A-Bombs For North Atlantic Allies Proposed

By MAX BOYD
WASHINGTON—(AP)—U. S. military officials are considering the idea that this country should arm its north Atlantic allies with atomic bombs.

Discussions are in the preliminary stage, and the military authorities are still far from a recommendation on which the president might base a proposal to Congress.

The idea of placing atomic bombs within reach of Britain, France and other allies is being explored thoroughly, however, and military arguments are developing both for and against it.

Advocates contend that Western Europe faster and cheaper than is possible with conventional weapons.

They argue that the job must be done in two years, the earliest time by which it is estimated Russia may have a stockpile of atomic bombs adequate for a major blow in an atomic war.

The proposal for A-bomb sharing, friends of the idea say, calls for a revolutionary concept of western defense. In brief this concept calls for replacing many expensive ground troops in Europe with bombing groups supplied with large arsenals of light weight atom bombs.

Advocates say such a plan could be put into effect quickly and at far less cost than conventional defenses, on which they argue Russia would like to see the West spend its resources.

The nearness of atomic supplies also might deter the Russians from launching an aggressive action, they contend.

U. S. military opponents of the plan argue:

(1) Atomic bombs would be safer and more certain of delivery in American hands.

(2) Internal politics in some countries now allied with the West might throw them into the Communist camp. Or, in case of war, some

(3) Secret information about American atomic weapons turned over to foreigners might leak to Russia.

Cab Fare 'Tip' Of $29,000 Upheld In Jury's Verdict

MIAMI, Fla., May 11. — (AP) — A criminal court jury decided that a Miami taxi driver received $29,160 as a tip on a $4 cab fare.

The six-man jury took only 30 minutes yesterday to uphold the contention of Joseph Alexander Morgan Jr., 30, that the money was a gift.

Morgan was accused of stealing the money from Joseph W. Standley, 32-year-old heir to a Detroit fortune. The jury found Morgan innocent.

Standley said he brought the money to Miami last December to buy a house.

He said he summoned Morgan's cab to drive a guest to the bus station and then found he had only a $500 bill to pay the $4 fare. They made the rounds of several bars and hotels without finding change.

Then Standley said he suggested that Morgan spend the night in his room until they could get change in the morning. He said when he awoke both Morgan, and the money were gone.

Morgan testified that when they reached Standley's room, the latter made improper advances. When he insisted on leaving he said Standley threw an envelope full of cash at him.

Standley reported the alleged theft the next day and Morgan was arrested at Elmira, N. Y., a few days later.

Scramble Follows
Yesterday's verdict touched off a scramble for the money, complicated by the fact that a cashier's check for $22,700, recovered when Morgan was arrested at Elmira, was stolen March 14 from the safe of Peace Justice Edwin Lee Mason in Miami. It has not been recovered and the bank had stopped payment.

Morgan's attorneys said they would seek to have the money turned over to their client. Standley's attorney said he would file action to recover the money for its original owner.

The Elmira bank, insisting on the return of the cashier's check, demands $40,000 bond to protect itself, regardless of the outcome. When Morgan was arrested he had $22,700 in his possession. The money was changed by police for the cashier's check, which was subsequently stolen.

Baptists Oppose Appointment Of Envoy To Vatican

CHICAGO, May 12. — (AP) — The southern Baptist convention does not want President Truman to send a presidential representative to the Vatican to succeed Myron Taylor.

The 10,000 delegates Wednesday unanimously passed a resolution urging the president "to immediately terminate the office of representative of our government to the Vatican and the embassy created by such appointment in 1939."

Such a post has been vacant since he resigned in January. "God bless you in your sessions," was the official greeting of the northern Baptists to the southern Baptists at their convention.

The southern assembly, which is holding its 93rd meeting north of the Mason-Dixon line for the first time, again will leave the traditional south next year when the convention meets in San Francisco June 20-24.

A petition from Alaska Baptists for membership in the Southern Baptist convention was received by the assembly yesterday.

The convention unanimously voted to buy Wake Forest college for $1,600,000 for use as a seminary. Spokesmen for the Baptists said the purchase would clear the way for acceptance of an offer of $12,000,000 from the Reynolds foundation.

The foundation was established by heirs of the Reynolds family tobacco fortune.

BOY DIES IN CURRENT

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 11.—(AP) — Three-year-old Ronnie Sparks and his sister, Linda, 9, went down yesterday to watch a turbulent, rain-swollen creek near their home.

They climbed out and sat down on a pipe spanning the stream near the water level.

Ronnie dangled his feet in the swift current.

Suddenly he slipped into the water and was hurled away like a chip. His sister told police he bobbed to the surface twice before he disappeared.

A fire department crew began a search for the body.

Juror Allowed To Milk His Cow; 11 Others Watch

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. — (AP) — The judge recessed the trial and told the jurors they would have to remain together overnight. Up spoke Juror Clifford Carter: "If your honor please, my cows have to be milked."

Judge Lewis H. Miller solved that one in a hurry.

He sent the whole jury out to Carter's farm, where the cows got milked under the supervision of Sheriff F. H. Morrison, a deputy and two state troopers.
