FALL ACTIVITIES OUTLINED FOR HOME EXTENSION UNIT AT MEETING WEDNESDAY

The Winston Home Extension unit held its last meeting of the summer season Wednesday, May 26, at the community hall on Grape avenue and an outdoor potluck luncheon was enjoyed at the noon hour. Mrs. Corinne MacTaggart was in charge of the program and presented a demonstration of how to mix cosmetics in the home at money-saving cost to homemakers. After the demonstration several members of the unit gave reports on the Home Extension work which was held recently at the Methodist Church in Roseburg. Later games, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Lee Walker, were enjoyed by members of the club.

The first fall meeting will be held in October. Many interesting topics are planned for the winter meetings, the president, Mrs. Daisy Fox, announced. Among them will be "Adequate Textile Planning," "Kitchen Arrangement," "Home Made Handbags," "Home Entertaining" and "Furniture Arrangement." "Cookies and Candies" will be the topic for December. Of interest to many was the announcement made by Mrs. MacTaggart that special sewing lessons will be offered in Roseburg during the winter months for anyone interested. These lessons will feature short-cuts which will simplify sewing for housewives. Classes will be arranged at a later date and it is planned that those who take these lessons will in turn present their findings to those within the Winston unit who are unable to attend the Roseburg classes.

All homemakers within the communities of Winston and Dainst are invited to join the local home extension unit at their October meeting.
