

Marion County Achieves Wish—100,000 People

SALEM. —(AP)—Marion county achieved its wish to cross the 100,000 population mark, but it just barely made it.

Preliminary census figures give the county a population of 100,349. That is a 33.47 percent increase over 10 years ago.

The city of Salem has 40,017 persons living in Marion county.

Drivers Reminded Of 'Stop' Rules

The "dime" on which the average car can stop from a speed of 30 miles an hour would have to be 80 feet wide, the secretary of state's traffic safety division points out.

The division said too many Oregon drivers are forgetting there are three separate actions that must take place before a car can be brought to a stop from any given speed. First, the driver has to see and recognize the need to stop. After he does that, there's the half second or more interval called "reaction time" before he moves his foot from the gas pedal, and finally he applies the brakes. All this time, until the brakes finally stop the car, the driver is moving toward the thing he doesn't want to hit.

This means the average driver can stop an average car on dry level pavement in the following distances:

At 20 miles an hour—43 feet (including 22 feet of reaction time).

At 30 miles an hour—80 feet of reaction time).

At 40 miles an hour—128 feet (44

NINE SERGENATS from Roseburg and nearby communities were among the enlisted men to leave Friday night for Ft. Lewis and the annual two-week summer encampment of the 41st division. About 90 members of the Roseburg National Guard unit, Co. D, 186 Inf. Regt., joined 4,500 other soldiers from Oregon and Washington for the training session. Pope Canonizes Saint Who Defied Napoleon

VATICAN CITY, June 13.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII Sunday canonized the fourth new saint of the 1950 holy year and cited him as an example for churchmen persecuted by Communism.

The new saint was Vincenzo Maria Strambi, Italian bishop of Macerata and Tolentino, who was exiled after refusing to swear allegiance to Napoleon when his diocese was occupied in 1807.

"Remember that the church of God can be attacked but never can be defeated," said the pontiff in the ceremonies at St. Peter's basilica.

Napoleon, he continued, "who dared to think of reducing to his will priests and bishops and even the pope, after so many victories and so many triumphs was completely defeated" and turned to religion for the "supreme comfort."

Accident Kills Eugene Man

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. —(AP)—A blowout on the mountainous ridge route highway, which links this city with Los Angeles, caused a crash in which Cleo Infield, 69, lost his life.

Infield's automobile swerved off the road and struck a tree in the accident Wednesday night. Highway patrol officers said he was from Eugene, Ore. His wife, Josephine, was not hurt.

Another passenger in the north-bound car, Lydia Ann Lovett, 60, Hannibal, Mo., was injured slightly.
