Ellsworth Urges Fund For Forestry Needs

in the field of forestry research by long odds than the federal government is spending in Oregon," he said.
"The lumber industry is now taxed five cents a thousand feet for all lumber that is cut.
"That tax money is spent mostly in the field of forestry research," Ellsworth told the committee the government's national forest survey should be pushed, as it is becoming increasingly more necessary that the "United States know how much timber we have, where it is located, and the nature of it."
Ellsworth, whose Oregon district provides one-tenth of the total lumber production of the nation, said that forest roads and trails are necessary to open up new areas to logging.
"If we are going to have tree sustained-yield management we are going to have to build roads into those inaccessible places," he said, after asserting federally-owned lands lie farthest from the markets. At present, he said, only about half the allowable tree harvest is being cut on such lands.

Cash Stolen From Two Pacific Building Offices

Two offices in the Pacific building were broken into sometime during the night Thursday and an undisclosed amount of cash taken from both, reported Police Chief Calvin H. Baird.
City police were notified this morning that offices of the Douglas Electric Co-op and the AF of L Central Labor Council were entered by "person or persons unknown." How entry to the two offices was made was not disclosed.

National Heads Of Eagles Lodge Facing Charges

OTTAWA, Ohio, March 10.—(AP)—The grand jury today indicted three national officers of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and one state officer on charges ranging from publicizing a lottery to blackmail.
The officers and the indictments against them:
Matthew L. Brown of Springfield, administrative director of the Grand aerie, three indictments charging publicizing a lottery and one indictment charging aiding and abetting blackmail.
Joseph Kellner of Springfield, state Eagles secretary, three indictments charging publicizing a lottery.
Joseph A. Gunderman of St. Mary's O., deputy grand worthy president and Ohio deputy auditor of the Eagles, three indictments— one charging blackmail, one charging publicizing a lottery and one doing business as agent for an out-of-state corporation not licensed to do business in Ohio.
Barnett H. Goldstein of Portland, Ore., Grand aerie legal adviser, one indictment charging doing business as an agent of an out-of-state corporation not licensed to do business in Ohio.
Attorney Goldstein, speaking for all four men, asked for a postponement of arraignment. The court set April 10 as arraignment date and set bond at $2000 each.
Nine members of the Blanchard aerie of the Eagles lodge in Ottawa signed the bonds. The Blanchard aerie seceded from the Grand aerie a month ago, but the nine bondsmen kept their national membership.

Bids Sought For New Douglas County Home

National bank, Medford upon a $50 deposit for each.
Levy Spans Two Years
Douglas county voters approved a four-mill levy for a two-year period to raise money with which to build the home. During the current fiscal year, this levy, based upon the present assessed valuation, will raise $225,000, according to members of the court.
While no estimate has been announced as to the cost of the home, it is expected to be considerably less than first anticipated. If bids are sufficiently low, the amount of money to be raised during the second fiscal year, starting July 1, will be proportionately reduced.
Arrangements will be made to furnish and equip the home as soon as possible after it is built.
The U. S. Soil Conservation Service says that if a two-inch rain would raise seven inches of soil three feet into the air.

Seattle Lumberman Dies Here on Buying Trip

Lester W. Stuebel, 59, of Seattle, Wash., died Thursday afternoon in the local hospital after a short illness. A lumber broker and senior partner in the Stuebel-Mitchell Lumber company, he was in Roseburg on a lumber buying trip. He was a member of the Washington Athletic club of Seattle.
He was born Nov. 20, 1890, and is survived by his widow, Rose; a daughter, Daisy, both of Seattle; a brother, Ed of Everett, Wash., and a sister, Mrs. Mary Carpenter, also of Everett.
The body is being sent to Seattle by the Roseburg Funeral home for funeral services and interment.

Lumber Trailer Wrecks City Zone

WEAVERVILLE, Calif., March 9.—(AP)—A big trailer loaded with lumber, snapped loose from a speeding truck, wrecked a large section of the Weaverville business district Tuesday night.
No one was injured but damage was estimated at about $50,000.
Witnesses said the truck, driven by Anthony M. Moreno, 30, of Los Angeles, roared into Weaverville at a speed of 70 miles an hour. Just as it entered the main street business section the trailer came loose.
It careened into buildings lining the street and:
Ripped out the fronts of five stores.
Jerked out by the roots—a full grown locust tree.
Broke a water main.
Snapped power lines, leaving the area without power for two hours.
Tore off the famous spiral staircase of the Native Sons hall—a landmark since gold rush days.
Moreno finally managed to stop his truck a mile beyond the scene of the accident. Police, who hadn't yet determined just what caused the accident, said Moreno might be cited for driving with inadequate brakes.

Sander, Freed Of Murder, Faces Health Board Next

I have ever received. I don't know if I can express any happier thoughts than that."
Chutch Bells Sound Acclaim
The din outside the courthouse at announcement of the verdict was only a forerunner to what took place in the sprawling countryside.
They started ringing the bell in the Congregational church across from the Sander home at 7 p. m. The peeling sound reverberated through the hills until the bell rope snapped.
That didn't stop the impromptu celebration. Three boys climbed up in the steeple and kept the gong clanging by pushing the bell.
The Baptist church in East Candia and the Methodist church in Candia village joined in the bell-ringing, and about 50 automobiles outside the Sander home let go with a steady, accompanying toot.
Dr. Sander has not been practicing since he was indicted. He said in a brief statement he hoped to practice again within a "few weeks."
Although the trial was being watched as a possible test of eu-

Springfield To Have Its Own Power System

SPRINGFIELD, March 10.—(AP)—The city expects to be selling municipal power sometime this year. The city council has awarded contracts for immediate construction of "backbone" electric distribution system and purchase of transportation and maintenance equipment.
Chances of the city purchasing the Mountain States Power Co. electric distribution facilities appeared this week to be rapidly flickering out, although the door is still open for purchase negotiations, according to city officials.
City manager Fred Cheatham said the council had studied the problem carefully before awarding the contracts and members are convinced that the Mountain State's system would have to be completely rehabilitated if the city bought it.
Contracts were given to Montgomery Electric Co. of Portland for erection of the distribution system, on a low bid of $177,769 and other contracts for equipment were signed with A. B. Scarlett of Eugene and Roots and Schetky, Inc. of Portland.

Escaped Convict Caught In Chase

GAYLORD, Mich., March 10.—(AP)—State police engaged in an hour-long pre-dawn chase on northern Michigan roads today to recapture a fleeing criminal.
Cop killer Alcide (Frenchy) Benoit, life termer who figured in one of Michigan's cruelest crimes 13 years ago, set off the chase.
The 36-year-old convicted murderer fled from a police convoy carrying out a transfer of prisoners.
Although handcuffed, Benoit stole a police car about 2 a. m. and raced 20 miles along a dark highway before another officers' car overtook him.
In the car, police said, were two axes which they reported Benoit had obtained by breaking into a shack in his wild flight.

The convict went to prison for life in 1937 in the sadistic killing of a state policeman. The slaying had spurred one of Michigan's greatest manhunts.
On Jan. 19, 1937, trooper Richard Hammond picked up Benoit on a road near Monroe in southern Michigan for routine questioning. Later Hammond, shackled to a tree, was found shot to death.
Benoit went to prison on a first degree murder conviction.

Lumber Worker's Status At Issue In Security Quiz

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—Lumber industry spokesmen Wednesday protested that the new definition of an "employee" in a proposed Social Security bill "would jeopardize the status of independent contractors."
Witnesses objected to plans to permit workers now considered "self-employed" to be reclassified so they can be covered by the old age and survivors insurance program.
They appeared before the Senate finance committee which is studying a House-passed bill to extend Social Security benefits to certain groups of persons now uncovered.
Senator Tobey (R-NH) said New Hampshire lumber and pulpwood operators "object strongly to any change in the present common-law rules applicable in determining the employer-employee relationship."
John B. Veach, speaking for the National Lumber Manufacturers association, said the proposed change would "leave the determination of employee status almost entirely to the judgment of or whim of Federal Administrative officials."
Tobey said much of the forest industry in his state is operated by small independent contractors or subcontractors who are hired by owners.
The industry expressed fear the proposed change in the definition of employees will result in the contractors and their workers all becoming "employees" of the larger companies.
"The big contractors do not want this change and the little businessmen do not want it," Tobey said.
Similar objections to the new provisions were voiced by George Beardmore Lewiston, Idaho, and George M. Fuller of Washington, of the association; and by Walter Pringle, Jr., of Charleston, S. C.

ENDEARING YOUNG CHARM

Nothing seems more important to the adolescent girl in the family than having a room of her very OWN. It must be more than just a bedroom. It should be an attractive retreat where she can withdraw to dream and ponder. A study nook. A place to throw a slumber party. Above all, it should be individualized just for HER.

In the above sketch checked gingham and ingenuity have combined to achieve an effect as young as Springtime. One entire wall has been covered with blue and white checked gingham. (There's a special fabric paste for this.) The other walls have been painted a deep blue—a striking background for the gingham curtains with wide white ruffles, and gingham lamp shades.
