here on a charge of interfering with public health officer.

On other matters, the court yesterday:

1. Set aside, 6 to 1, a deportation order against a Chinese seaman on grounds that the immigration service used a short-cut law rather than one that would have caused the government more trouble and expense. The seaman, Wong Yank Sung, has been living here.
 2. Held, 5 to 3, that even though an alien is unwilling because of religious views to serve in the American army as a non-combatant he still is entitled to citizenship. The case involved German-born Martin Ludwig Cohnstaedt, a teacher at Sterling (Kas) college.
 3. Rejected, 7 to 1, the claim of a condemned Georgia prisoner, George W. Solesbee, that he should have been granted a court hearing on his sanity instead of a finding by three doctors appointed by the governor. Solesbee is under sentence to die in the electric chair for killing a salesman.

BUSINESSMEN'S JAUNT

PORTLAND — (AP) — Oregon's flying businessmen are heading into the great blue yonder again — this time for a cabana in Havana.

About 85 private planes, carrying about 270 Oregonians and a few friends from neighboring states, take off Feb. 25 on their 8th annual air tour. Past trips have taken them to Alaska, Mexico and to Portland, Me. This will be the first involving an over the water jump, from Key West, Fla., to Havana.

CHURCH HISTORY LECTURE

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene — (Special.) — Dr. Matthew Spinka, Waldo, professor of church history at Hartford Theological seminary, Hartford, Conn., will be a special guest lecturer at the two-day conference of the Pacific coast division of the American Society of Church History on the university campus. The conference will open March 7.

Legislator Hits Road Funds Use

SALT LAKE CITY — (AP) — Ralph T. Moore, Oregon state legislator said Saturday in many cases highway money "is not being spent efficiently."

He told a western interstate conference on highway policy:

"It is very important that the states get their money's worth in highway construction. Efficient spending means it is easier to get more money from the taxpayer for roads if more is essential."

Moore, presiding officer at the conference, told the 50 delegates the field is "wide open" for improvement of highway administration, particularly at the county and small city level.

The legislators and highway officials from 13 states agreed, however, that a uniform highway tax "is not desirable or necessary due to the fact that the economies in the states vary."

They did vote, however, to use the San Francisco headquarters of

Budget Bureau Opposes Marine Tax Concessions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Budget bureau has gone on record against proposals to grant tax concessions and more liberal subsidies to the Merchant Marine.

Such a move, the bureau said, would not be in accord with President's program at this time. Its views were expressed in a letter which Senator Magnuson (D-Wash) gave to a senate commerce committee studying the proposals.

The bureau said the legislation raised questions of policy which are being considered by the federal agencies affected. Magnuson, a supporter of the legislation, commented that it will be up to Congress to decide the policy.

Backing for the measures came from ship owners and the CIO Shipbuilding Workers union.

The Council of State Governments as a clearing house for highway information during state legislative sessions.
