

The Real Thing

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 3.—German newspaper readers got their eyes full of flying saucers today.

published a picture of a tiny, aluminum covered man it said was removed from a saucer which crash-landed. The report said an American anti-aircraft sergeant shot the saucer down and the picture showed two persons holding the little aluminum man by the hand.

A Frankfurt newspaper told all about other winged saucers which had been found around in the United States, quoting such authorities as "the American Aeronautical Institute."

German newspapers always have just loved April Fool's day.

Candidate For U. S. Senate To Speak Tonight

Longmont, Colo., April 3.—(AP)—Practically everybody in the Longmont area above the crawling age turned eyes skyward Saturday hoping for another glimpse of the silver object a lot of them said they've seen.

A cloudy haze spread a gray curtain this morning over the sky to the southwest. That's where the silvery disk was seen three days in a row.

Bernard Fallor, editor of the Longmont Time-Call, said he saw it, but had no idea what it was—or is.

Damon Runyan, a civil engineer, and Budd Spiller, water department superintendent, were among others who said they saw it near this northern Colorado town.

Runyan loaded a transit into a jeep yesterday and drove into the country for a better view.

Panty-Popping Charge Laid To School Teacher

EUPAULA, Okla., (AP)—The panty-popping episode which allegedly took place in a country schoolhouse is due for a grand jury probe today.

The investigation climaxes a series of court actions by McIntosh county attorney Jimmy Whiteley against W. E. Dickey, 53-year-old teacher.

District Judge W. A. Lackey has also ordered an investigation of Whiteley's office, a step the 28-year-old prosecutor says he welcomes.

Dickey continues to teach in the two-room Cathey school near here after pleading innocent to charges he snapped the elastic in girl pupils' panties. He is free on $3,000 bond. After reviewing the case, the school board refused to oust him.

Kellogg Grange Members Hear Farm Problem Talk

Eugene Fisher reported on farm problems at the meeting of Kellogg grange, No. 811 Saturday, March 25 with Master Grant Madison presiding. R. A. and Melvina Redfield were given the obligation.

Announcement was made by Emma Madison, home economics club chairman of the meeting, April 20 with sack luncheon at noon. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beckley and Mr. and Mrs. Irl Binder were appointed to serve refreshments at the next grange meeting, April 8. Alvin Kesterson led a discussion of the garbage disposal problem.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schadd, Warren Schadd and Laurence Madison served refreshments at the close of the grange meeting. The officers practiced the seating drill.

'Silver Object' Seen In Colorado

LONGMONT, Colo., April 3.—(AP)—Practically everybody in the Longmont area above the crawling age turned eyes skyward Saturday hoping for another glimpse of the silver object a lot of them said they've seen.

A cloudy haze spread a gray curtain this morning over the sky to the southwest. That's where the silvery disk was seen three days in a row.

Bernard Fallor, editor of the Longmont Time-Call, said he saw it, but had no idea what it was—or is.

Damon Runyan, a civil engineer, and Budd Spiller, water department superintendent, were among others who said they saw it near this northern Colorado town.

Runyan loaded a transit into a jeep yesterday and drove into the country for a better view.

He admitted a lot of guesswork was involved but estimated the silver ball was 20 to 30 miles away and travels into an elliptical circle at a speed of 300 feet per minute.

Authorities at Colorado and Denver universities said if the object is a balloon, it is none of theirs'. The Denver weather station said the same thing.

Oh, Shay, She Can't See Him; Hillbilly Singer Wants Mate Who's Not After Her Money

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP)—Dorothy Shay would like to settle down and have four children.

The "Park avenue hillbilly" has traveled some 15,000 miles in a 40-week tour of the nation's supperclub circuit. That makes a home and marriage sound mighty restful.

But Miss Shay, whose gusty tunes have skyrocketed her to the top income brackets, has found it easier to sing about "that man" than to find him in real life.

"I'm an eligible bachelor girl," she grimaced, "but if you put it that way it sounds like I'll pay all the bills."

And that's one of her troubles. When a girl earns up to $5,000 a week or more she still wants to be loved for herself alone—not just as a meal ticket for a lary male goldigger.

"When a man starts talking to me about things like community property laws, I just naturally lose interest," said Dorothy.

What kind of man does she want? Miss Shay talked about that as she waited to start her evening show in the Waldorf's wedding room.

"You think of so many things wrong with them while you're going with them," she smiled.

"After your first romance, your idea of tall, dark and handsome goes out the window."

"Usually I don't care particularly for handsome men—they're too vain. I don't like them sloppy either."

"I hate a man who goes into a night club and doesn't tip properly or who is sarcastic to the waiter. I don't like name-droppers, fellows who are always mentioning celebrities in their conversation. That's repulsive."

"And I can't abide men who hold hands and smooch in public. Jealous men, men who can't hold their drinks, and men who wear tight-fitting suits."

"I guess the longer you wait the harder you are to please."

Miss Shay had noted so many things wrong with men I asked her what she thought was right about them.

"How much time do you have?" she laughed.

And what about her own matrimonial attributes? Here is Dorothy's list:

"Well, I think I'd be a good mother—I love children, and I'd like to have four."

"I can't cook, I can't read music, I can't ice skate, I can't kiss my elbow, and I can't use my left hand well. But I can sing some, and I can swim."

"Nothing else?"

"O, yes," she said, "I can put both my legs around my neck when I'm dressed for it. I'm double-jointed."

Whoever does marry Dorothy can be sure of one thing—he'll have a gal with a sense of humor. And he can be sure of another thing, too. He'll have to have a job of his own.

No girl wants to keep up the department of internal revenue—and a husband, too.

Secretary Lists Defense Purposes

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, April 3.—(AP)—U. S. Defense Secretary Louis Johnson Saturday set three objectives for the 12-nation North Atlantic defense program.

"First, we seek to deter aggression; second, to defend ourselves; and finally, to defeat the aggressor if he forces war upon us," Johnson told the third session of defense ministers from the nations signing the North Atlantic treaty.

The ministers met here at Juliana barracks to adopt an overall unified military defense plan.

Johnson, opening the meeting of the ministers' committee as its chairman, said his colleagues from western Europe that they were "exercising the right of all men to prepare to defend themselves."

"Our plans are defense plans and we are ready to make the sacrifices that are required to maintain a sufficiency of preparedness," he continued.

"Now let us get on with the urgent business that the free peoples of the western world have entrusted to us. And let us do it well. Let us work for peace through strength—the best guarantee for the protection of our freedom and our way of life."

Ministers from ten other pact nations gathered with their advisers at the council table following private talks with one another.

BILL DISLIKED

NEW YORK, April 3 — (AP)—A bill aimed at making it illegal to charge two admissions for split doubleheaders was termed "un-constitutional" and "discriminatory" today by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The bill, passed by both Houses of the state legislature at Albany and now on Governor Dewey's desk for his signature, is designed to stop the Dodgers from the practice of charging for two games a day.

"Our plans are defense plans and we are ready to make the sacrifices that are required to maintain a sufficiency of preparedness," he continued.

"Now let us get on with the urgent business that the free peoples of the western world have entrusted to us. And let us do it well. Let us work for peace through strength—the best guarantee for the protection of our freedom and our way of life."
