Sidelights..

Here and There

Artists and musicians was poetic over the approach of spring but they have nothing on the Roseburg Woman's club who transformed the whole of Douglas county in a springlike mood Wednesday and Thursday of this week with their annual Spring flower show.

As Mrs. Earl Bliele said yesterday morning, "I would have loved to move this 'March garden' into a nook of my own." And wouldn't all of us? The result of community cooperation on that corner of the Methodist church warranted all the praise it received. A mossy rug underfoot and a multitude of flowers greeted the eye while a background of greenery made a climax to a successful first venture for the Garden department of the Woman's club.

Doubtless most flower lovers visited the flower show and those who did not really missed an opportunity. The whole show showed forthrightly and plenty of hard work, and the finished product was indeed pleasing.

Camellias were much in evidence and despite a hard winter the flowering shrub came through in numbers and usual beauty. Mrs. Foster Butner's azaleas formed an exceptional touch of color; G. P. Hindsdale's anemones, the interesting lily from Jamaica, caused much conversation.

And did you notice the magnolia Rusticana rubrum—the colorings on the petals were indeed enough to stir artistic temperaments; Mrs. P. E. Beaver took several pieces of driftwood and fastened a centerpiece of extreme interest; Audrey Powell's little wishing well with an elf asleep beneath a bit of greenery delighted the youngsters as well as adults. And patience personified! Growing hyacinths from seed was Alice Ueland's outstanding exhibit.

Mildred Jenkins combined weeping cherry with camellia for a centerpiece in cut glass container, for one of the table arrangements. And time green table service and silver from Lawson's jewelry store complimented an arrangement of camellias and spirea by Edna Berg.

Dark purple hyacinths and forsythia arranged by the Walt Edmonds combined to make a striking exhibit. Mrs. J. M. Boyles and Mrs. H. G. Powell entered miniature exhibits.

Especially interesting was the brown and green bowl of Emperor's Crown lilies with a matching bowl of astir exhibited by Pearl Carter. From the activity at the flower and shrub table the Roseburg gardens will be a bloom this summer. And the candy counter also showed a booming business.

Flowers take one's mind to weddings and an approaching date is that of Sallie Ann Stanley. Her mother, Lola Turner Stanley and the bride-elect have returned from Portland where Miss Sallie recently attending interesting doings at St. Helen's Hall. Mrs. Stanley added that one of her cousins was a student at St. Helen's in the 1890's.

Friends here receive news that Lou Hershey is planning to take a summer course at University of Missouri at St. Louis and continue her study of dietetics.

"Enchanted Evening" was the theme of the junior-senior prom at the high school last Friday night. Members of the junior class spent several days turning the gymnasium into a medieval castle background and a false ceiling of purple and white streamers added to the festivity. The Elks club orchestra furnished music. Miss Barbara West headed a large group of class members as general chairman.
