Big Ten Bans TV Broadcasts For 1950 Football Season

CHICAGO, April 17.—(AP)—The powerful Big Ten, whose athletic policies usually keynote the trend for the nation's other major conferences, has barred live television of all its 1950 football games.

In the first concerted move to prohibit on-the-spot video, the Big Ten concluded that the entire future of intercollegiate athletics is endangered by TV.

The decision of athletic directors figures to cost the western conference and its member schools an estimated $500,000 in TV revenue rights that could have been sewed up in 1950.

Some of this, however, may be recovered by the new policy of allowing complete films of games to be televised the following day. Movies of Saturday's contests could not be released before 6 p.m. on Sundays.

NCAA Sits In
Significantly, the three-man TV study committee on the NCAA sat in on the Big Ten parley.

Athletic Director Tom Hamilton of Pittsburgh, a member of the group which is making a survey to submit to the annual NCAA convention next January at Dallas, said:

"We obtained much information to consider in our recommendation to the NCAA. We will check all sections of the country before the 1950 football season, during it and after it."

At its 1950 convention in New York, the NCAA instructed members to limit commitments to one year.

Fritz Crisler, Michigan athletic director, said that a midwest report made by Ted Payson of Northwestern showed that TV "did not affect attendance last year" when all Big Ten schools except Iowa, Indiana and Purdue televised.

"Will This Year?"
"But the opinion was unanimous 'at it would this year,'" he declared. "We are concerned primarily with football. That's our family jewels—it has to carry all the athletic load."

A Big Ten statement said "television definitely will have an adverse effect on attendance. It will affect the contest that is being televised as well as other contests in the reception area.

"Inasmuch as the entire intercollegiate programs of most institutions are dependent upon receipts from football games, and inasmuch as conference institutions believe they are obligated to finance and conduct the most comprehensive athletic programs possible for their student bodies, it is the conclusion that the entire future of intercollegiate athletics should not be endangered by this new medium."

The Big Ten plans to meet again next spring to map a 1951 television policy.

Tests Underway For Steelhead

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—What is the steelhead: A sea-going trout or a separate species of fish?

The State Game commission is determined to get a conclusive answer to that long-standing question, an answer that may improve fishing greatly in Oregon's coastal streams.

The commission's experts think they know the answer now, but they have selected some proving waters—the Alsea river, where they have released 25,000 marked rainbow trout.

If the rainbows become steelhead and in large numbers, then happy days are ahead for the coastal fisherman. That's because the steelhead is a fall-spawning fish, easy and inexpensive to raise.

H. J. Rayner, operations chief for the commission's fisheries division, says the evidence now indicates the steelhead is nothing but a rainbow trout who has been to sea.

Six years ago the commission marked rainbow trout in the Clackamas river. Eight of them later turned up as steelhead.

Rayner said many rainbow apparently remain in the river. Others, however, go to salt water. When they return, the male develops a red streak down the side and the female gets a pinkish cast, he said.

The big question that the Alsea river will answer is how many of the rainbow will go to sea and return as steelhead, Rayner said.

Moonshine Prices Up

TOLEDO, Ore.—(AP)—Two men arrested near here Thursday in a raid on a home with a still used in making moonshine were fined a total of $400 and costs Saturday by Justice of Peace Earl P. Conrad.

Walter Huttinette, the owner of the house, and Ray Nelson pleaded guilty to charges of operating an unregistered distillery and possession of moonshine whiskey.

Guy Griswold of the State Liquor Control commission, a sheriff's deputy and a state policeman made the raid.

In urging greater use of bird dogs to retrieve, game officials say 11.5 percent of the ducks shot on Utah's marsh lands are not recovered.
