TOASTMISTRESS MEETING IS HELD TUESDAY NIGHT AT CARL'S HAVEN

The Toastmistress club met at Carl's Haven Tuesday evening with Opal Tuttle, president, in charge of the session and also giving the invocation. Mrs. Jack Meyers was topic mistress. Each member gave a one minute talk on "My favorite book."

Toastmistress, Mrs. Edward Tauscher, introduced the speakers for the evening. Mrs. Herman Matloff gave a very interesting talk on "Shorthand," illustrating the kinds of shorthand, demonstrating with the stenotype machine of the code that has to be learned in order to operate the machine and of the correct position to avoid fatigue for the time one has to spend on this work.

The next speaker was Mrs. Thomas E. Patty, who gave a talk on "My County and My Home Town," in which she described the beauty of the English countryside in which she lived; of the architecture of many buildings including the churches and of the beautiful mansion called Shardeoles, home of the Drakes—the Sir Francis Drake of Elizabethan days. In this county of Buckinghamshire, there is a country home of the Prime Minister, which is called "Chequers." The speaker showed many pictures of the quaint and very beautiful town.

Third speaker was Mrs. Daniel Dimick, who talked on "Children Behind Bars." This speech was the same she will give in the contest to be held today, April 15, in Eugene. The subject for all contestants being "Progressing Through Enlightenment." Mrs. Dimick's talk was very impressive, proving these children need a great deal of help to keep them on the right road and out of the detention homes and jails. All members wished Mrs. Dimick success in the contest.

Toastmistress trophy was presented to Mrs. Dimick for the best talk of the evening.

Two guests, Mrs. Celia Day (guest of Mrs. Jack Meyers) and Mrs. Otto G. Garrett (guest of Mrs. Edward Tauscher) were present.

The next meeting will be April 25, with the Toastmasters of Roseburg as guests. Reservations are to be made by April 24 by calling Mrs. Opal Tuttle, 1019-J, evenings.

ULAH RHODEN SCHOOL OF BALLET TO PRESENT BALLET APRIL 28-29TH

The Ulah Rhoden School of Ballet will present its third annual ballet April 28th and April 29th at eight o'clock at the Junior high school auditorium.

Four ballets will be presented both nights and will include, "Fritolito," a fast-moving, gay and colorful ballet; "A Bedtime Story," with children from four to eight years of age and featuring Esther Geddes as narrator with accompaniment on the Hammond organ; "Coppelia" or the "Doll with the Enamel Eyes" which is a well-loved ballet classic; and "The Sea Symphony," which is entirely different from the other ballets on the program. It is the story of a poor little raggedy girl who is unhappy by the teasing of rich children. She falls asleep upon the shore. A tidal wave and ocean nymphs carry her under the sea to the golden sea goddess who weaves a spell over her and she changes into a nymph of the sea with many friends. A sea festivity includes the dances of sea shells, goldfish, sea horses, sun fish, octopuses, shark maiden, ocean bubbles and electric eels.

Seventy dancers will participate in the program. Their ages range from two to twenty. Tickets are now on sale at Lowell's or may be purchased from the ballet students.

NOTICE

Social items not appearing in today's newspaper will be used the first of the week. The remainder of the social calendar will be printed Monday.

"I just got a DIAMOND BARGAIN . . ."

(Maybe so, but you can't tell by just looking!)

Unless this young man has had considerable gemological training and experience, it is unlikely that he "got a diamond bargain."

Because the diamond market is very consistent and because diamonds are sold steadily, there is seldom a BARGAIN in diamonds. A "bargain" is most often a compromise with quality.

The size (carat weight) is not the only gauge of diamond value. The color, cutting and relative freedom from inclusions are all determinants of the price.

Most jewelers carry in their stock, diamonds of all grades. Stones used in pins, bracelets and earrings are usually not as fine as those used for engagement rings. By using less expensive grades of diamonds any jeweler can offer so-called "diamond bargains."

At Knudtsons, we allow you to view your diamond magnified through the diamond-scope. We encourage questions regarding their make and price.
