in a special message, he said the legislators failed to give "proper consideration" to federal agencies other than the army engineers when enacting the recent $1.700,000,000 rivers and harbors bill.

Mr. Truman signed the big bill last week. He said he did so because most of the work authorized "is based upon careful planning, and will be of lasting value as an investment in the developments and use of our national resources."

"In a number of particulars, however, the act is seriously deficient," his message said, "I expect to take such remedial action as is open to me, and I request further legislative action by the congress, to meet these deficiencies."

The president criticized parties LOS ANGELES, May 23.—[47]—
Claude ... Putnam, Keene, N. R., injustrialist and president of the National Association of Manufarturers, has addressed "an open letter to the workers of America," usging "some good old fashioned individual and collective soulsearching."

The president criticized particularly Congress' rejection of his proposal for the establishment of a Columbia Valley administration to supervise development work in Putnam yesterday told delegates to the NAM's 11th annual regional There are some labor leaders to supervise development work in the pacific northwest. He called this a "serious defect." Mr. Truman noted that he directed the army and the Interior department nearly three years ago to prepare a joint plan for the Columbia river basin.

He said they recommended a schedule of projects and a "basin account" to permit a unified operation of federal projects.

But the bill congress passed authorized only the army projects of the joint works, Mr. Truman said. "There are some labor leaders with whom we never will come to basic agreement. They have the fantastic notion that labor will be better off if we have Socialism, and they start out by demanding an equal voice in management affairs."

Most labor leaders, however, he Most labor leaders, however, he said, are working toward "legiti-mate objectives on which all of us c n agree—higher wages, shorter hours and better working condi-tions."

camp Fire Girls and Bluebirds in Douglas county began registration for summer camp Tyee sessions with their guardians Monday, Registration will continue through the week and girls are urged to register early in order to secure the week they wish.

Camp Fire Girls will enjoy summer camping from July 9 to 16 during the "earth maiden" session and July 16 to 23, "sky gypsies" session. Bluebirds may register for "water pixies" July 23 to 30 or during the "tree elves" week, July 30 to August 6.

Theme of the camp is "nature is where you find it" and promises to hold adventures for the girls throughout the entire month. Attractive folders have been issued the girls and contain pertinent camp information. Others are available at the Camp Fire office in Miller's Mercantile basement. Sunday a group of men drove to camp and not in a hard day.

Sunday a group of men drove to camp and put in a hard day of work clearing the parade grounds, burning brush and cutting trees. Working Sunday were Tom Par-geter, Walt Allen, Charles Collins, ER Parrons and familie Bay geter, Wait Allen, Charles Collins, R. R. Parsons and family, Ray Benson, Van Daugherty and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Thiele. The week previous saw power saws at work at the campsite.
