Canyonville City Recorder Calls Voters To Register

Registration cards have been received by Canyonville's City Recorder Laura Goodell and she urges all eligible voters to come to her office and register as soon as possible as no one will be able to vote in any city election unless he has filled out registration card at her office. The first election to come up will be on the budget and will be in the next month or two; definite date will be announced later.

The qualifications of a city voter are as follows: The person must be over 21 years of age, a citizen of the U. S., must have been a legal bona fide resident of the city of Canyonville for at least 30 days prior to date of registration, must be a legally qualified voter of the state of Oregon, must register at the office of the city recorder at least 10 days prior to the date of any city election.

Mrs. Goodell said only about 35 persons had registered by Monday.

Highway Development Studied At Canyonville

Thomas Martin of the Oregon State Highway department, Salem, attended the city of Canyonville council meeting last week and brought with him a map of the proposed highway through Canyonville. There was discussion about an underpass on First and Wall streets which the council members would like to have but there was no mention of it on the map. No definite answer was given by Martin as to whether the approach would be granted. He advised the state highway department was meeting April 24 and 25 in Salem.

Mayor "Pop" Green was authorized to be the city building inspector to succeed Chas. Ferguson. Canyonville will be on daylight saving time, effective April 30.

Fred Elliott, water superintendent, was given permission to hire three men to clean the city dam, which was done the next day.

Library Receives Drawings For Story On Horses

Muriel Mitchell, city librarian, announced today that the Roseburg Public library has received a display of the original black and white drawings by artist Pers Crowell, used to illustrate the library's latest story about horses.

Displayed in the library's children's reading room, the eight drawings depict some of the contents of the book, "A Horse for Peter," written especially for young people.

Both the author and the artist are Oregonians. Crowell, born in Pasco, Wash., now owns the only advertising art service in Portland and is an instructor at the Portland Academy of Art, as well as the author-illustrator for several books for youngsters.

The author, Eleanor F. Brown, was also born in Washington but is now serving as Deschutes county (Ore.) librarian at Bend.

Miss Mitchell, who returned recently from a librarians' meeting in Bend, told Miss Brown the publishers, the Carl Messner company, indicated that the Roseburg library would be the first in Oregon to have the pictures on display. Miss Mitchell said the author-librarian envied the local library because even Miss Brown had not yet seen the illustrations for her own book.

Three Minor Traffic Accidents Reported

Chief of Police Calvin Baird reported three minor accidents today.

Cars operated by Charles Tass Boyd of Route 3, and Edwin Eugene Welton, Roseburg, collided, as Boyd was driving west on Oak street, and Welton came onto Oak from Sheridan. The right front fender of Boyd's car was damaged. Welton was cited for having no operator's license.

Cars of Samuel Jackson Macon, Roseburg, and Ralph C. Minor, Brockway, were involved in an accident as Macon pulled out from the curb on Jackson street just as Minor was passing. Macon was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way, said Baird.

Minor damage resulted when cars operated by Raymond J. Martin of Roseburg and Frank Dodson of route 1 came together at the intersection of Main and Douglas streets.

COFFEE AIDS SICK CALVES

ATKINSON, Nev.—(P)—Brother farmer, can you spare a cup of coffee for a sick calf? Albert Lemmer found it to be literally a life saver.

During a recent cold snap Lemmer found two newborn calves almost dead of exposure. He brewed a pot of coffee and fed it to them in a pop bottle.

Soon after the first calf got his coffee "it could stand up and bawl and I knew that it would make it," Lemmer said. Now the cattleman brews a fresh pot of coffee whenever he finds a newborn calf suffering from the effects of the weather.

VIDEO AIDS, HURTS GRADES

CHICAGO—(P)—Do long sessions at the television set result in lower marks for students? A yes-and-no answer comes from Philip Lewis, assistant principal of South Shore High School.

His survey included more than 500 youngsters who watch TV programs an average of 19 hours a week. The grades of juniors dropped eight and a half percent, but the grades of seniors went up. Lewis found that television was helpful in such senior year subjects as history, civics, literature and drama.

A resolution calling for higher standards of teacher certification was revised by a floor motion to include expansion of teacher training to the university, Oregon State and Vanport college. This had been proposed Monday to the State Board of Higher Education and the board yesterday voted to make a decision in June.

A single slate of officers has been nominated for the four posts open this year. Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, Eugene, is the candidate for president. Floor nominations may be made at the time of balloting.

Swedish Expert Says U. S. Plane Victim Of Reds

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, April 26—(P)—A Swedish naval staff expert expressed the opinion today that the Russians shot down the missing U. S. Navy Privateer plane 28 miles outside the 12-mile limit claimed by the Soviets in the Baltic.

The officer, Cmdr. Stellan Hermlin, head of the shipping section of the Swedish naval staff, said in an interview he believed the wrecked undercarriage of a plane found in the Baltic yesterday was from the missing navy patrol plane.

He said he based his estimate of the crash spot on prevailing water currents and winds in the Baltic at this time of year. He estimated that the plane was shot down almost 40 miles straight west of Polangen, on the coast of Soviet-occupied Lithuania.

The United States has charged that the unarmed patrol plane with 10 men aboard, was shot down on April 5 over the Baltic. Russia contended a B-29 trying to photograph Soviet military installations exchanged fire with Soviet fighters which chased it away from Latvian territory near Libau.

A yellow rubber suit, possibly from the missing plane, was found today on the beach of the Danish island of Langeland. The suit, wrapped in a rubber bag that could be used as a hood, had not been in the water very long, police said.

The aircraft undercarriage, picked up by a Swedish fisherman south of Gotland island, was due in Stockholm tonight for forwarding to American authorities at Port Lyautey, Morocco, the home base of the missing navy plane.

An informant who saw the plane undercarriage aboard ship, said he noticed one hole in one of the tires but could not say what caused it. The Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter said the tire was riddled by bullets.

Electrical Union Affiliation At Stake In Ballot

PITTSBURGH, April 26—(P)—Two unions battling bitterly for control of the nation's electrical workers wind up hectic campaigns today to win Westinghouse Electric corporation's 35,000 employees.

Tomorrow, the National Labor Relations board will poll the Westinghouse workers at 40 plants in 32 cities.

That vote marks the first big test of strength in the six-month feud between the United Electrical Workers (U) (independent) and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

The results may well decide which union the other quarter-million workers in the industry will side with.

For more than a decade the UE was the top union in the industry which turns out America's radios, washing machines and other electrical units. Like the steelworkers and many other unions, the UE was affiliated with the CIO.

Then last year the CIO chopped off its electrical arm. The CIO accused the UE of left-wingism. After casting the UE adrift the CIO formed a new electrical workers' union—the IUE.

The IUE went out to enlist the UE's members. That's when the fight started.

Foreign Aid Cut Demanded By Taft

WASHINGTON, April 26—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) called today for a test of Congress' willingness to save money with a move to cut at least $500,000,000 off new foreign aid spending.

Taft told a reporter that if the senate won't vote to slice at least that amount off a pending bill which authorizes $3,372,450,000 in foreign recovery funds, "there won't be any substantial cut in the President's budget."

The senate resumes debate on the bill today with leaders hoping to reach a final vote before the week-end. Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations committee has predicted approval of the full amount.

The measure only puts a ceiling on foreign aid spending, with congress to provide the actual money in later appropriations bills. But Taft said that if the authorization wins approval in the full amount, there won't be much chance to save in the later money bills.
