AROUND THE STUDIO: Mr. Henry "Bud" Chandler Jr., radio director for the Southern Oregon Publishing company, made a two-day visitation to KRNR this week going over future plans with Manager Leroy Hiatt for bigger and better programming for KRNR listeners . . . Ever try to talk for long with a headful of novacaine and a mouthful of cotton packing . . . right after having two teeth extracted? "Ain't easy" . . . says announcer Bob McCarl. But the uncomplaining McCarl went straight through his announce shift all day Wednesday under such circumstances without a mishap! . . . They tried to get Lyle Fenner into Miller's hair-styling event the eve of Spring Opening . . . his hair was beginning to curl becomingly about his face . . . but Fenner broke down and got a hair-cut.

SATURDAY: Victor Herbert's "Irish Rhapsody" and the waltz from Tschaikowsky's "Serenade in C Major" will be highlighted by Alfred Wallenstein and the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra on "Symphonies for Youth" (10:30-11:30 a.m.) The Moussorgsky-Ravel "Pictures at an Exposition" will also be featured. Senator Karl E. Mundt (Rep.) of South Dakota will be the guest for this week's "Meet the Press" session (7:30-8:00 p.m.) He will be interviewed by May Craig, of the Portland, Me., Herald News; Ernest K. Lindley, of Newsweek magazine; William White, of the N. Y. Times and Peter Edson, of N. E. A. Lawrence Spivak, editor, American Mercury magazine, will moderate. Please note that "Meet the Press" will be heard one hour earlier this Saturday only. Stay tuned Saturday night for the Oregon State Class "A" basketball finals (8:45 p. m. to conclusion).

When asked whether he kissed the Blarney stone while a chunk of that famous rock was in Roseburg, Lawson's Del McKay replied: "Nope! Who wants a kiss second-hand? I'd rather kiss someone who'd kissed the Blarney stone!" . . . And that's no Blarney.

ROBERT HORD
(Picture by James Abresch)

The first in a series of three concerts, sponsored in Roseburg by the Friends of Music group, will be heard Sunday at 3 p.m., when Robert Hord, pianist, appears at the First Baptist church.

Now a member of the University of Oregon school of music faculty, Hord was born in Kansas City, Mo. He attended grade school and began the first musical instruction under the guidance of his mother his first year of high school. This was continued in Dallas, Texas, where he moved with his family.

He won the Texas State Federation of Music clubs award during his senior year, after which he seriously embarked upon a course of study in music.

He graduated from Southern Methodist university in 1938 with honors, was a scholarship student all that time and studied with Paul van Katwijk, a pupil of Leopold Goldowski. The following year he won a fellowship at the Juilliard graduate school in piano under James Friskin. He was the first second-year student to play with the graduate school orchestra. He graduated in 1942.

Hord's teaching experience includes the Manhattan School of Music in New York; Shorter college, Rome, Ga.; University of Chattanooga, Chattanooga, Tenn.; summer faculty at U.S.C.; and at present is on the University of Oregon staff.

Navy Secretary Says 'We Must Be Ready For War'

BROOKLINE, Mass. — (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Francis P. Matthews says "we must be ready for war" because "our peacetime attitude will no longer serve our nation's needs."

Speaking at the annual veterans night of the Brotherhood of Temple Ohabei Shalom, Matthews said:

"Successful world conquest under the banner of atheistic Communism must never be permitted to happen. Yet, it cannot be prevented by mere wishful thinking.

"Communism recognizes but one restraining influence to halt its progress. That is the might of military power.

"In the uncertainty of our position, there is but one thing we can do. We must be prepared for the most fearful possible development. We must be ready for war, when and if it comes."

The secretary portrayed the Russians as "apparently waiting for a suitable moment to strike."

"Because we cannot predict when that moment will arrive," he said, "we, and our democratic associates throughout the world, seek for significant signs that would reveal their carefully concealed intentions. Few signs of much value have so far appeared."

Will Charges Temple Professor Kept 'Prisoner'

RENO, Nev., March 17.—(AP)—Charges that Temple university kept a noted Philadelphia surgeon a virtual prisoner in his last years and gave him "exaggerated personal attention" in order to win his wealth were made by the man's daughter in a will contest action here.

The action by Mrs. Janice Chase King of Silver Springs, Md., was filed Tuesday. Attorneys indicated it was the first legal step toward having set aside the $1,400,000 in gifts of the surgeon, Dr. Theodore Chase, 84, to Temple.

The court action was directed toward the remainder of the estate attorneys estimated this at only about $3,400. Dr. Chase's will bequeathed all but $1,000 to Temple.

Mrs. King charged that her father was kept in a special room adjoining the office of Dean William Parkinson, head of Temple's medical school, and was "subjected to elaborate manifestations of veneration."

Guncotton is usually made by treating cotton linters with a mixture of nitric and sulfuric acids.
