Gen. Clark Says Russians Fear Show Of Force

FORT LEWIS, June 30 — (AP) — General Mark Clark, chief of the army ground forces, said he considered the United States stand in Korea had acted as a deterrent to a full-scale war.

Clark told newsmen the Russians have great respect for force and despise weakness.

"I am delighted by the action taken by the government," the general said.

"My two years with the Russians in Austria show that they will lie, cheat and murder to achieve their ends. Confront them with force and they will back down."

General Clark added he personally did not believe the Russians were ready for a full-scale war.

Annual Lily Festival Sited At Brookings

This year Brookings holds its 4th annual lily festival on July 2nd, 3rd and 4th. The lily parade, the only one of its kind in the world, will be held on July 3rd. Many are the attractions to entertain the visitor. Besides the wonderful parade, the conducted tours through the lily fields, tours to three state parks in the area, will be the fireworks display and the carnival on the Midway.

Given in conjunction with the Lily festival, will be the annual Flower show and Art Exhibit by the Azalea Garden club, opening at 2 p. m. Sunday July 2 at the high school gymnasium.

Photography as art will be an addition this year. Among the most notable contributions are 100 or more works representing the Oregon Camera club.

Price Prop Rates For Corn, Cotton Report To Grange

WASHINGTON, June 30 — (AP) — The Agriculture department Tuesday announced temporary price support rates for 1950 crop of cotton and corn.

It announced that support rates for other major crops such as wheat, rice, peanuts and tobacco will be fixed later. Wheat prices may be given out late this week or early next.

Corn will be supported at national average rates of 27 cents a bushel for 1 1/2 inch middling until August 1, at which time permanent rates for the crop will be set. This compares with an average of 27.23 cents last year.

Corn will be supported in the non-commercial area—outside the major producing counties of the Midwest, East and Southwest—at an average of $1.05 a bushel at the farm, until permanent rates are announced October 1. This average compared with about $1.03 in the same areas last year.

As in the past, prices will be supported by government loans and purchase agreements.

Farm law requires that all these crops be supported at 90 percent of their respective parity prices, except in the case of corn in the non-commercial area, where it is 75 percent of parity, and some types of tobacco, which are less than 90 percent of parity.

Pet Rabbit Unhurt As Train Kills Its Owner

ORRVILLE, O. June 30 — (AP) — William Powell, 42, lost his life under the grinding wheels of a train last night, but the pet rabbit that he carried in his pocket was unscathed.

Powell's severed body was found on the tracks at a crossing close to his home at nearby North Lawrence. The rabbit, still in his pocket, apparently suffered no ill effects.

Powell was a former railroad track walker who was fond of carrying his pet about with him. It was not known how he happened to be struck by the train.

His right arm was blown off at the elbow and a 30-30 caliber bullet plowed through his chest.

Parks, who lives at Redmond has been charged with assault with intent to kill and kidnaping.

He went to his ex-wife's home, according to the district attorney's office, Tuesday night and demanded that Mrs. Williams give him their 18-month-old son. When she refused he left and came back with a rifle. Scott, a ranch hand, was in the house and he bolted the door so Parks could not get in.

Temperance Is Session Topic At Adventist Rally

A temperance rally featured the "open house" Sunday at the Gladstone camp, where Seventh-day Adventists are holding a camp meeting, according to news received here from Roseburg delegates, Elder C. T. Ritchie, Oregon conference temperance secretary, was leader. Theme of the day's "open house", when the public was invited, was "meet your neighbor."

Many other state Adventist elders for the "open house," were given a souvenir book entitled "Your Friends, the Adventists."

Monday's program featured the home and school in an afternoon session with Elder G. S. Belleau, educational superintendent in charge. Another highlight of the Monday program was a talk by Sasa Rore of the South Pacific, who is enroute to the general conference of Adventists in San Francisco.

P. K. Simpson, voice of prophecy secretary for the southern Asia division, New Delhi, India, told of the progress of the Gospel through radio in India. The medical cadet program of the denomination was also discussed.

Should war come to this country now or in the near future, he said, it would take at least six months before America could have trained combat troops in the fields.

At present, he said, the United States has five divisions in this country and five others scattered throughout the world.

The Russians, he said, have 175 divisions and their method of recruiting soldiers makes it possible for them to assemble more divisions readily.

Klamath Shooter Kidnaper Gives Up

KLAMATH FALLS, June 30 — (AP) — Cleo Parks, 26, wanted for attempted murder and kidnaping, came down out of the hills back of Sprague River last night and surrendered to a state police officer.

With him was his ex-wife whom Parks had abducted from her Indian reservation ranch home Tuesday night.

The girl, 20-year-old Doris Williams, told officers she was assaulted twice during her captivity in a ravine a short distance from her home and District Attorney D. E. Van Vector said a charge of rape would be placed against Parks.

Ray Scott, 25, shot by Parks at Mrs. Williams' home Tuesday night, remains in a critical condition at a Klamath Falls hospital.
