Sidelights..

Here and There

Sunshine and flowers add up to a romantic setting and many hearts and minds are turning to thoughts of weddings these early spring days.

At the Hunnicutt-Schultz wedding recently the bride tossed her bouquet in traditional manner. Quite appropriately it was caught by her sister, Joan, who is engaged to be wed in June.

At the bridal shower Saturday evening for Fredricka Hamilton the eleventh gift was opened and the card revealed the donor to be another member of the younger set who is romantically inclined these days—Marian Schlatter.

The Hunnicutt-Schultz wedding was indeed a thing of beauty and the many pictures taken will be cherished forever by the couple. Impromptu shots, the wedding table, the bride's parents, leaving the church and the wedding party all add up to a treasure of memories.

The bridesmaids formed a colorful background for the wedding party with their bouffant white organdies over lavender and yellow. Headbands of daisies and their fan-shaped bouquets of daisies and white stocks carried out the color scheme of the wedding table. Mrs. E. N. Kaser had fashioned a large white organdie cloth with deep ruffle to cover the wedding table.

Getting back to the approaching Hamilton nuptials, which will be an event of May 21, Fredricka and her fiancé, Claude Hicks have been more than busy these past few months. Under construction in North Roseburg is their new home. Traveling between Roseburg and Eugene over weekends, where she holds a full-time job with the League of Oregon Cities has kept the bride-elect busy to say the least.
