CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of thanking all the neighbors and friends who responded when my mother died in our home on Agee Lane recently. Especially do we thank the "Rack" Spelman family for their timely assistance, and wish to dedicate the following poem to all who responded:

"Friendship"
It is my joy in life to find
At every turning of the road
The strong arms of a comrade kind
To help me onward with my load
And since I have no gold to give
And love alone must make amends
My only prayer is, while I live
God make me worthy of my friends.

Public Law 16 Not Affected By G. I. Bill Curb

Disabled veterans training under Public Law 16 are not affected in any way by recent Veterans Administration and Bureau of the Budget recommendations to curb abuses and weaknesses in the G. I. Bill education and training program. Clifford Fields, Veterans Administration contact officer, said today.

The VA-Budget Bureau joint report to the President, as well as a previous report made by VA to the Congress, Fields said, pertains only to training offered to veterans under the G. I. Bill.

Neither report so much as touches upon training available to disabled veterans. Nor is it intended to reflect in any way on Public Law 16 training. This law is an entirely different one from the G. I. Bill, Fields emphasized.

Procedures are different and, therefore, programs are different.

Under Public Law 16, the VA has full responsibility for the training of disabled veterans. The responsibility starts even before a handicapped veteran begins his training. It starts with advisement and guidance to determine what type of course he should take. The responsibility does not end until he has completed his training and "as been declared rehabilitated."

Fields said educational institutions and establishments must be approved by the VA before disabled veterans may enter training in them under Public Law 16.

Under the G. I. Bill, on the other hand, the VA's responsibility is held at a minimum. Eligible veterans have a free choice of course and school, so long as the school has been approved by a state approving agency and has been in operation for at least one year, and so long as the course is not being taken for avocational or recreational purposes.

The VA does not supervise the veteran in training under the G. I. Bill. Instead, supervision is a responsibility of the school or training establishment.

Dividends Due Deceased Vets Go To Beneficiaries

Dividends due deceased veterans for the time they held National Service Life insurance in force prior to their death will be paid to their beneficiaries or heirs, VA said today.

Where the insurance was in force at the time of the veteran's death payment will be made automatically to the beneficiary of record. No application of any kind will be required in these cases.

If the insurance was not in force at the time the veteran died the dividend will be paid to his estate through the executor of administrator of the estate. Where there is no administrator payment will be made directly to those persons who are entitled to the veteran's estate under the inheritance laws of the state of which the veteran was a legal resident at the time of death.

In the lapsed insurance cases claim forms will be sent by VA directly to those persons found to be entitled to all or a share of the veterans dividend. No general distribution will be made of these claim forms VA said.

Beneficiaries or heirs are requested not to write the VA about the dividend or request claim forms, which will be furnished directly to them.

G. I. Insurance Payments Over One-Third Complete

Payment of the special $2,800,000 National Service Life Insurance dividend is more than one-third complete, the Veterans Administration reports. In the first 22 working days since the G. I. insurance dividend payment started Jan. 16 a total of 5,903,956 checks, amounting to $889,769,708, were mailed to veteran policy holders.

With some nine million more checks to be mailed on the applications already received, the VA has cautioned veterans not to expect their checks in every case based on the last three digits of their serial numbers. There are so many exceptions to this rule that a large number of veterans will not be paid in such sequence.

The VA expects to get out the bulk of all payments by June 30, 1950, but this schedule could be disturbed if veterans who have not received their checks write the VA to make inquiries.

Veterans are asked to be patient, with the assurance that everything will be done to get them their checks as quickly as humanly possible.

Dividend checks are now being distributed at the rate of a million a week.

Benefits Must Be Waived Where Pay Is Received

Members of service reserve components who are receiving disability or retirement benefits must waive such payments during any period of reserve duty training for which service pay is sought under the terms of public law 434 of the 81st Congress. Veterans Administration has announced in answer to numerous inquiries.

The law provides Federal pay for certain periods of duty, drill and training as specified in the Act. It contains a provision requiring that payment of any pension, compensation or retirement benefits must be waived for periods during which duty pay is received.

VA has set up a procedure whereby a reservist need sign but one waiver during any fiscal year in order to meet this requirement. The waiver is based on the estimated length of time the reservist is likely to be in reserve pay status during the remainder of the fiscal year. Any necessary adjustment in the number of days for which waiver is made is accomplished later.

Where a government insurance premium is being paid from pension, compensation or retirement pay which is waived for the purpose of accepting reserve pay, adjustments also are made by VA so that the insurance is kept in force.
