Gorgeous George Beats Williams; Wallick Raps Foe

By CHUCK PLUMMER
A huge, standing-room only crowd turned out to see famous "Gorgeous George" and Eddie Williams in a match that featured one of the fastest falls ever recorded in the Roseburg armory Saturday night. In the preliminary bouts Leo Wallick defeated Howard Cantonwine. Gorgeous George's 230 pound trainer, and Dale Kiser won over rough Charley Carr.

In the first fall in the main event George coupled his villainous tactics with a punch to the stomach, a series of flying headlocks, and a body press. Due to the large crowd, the wrestlers had their five-minute rest period in the ring. When the bell sounded for the beginning of the second fall, Williams rushed out of his corner, grabbed George's beautiful golden locks and administered several knees to his face which knocked George flatly on the mat. Then Williams applied a bodypress to take the fall in the amazing time of 48 seconds.

This seemed to rile George very much. When Jeffries, his valet, brought his tray of perfume into the ring, he grabbed the tray, rushed over to Williams corner and hit him over the head with it.

At the start of the final fall, Williams again rushed out to George and worked him over with a series of elbowslams, but somehow in the melee, George got hold of Williams legs and pinned him with a jackknife.

In the semi-final match, the huge Cantonwine announced that if Wallick could get so much as one fall, he would concede him the match. Cantonwine won the first fall with body slams and a body press, but Wallick outmatched Cantonwine's tactics in the second fall with a series of hard blows to the face, which opened a cut over Cantonwine's eye. Wallick proceeded to knock Cantonwine to the mat and win the fall with a bodypress.

Dale Kiser pitted his speed and brains against Charley Carr's rough tactics to win the one fall opener with arm whips and a body press.

LaMotta To Face Italian Fighter In Garden Bout

NEW YORK, June 18 — (AP) — There'll not only be a new face but new surroundings and a new date as well when Jake LaMotta defends his world middleweight championship.

Forced by Rocky Graziano's hand injury to do a quick job of improvising, the International Boxing club announced the following substitute setup:

Principals — Jake LaMotta vs. Italy's Tiberio Mitri.

Date — July 12.

Place — Madison Square Garden.

Original plans were for LaMotta to risk his diadem against Graziano June 28 at the Polo Grounds. But Graziano busted a thumb in training last week and something had to be done in a hurry.

Things are breaking fast for Mitri.

He got off the boat March 14. On May 19 he was a headliner in Madison Square Garden, without the necessity of club buildup, and winner over light-heavy Dick Wagner of Topish, Wash.

Today he is challenger for LaMotta's controversial 160-pound title, recognized everywhere except in Pennsylvania which can't see the champ with spy glasses. Pennsylvania recognizes Ray Robinson.

Mitri, who hails from Trieste, has an imposing record of 32 professional victories and three draws without a setback.

Victoria Gains On Salem Team With Twin Win

By FRANK PAILLE
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Two of the Western International league's hottest teams, Victoria and Tri-City, clash this week on the latter's home field while the revitalized Yakima Bears play host to the pace-setting but tottering Tacoma Tigers.

Tri-City took a four-game grasp on fourth place yesterday, all but knocking the props from under Tacoma by taking both ends of a twin bill 11-5 and 4-2. It gave the Braves a sweep of the five-game series, and left Tacoma only a bare 3 games in front of Yakima and Wenatchee.

Victoria built its win streak to seven by clubbing Salem 9-2 and 6-5 in a Saturday doubleheader. The Canadians, in the cellar at the week's start, now are a strong sixth and only a half game behind the Oregonians.

Yakima also swept a five-game series with Spokane as the victim. The Bears turned the trick 7-3 and 9-2 yesterday after posting a 10-3 decision Saturday. The twin win put Yakima abreast of Wenatchee which split a pair with Vancouver Saturday, winning 7-1 and losing 6-4.

Only the two twin bills were scheduled yesterday.

Tri-City was outbait by Tacoma in both Sunday contests, but made up the deficit with home runs and Tiger weaknesses. Jim Warner's two first-game home runs and 10 walks plus five Tacoma errors mirrored the hippos in the opening tilt. A two-run homer by Dick Faber and a solo clout by Clint Cameron tucked away the finale. Sol Israel, acquired by Tacoma from Spokane in a trade for hard-hitting Glen Stetter, hit for the circuit in the first game.

Yakima was outbait in its first game with Spokane but kept out of trouble with three double plays. The Indians, who committed three errors in the opener, fell all apart for five bobbles in the second game to ruin their own cause. Lou Novikoff, with three doubles and a single in the two games, paced the Yakima cause. Catcher Joe Rossi homered for Spokane in the opener.

In addition to the Victoria-Tri-City and Tacoma-Yakima clashes, Vancouver swings down to Salem and Spokane goes to Wenatchee in other three-game sets opening Tuesday night.

Chiefs-Central Point Game Stopped By Rain
The Umpqua Chiefs vs. Central Point game, originally scheduled at Central Point Sunday, was called off late Saturday afternoon because of heavy rain in southern Oregon.

Earl Sargent, the Chiefs manager, stated he tried to get the game moved to Roseburg, but the idea was vetoed by the Central Point management.

The Southern Oregon league game will be made up later in the season.
