

K. U. PLAYER HOT
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 29.—(AP)—Galleries looked today for more upsets and minor reverses like those which spiced first rounds yesterday in the 53rd annual National Collegiate Athletic association golf classic.
A trimmed-down field of 32 heads into second rounds today. The championship will be decided Saturday.

Dave Dennis, 23-year-old Kan- university sharpshooter, fired blistering five-under-par 67 after stinging Oklahoma's Jim Vickers and 4 in one of the upsets.
Highly-regarded Morris Williams

Jr., of Texas was knocked out of the running by Len Kennett of Southern California 2 and 1.
The matches were played over the 6813-yard University of New Mexico course. A field of 165 teed off in Monday's qualifying rounds, with 64 qualifying for match play.

SPORTS In Brief

The Umpqua Chiefs will meet stiff competition from Hills Creek, undefeated in Lane-Douglas league play, in an exhibition game scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday on Finlay field. The Chiefs will face the right handed slants of a Drain boy, Jerry Cade, pitching for Hills Creek.

The Roseburg Junior Legion baseball squad dropped a 13-8 inter-sectional game with the Coos Bay Legion squad on Finlay field Wednesday as the visitors took advantage of haphazard Roseburg play to score in every inning except two. Local hurlers gave up only five hits but handed out 14 free bases when rattled by the erratic 11-error performance of their teammates.

Western International league play saw Tacoma wax Victoria, 9-2; Yakima edged Salem, 5-4; Vancouver beat Spokane, 7-2; and Wenatchee and Tri-City split a doubleheader, 6-2 and 8-15.

The leaders continued to lead in Far West league standings last night after wins over two first division clubs. Redding posted a 5-3 decision over Pittsburg. Klamath Falls outscored Reno, 11-9; Medford beat Willows, 9-6; and Eugene trounced Marysville, 13-3.

Bob Bergstrom, former OSC basketball star, has been appointed a physical education counselor at Oregon State for next fall. James J. Wilkinson will coach wrestling and Arthur Koski will become tennis and swimming instructor.

Airplane Crash Kills Three Budworm Sprayers
WALLA WALLA, June 28.—(AP)—Airplane crashes killed three men in the Umatilla national forest area yesterday. Both planes were involved in spraying the forest against spruce budworm.
John Maxon, 27, of Gillette, Wyo., was found dead yesterday afternoon in a single-engine air- craft about nine miles southeast of here. Earlier, Charles Peyton, about 26, of Missoula, Mont., and his co-pilot, Carl C. Hinkson Jr., about 27, Boise, died in the wreck- age of their twin-engine plane 12 miles east of here.
