LILLIE'S FLOWER SHOP
819 Winchester Street

Sidelights..

Here and There

Music and flower vied for honors in Roseburg this past week. The rose and flower show, sponsored by Roseburg Woman's club, proved a highly successful affair and would have rivalled Portland's flower show in quality according to grapevine. And the Roseburg Choral society concluded their second year with an especially fine concert at junior high auditorium Thursday evening.

A varied program suited the likes of the attentive choral audience and the ease of the singers was much in evidence this year. Martha Jane Plimpton's piano solos added a special touch to the evening's program.

Martha Jane presented incidental music at the flower show Wednesday, which, despite unsettled weather, drew a record crowd. An added feature was a tea room where the spectators could pause for punch and a cookie.

Highlights were the tray of cherries, entered by Mrs. W. H. Carter. With the stems of the cherries all arranged by skillful fingers the cherries presented an intensely interesting display.

Mrs. W. H. Machen's basket of rosebuds; Mrs. W. Frank Brown's bouquet of pink and blue, grown at Days Creek; Floradora, roses about a map of Roseburg; Rubaiyat rosebuds arranged in a blue bowl by Mrs. Walt Edmonds; "Peace" and its various shadings; Mrs. R. L. Whipple's clematis; snapdragons and delphinium, C. E. Meyer's table of exhibits attracting a crowd at all times.

The crystal ball contained a flowery future for the Douglas County hospital grounds. The children's entries attracted considerable attention. As pretty as the roses were Bonnie Bellows and Carol Morley, candidates for Sutherlin's Timber queen, who were photographed against a background of Roseburg's flowers.

So it's roses to Mrs. J. M. Boyles and Mrs. H. G. Powell for the successful flower show.

Flowers winged their way across the country recently when a group of Roseburg friends wired Lou Hershey a corsage for her graduation from University of St. Louis. She received her degree in dietetics, June 4.

Two young pianist, Carolyn Pattison and Joan Phillips presented a recital Wednesday evening at the Homer Grow residence. Baby orchids to them for their difficult repertoire.

MARRIED IN PORTLAND May 27, at an 8 o'clock double ring ceremony at Bethlehem Lutheran church on East 39th, were Miss Betty Sinjem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sinjem, of Portland, and Don H. The bridegroom was graduated from Washington high school in Portland and is now employed at Pierce Auto Freight headquarters in Portland. They are now at home to friends at 1526 N. E. 13th street, Portland. (Picture by Everett F. Chandler, Portland.)

HONORED on their 50th wedding anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. E. Woodcock of Roseburg with members of the First Baptist church congregation entertaining at a surprise reception Sunday following the evening service. The affair was held in the church parlors. The Woodcock's only daughter, Mrs. James Hommel, of Portland, was present for the joyous occasion.

Mrs. William Doughty read an original poem in their honor. Mrs. Joseph Deets sang two very beautiful solos accompanied by Mrs. S. A. Warg, Mrs. C. H. Wickham, on behalf of the church, presented a lovely gift in gold to the honored couple.

Refreshments were served from an attractive table centered with gold-colored roses from the garden of Miss Gladys H. Strong. Mrs. L. L. Simmons and Mrs. Louis Kohlhagen Sr., poured. Refreshments were in charge of the Woman's Society headed by Mrs. Calvin Baird and Mrs. Clyde Crawford.

Mrs. Woodcock was lovely in a plaid-colored crepe dress with a rose corsage presented to her by Mrs. Alvin Tipton.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodcock were married June 3, 1900, in New Pine Creek, Ore., and came to Roseburg 25 years ago. Mr. Woodcock retired from business five years ago. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Saturday evening, June 3, at a 5 o'clock dinner at their home on West First street, having as guests their daughter, Mrs. Hommel of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doerner and daughter, Maureen. The Doerners celebrated their 19th wedding anniversary the same day. A beautiful wedding cake and yellow roses graced the table. The Woodcock's son, Virgil, called long distance from Philadelphia, Pa., to congratulate them upon the occasion. (Picture by Paul Jenkins.)

With a Diamond on Her Finger...

Because buying a diamond is a down to earth business, we recommend that you exercise restraining good judgment in the choice of the jeweler from whom you intend to buy it.

In short, we recommend CHOOSING JEWELERS
before CHOOSING GEMS.

Because the carat weight of a diamond is not the only gauge of diamond value, it is impossible for an untrained person to make a comparison of diamond values. He is, therefore, entirely dependent upon the advice of the jeweler.

If the young man about to buy a diamond needs advice he should ask his family lawyer or the banker where he does his banking or some other person who is in a position to know the qualifications of the various jewelers in the town.

It is our policy to explain the factors affecting diamond prices.

Feel free to ask us any questions you wish.
