Civilian Conservation Corps' Revival Proposed In Response To Desire In Western States

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Revival of the Civilian Conservation corps, recently proposed to Congress, would be welcomed in many parts of the west, says Rep. Bosone (D-Utah).

The original program, established in 1933 to train and occupy the nation's jobless youth, was abandoned in 1942 when the demand for labor in defense industries drained off this pool of unemployed.

In the nine years, more than 3,000,000 boys had planted 2,356,000 trees, built 126,000 miles of trails, truck trails and minor roads, set and strung 89,000 miles of telephone lines, built thousands of erosion control check dams, spent more than 6,000,000 man-days at forest fire fighting and engaged in tree and plant disease and pest control over 21,900,000 acres.

A very large part of this was in the forests, ranges and parks of the west, where boys from the sprawling industrial centers of the east learned about the wide open spaces and where many of them settled down to live and work.

Problem Again Faced
The problems of conservation of human and natural resources have arisen again, says Mrs. Bosone, author of one of the new CCC bills. She said:

"First, there were 1,000,000 boys between the ages of 16 and 24 who were looking for jobs last month. Unemployment at the present time is greatest in this age group.

"Second, there are some 4,000,000 acres of national forests which need reforestation. There are 2,000,000 acres of trees suffering from blister rust. One hundred thousand miles of roads and trails need to be built into the mountains and wooded areas. For fire protection, 1,400 lookout towers are needed."

As the boys worked, they learned such things as equipment operation and maintenance, rudimentary engineering, in connection with bridge building and road construction, timber estimating, rough carpentry and tree like.

Accomplishments Listed
In the western states alone, 221,500,000 trees were planted, 22,500 miles of roads and trails and many bridges built, many hundreds of thousands of acres of timber treated for protection against plant diseases and pests, numerous observation towers, other fire protection structures built. Telephone lines were built in

Curtin

By MRS. GRACE THOMPSON
It has been suggested that Curtin should be "on the map" through news coverage of the area. The result is this report.

For those who do not know, Curtin is nine miles north of Drain, just off highway 99. Among other things, Curtin has three major saw-mills, several portable ones, a post-office, school and a general store.

No new cases of mumps have been reported for some time, although several persons are "recovering" from the recent epidemic. Three cases of whooping cough have been reported at Mill camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Billings are the parents of a baby boy born Feb. 21 at home. He has been named Terry Lee. He weighed in at seven pounds. Terry Lee has one sister, Kitty Jo. Mrs. Billings' mother, Mrs. Spence, Drain, is here caring for the mother and new baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stephens and family went to Coos Bay Feb. 19 to honor his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Stephens, on their golden wedding anniversary. There were 150 people present, including three sons, six grandchildren and a great-grandson. Mrs. Roy Stephens' parents of Cottage Grove accompanied the couple to Coos Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernell Gains, Mrs. Flora Holt and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Payne motored to Ashland last week to visit at the DeBoer home.

Mrs. Mabel Sowles called several members of the community last Wednesday to tell them of the TB X-ray unit in Drain.

Mrs. Wilma Stigers and Jo went to Baker last week to take care of her parents, who have been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stephens and Mary Lou and Donna Faye were recent visitors in McMinnville with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stephens and small son. They also visited Johnny Vinsonhaler at Laurelwood academy.

The little Kirtley girl of Anlauf is recuperating from a recent attack of pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Payne returned Friday from Prairie City.

Mrs. Grace Thompson and Gary visited Mrs. Odell Heath last week at the home of her mother in Cottage Grove. Mrs. Heath, known to many friends as "Sparky," is recovering from a major operation. The Heaths are former residents of Curtin.

Last Sunday, Roy Stephens took Mr. and Mrs. Merle Castle, Mr. Blalock, Lee Reiber and Carol Barclay for rides in his airplane. It was the first experience for some of them, and they said they were enthused by flying.

The Forest Veneer mill is again shut down because the dam gave-

'Peace' Group's Exclusion Rapped

NEW YORK.—(P)—The American Civil Liberties union says that the State department's refusal to permit a 12-member European "peace delegation" to visit this country is "a violation of basic rights of free speech."

"This right should apply to all despite their political opinions," the ACLU said. "Freedom of information and travel is one of the most important democratic principles America is seeking to promote throughout the world."

The State department, in banning the visit by the delegation, said the 12 "are either known Communists or fellow travelers and are therefore subject to exclusion from the United States under the immigration laws."

American consuls were instructed to deny visas to the delegation, headed by Spanish artist Pablo Picasso. The group's announced purpose was to petition Congress for immediate reduction of war budgets and prohibition of atomic weapons.

An American welcoming committee, consisting of 135 educators, clergymen and scientists, issued a statement saying:

"We know the State department's action will be very upsetting to the millions of Americans who, like people throughout the world, want peace and wish to weigh every proposal to that end."

The Picasso group, including delegates from both Eastern and western nations, is known formally as the World Congress of Partisans of Peace.

way Sunday. It had recently been repaired with sand bags, but they gave way.

Graveside services were held Feb. 21 at Comstock cemetery for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anlauf, Rt. 1, Drain. Survivors are her parents, one sister, Veneta Grace, and grandparents. Mills mortuary of Cottage Grove was in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Thompson and sons visited Mrs. Pearl Handley and Helene at Oakridge Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Flora Holt was a Saturday overnight guest at the Harry Holt home in Creswell.

"Tick's" Tips On Veterans Hospital

By L. J. "Tick" MALARKEY
"Durable" Fuller, Maybe he had better hank a nickname on this Fuller Johnson man. He was out here with Elton Owen and his wrestlers this past Saturday night and, with Frank Wickham, the Elks put on one of the best shows to ever parade before an auditorium packed to the brim with patients.

Owen had the Great Atlas performing his nationally known feats of strength. Frankie Stojack, now a "grunt and groan" matman, was introduced. All of us remember Stojack when he was at Washington State college making athletic history. Walloping each other all over the stage ring were four of the muscle men who had Bamboos, Greybeards and Kids yelling themselves sore-throated.

From the Coos Bay country, after the athletes had finished, "Durable" and "Wiry" Wickham—presented just as well nick him too, presented a musical program, with brother Elk Preston of Coos Bay as master of ceremonies, that wowed the veterans in the aisles.

Hael Knapp's Dance studio went through their routines. Her pupils are from the Port Orford high school. Real good.

Then the Versatile Jensens took over. Father and Mother Jensen and their four children, ages 11, 8, 5 and 3. This family of six do everything with musical instruments. Ronner Jensen played a trumpet solo and was repeatedly encored and his kid brother, age 3, played a solo on the piano. The Elks had "home runned" again.

The Veterans Hospital Employees association is announcing a hard times dance to be given at the Roseburg Country club March 18th. That is a Saturday night. It is potluck. The last party pulled by the employees at the country club was so well enjoyed that they are coming up with another one in less than a month.

NIGHTINGALE NOTES
By NURSE ERIKA GRAHAM
The graveyard shift is not conducive to soliciting material for this column. Your reporter's life is topsy-turvy compared to the other people about whom I write. Ah, but March 12 will get here I'm sure.

I have clutched at a single remaining straw, namely an invitation to the Timpson's and this is what I've come up with.

Miss Georgia K. Moss was taken for a "ride" by Althea Hutchins and wound up being guest of honor at a surprise birthday party at the Timpson residence. Though one usually just "gets a year older" on their birthday Miss Moss will remember this one for other things, particularly the good wishes for the many more she received from the nursing staff.

Helen and Francis Gaffney displayed some hidden talent with a little exhibition dancing of the waltz. Very nice.

Another very sweet attraction at the Moss birthday party was Dorothy Timpson's little Lisa. A most charming and cuddly young lady of two.

Of interest to all nurses in this area will be Miss Bloom's forthcoming class in nursing problems and service evaluation. Look for the registration date.

With the beginning of March we are reminded that the deadline for O. S. N. A. dues is March 15.

Miss Golda Beal admits to a birthday anniversary last month also. However, rumor has it she only filed for her driver's license renewal last week. My, my was that a Freudian slip or a time becoming jet propelled, too?

Fade THOSE WEATHERED BROWN SPOTS

New Kind of Hand Cream Specially Made to do it!

ESOTERICA is that marvelous new kind of hand cream for fading those brown spots that make your hands look old. Also fades other surface blemishes and roughness in a way no ordinary hand cream or lotion can.

Leaves hands whiter, clearer, younger looking quickly—often within the first few days.

While ESOTERICA looks and feels like the finest non-greasy vanishing hand cream, it has an added clearing action. Produced in a laboratory that has studied the effect of cosmetics on skin pigments for 25 years. Thousands gladly paid $5.00 for ESOTERICA.

Now in quantity production, it can be sold for $2.00, plus tax. If you want clearer, whiter-looking hands, get ESOTERICA. Money back if the first jar does not bring desired results.

Earnings Reported By Weyerhaeuser Company

TACOMA, March 8.—(P)—The Weyerhaeuser Timber company issued a financial statement Tuesday showing net sales for 1949 of $155,662,755 and a net income for the same period of $24,633,016.

The statement said these figures include the accounts of all subsidiaries, including those partially owned, as consolidated income. Previous statements consolidated accounts of wholly subsidiaries only.

Weyerhaeuser officials said 1948 net sales totaled $105,518,870 and income for that year was $25,962,537. The officials said, however, that these figures do not present a true basis of comparison with 1949 earnings and sales because of the revised accounting procedure.
