LONG WEEKS spent in the iron lung are made more tolerable now for a young polio victim, Howard Cary, by occasional visits from his 20-month-old daughter, Anita. Cary, a former Lookingglass resident since childhood, went into the respirator at Sacred Heart hospital in Eugene Dec. 14. His little daughter could not visit him for some time, and finally on her first visit the respirator frightened her. Now it no longer bothers her, and both father and daughter enjoy the visits. Cary's condition is reported improved, and he is able to be out of the iron lung a few minutes at a time. Cary and his wife moved to Eugene about two years ago. ### Basketball Skill Brings Honor To Sutherlin Woman

Picture by Clark's Studio
Mrs. Tom (Gladys Minney) Minor, above, now residing at Sutherlin, last Thursday night was honored as one of four outstanding Lane county B league athletes of the last quarter of a century. The honor was conferred during the Lane county B league tournament at Eugene.

The official tournament guide has this to say about Mrs. Minor: "Basketball indeed by reputation is a man's world. Such has not always been the situation and tribute we pay to probably the most renowned of any girls' team. Mrs. Minor played with Vida (on the McKenzie) high school in competition during 1928-29-30 and 31. They were tournament winners for three consecutive years, 1928-29-30. She was an all-star selection the last three years. Her scoring record is truly that of a champion: 1929 tournament, 170 points in four games; 1931 average 57 points per game in regular competition; greatest score in any one game, 104 points."

Another portion states: The best remembered girls' team was the Vida squad of 1928 and '29. The never-to-be-forgotten Vida basketballers walked off with league play and the county championship in a breeze both years. The Vida girls won the '28 crown with a 72-32 triumph over Thurston and that year Vida had only seven girls and three boys in high school. All seven girls played on the team, and it was Melba Allen, six feet in height, who caged 64 points for the champions in the final playoff game. One of her teammates, Gladys Minney, became probably the most famous of them all in later years. Those who had seen her play tell many fabulous stories about her until she has almost become a scoring legend in "B" basketball circles.

Though out of sports, Mrs. Minor is not out of activities. She is a member of the Sutherlin Business Women's club, Parent-Teacher's treasurer, and a member of the Roseburg Daughters of the Nile.

Yoncalla P.T.A. Backs Scouting

Yoncalla P.T.A. held its regular Yoncallis P.T.A. held its regular meeting. More than 100 mothers, fathers and friends filled the grade school cafeteria. The fourth grade, with Mrs. Cain teacher, won the attendance prize.

The foremost event of the evening was the Boy Scout court of honor. Ernest Seaton of Drain, commissioner, and Robert E. Laird, scoutmaster of the Drain troop, officiated and gave many interesting details about the scout program. C. P. Hodges, Yoncalla troop 44 scoutmaster, presented Tenderfoot badges to Jan Cowan, Gale Noel, Barry Kremkau, T. J. Moore and Kenneth Means. The boys receiving second class scout badges were Bill Benner and Alvin Raper. Mrs. Lucille Grass, P.T.A. president, introduced the new scout councilmen, Robert McClintock, Elmer Currier, Jean Cowan, George Kremkau and Homer Graham.

The Yoncalla P.T.A. will sponsor the cub scouts. During Seaton's talk, he explained the responsibilities and duties of the parents and those who would participate in the organization of cub packs. Observance of P.T.A. founders day, will be Feb. 27th, with a special program and refreshments. A motion was passed that the P.T.A. was in favor of the high school adding music as a course to its regular curriculum, and especially to carry on band instruction throughout high school.

Dillard Students Stage Parties

By ROSA HEINBACH
Dillard school valentine parties were held Tuesday, Feb. 14. Each room held a colorful party. Marilyn Haumeser was elected sixth grade queen of hearts and Terry Jones was elected king of hearts for Valentine's day. The princess and prince were Carol Dowdy and Thomas Jacobs. Room mother, Mrs. Mildred Mahoney, and teacher, Mrs. Agnes Harrison, assisted with the party.

The second grade students played the postoffice system in social studies. The best letter in the class was written by Richard Barney. It was sent to Ramsey, Huntingdonshire, England. One student in each five rows was voted to be postman and deliver valentines. Games were played and heart cookies, ice cream and candy were given out. A contest was held for the best hand-made original valentine. Sherman Porter, for the boys, and Judith Minor, for the girls, were the winners. They were assisted by room mother, Mrs. Dorothy Mayse.

In Mrs. Pennie's fourth grade valentine games were played, and a candy heart contest was held. Room mother, Mrs. Irene Geddes, brought her phonograph and records and furnished the music for the party. She was assisted by Mrs. Dunlap in the serving of refreshments.

In Mrs. Krug's fourth grade, one girl from each row was chosen by popular vote to help distribute the valentines while the boys helped pass around the refreshments. Games were played by all in the room.

Mrs. Cutting's seventh grade had refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch. Mrs. Alice Hill, room mother, and Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Cutting assisted with games.

Room mother, Mrs. Othal Barnes, assisted with the party for Mrs. Winston. Mrs. Fullerton is substituting for Mrs. Winston in the third grade.

Marvin Covey's fifth grade held a party Friday honoring those having birthdays in December and January. Several children brought cakes which they made themselves. Games were played and a treat from the teacher was presented to each child.

Wednesday the fifth grade rhythm band played, accompanied by a vocal chorus of students. The band, made up of hand-made instruments such as pan lids and blocks, played in the auditorium.

The students of the eighth and sixth grades, under direction of Miss Ethel G. Merriman, held a party Friday. Ina Ferro, Anna Hughes, Ina Lee, Heinbach and Dexter Simms furnished decorated valentine cakes.

The first two grades of Mrs. Bodenner and Mrs. Chase had refreshments and a valentine box. Room mothers, Mrs. Virginia Lawrence and Mrs. Rosie Owens, help-
