

Glen Oaks Lots To Be Auctioned

Roseburg will see a real estate auction Saturday, July 29, when 15 of the 18 lots on the Glen Oaks subdivision are sold at public auction.

Harry D. Kinnear, owner, said the auction will be held at 2 p.m., rain or shine — in case July skies are cloudy that day. He has engaged as auctioneer Joseph Hyman of Portland, who has had 25 years experience with such sales, mostly in the East and Middle-West. Hyman, employed by the C. S. Briggs & Co. realty offices, will conduct the sale in cooperation with the 16 members in good standing of the Douglas County Realty board.

Kinnear said streets have already been improved to handle the crowds expected on hand for the auction sale. The subdivision is located six blocks east of the Indian theater at the end of East

Two Actions For Money Filed In Circuit Court

The following money suits have been filed in Circuit court: State Unemployment Compensation commission vs. Harold A. Rose and Thelma I. Rose, doing business as H. & I. Lumber Co. Plaintiff demands judgment for approximately $100, plus interest and penalty.

Leo Younz, trustee, vs. Fred O. Chamberlain and Mary Chamberlain, et al. Plaintiff asks authority to sell the disputed property to settle bills outstanding and asks the court to quiet title to the property.

Lane street. Signs will direct persons from that point, he said. The subdivision lies within the Roseburg city limits and is equipped with water and other public utilities. Kinnear said 1,720 feet of sewer lines are laid to service each of the 16 lots not already sold.

Fishermen Fooled By Sassy Bass

RICHLAND, Wash., July 22.—(AP)—Fool a fish? Nossir. Not the kind around these here parts, anyhow. Here's the way the Richland Rod and Gun club tells it: Inside the restricted area of the Hanford Atomic reservation, hundreds of sassy bass flipped their fins in the age-old gesture of derision. They were safe.

But the club, wanting to stock the lower reaches of the Yakima river, got permission to trap and transplant a big batch. Three hundred were weighed, measured, tagged and dumped into the Yakima. Not long afterward, fishermen began to catch these same bass 15 miles up the Columbia.

Know where they were headed? Back to the protected waters in the atomic preserve.

Prayer-beds are used by Hindus, Mohammedans and Buddhists.

Navy Commissions Offered Interns In Northwest Area

Commissions as medical officers and full pay are being offered by the Navy to Northwest medical school graduates interning in accredited hospitals. The hospital internship is not interrupted.

"The Navy department has advised us that we may accept additional interns in the Northwest," said Rear Admiral J. Q. Owsley, MC, USN, 13th Naval District Medical Officer. "Those now interning in hospitals approved by the council on medical education may qualify."

The medical graduates receive pay and allowances of $358 to $373 per month, plus a uniform allowance of $250. Upon completion of their internship, their pay is increased by $100 per month for the two years of active duty which they undertake to serve.

"Upon completion of two years of duty as medical officers, these young doctors may either return to civilian life or apply for permanent commissions in the Navy Medical Corps," Admiral Owsley explained.

Those who have had previous military service in either the regular or reserve components of the armed forces are given credit for that service in computation of pay. All interns accepted under the program are entitled to transportation of their dependents and household goods from their homes to the place of their present internship.

Applications are being accepted at all Offices of Naval Officer Procurement or by the District Medical Officer, Headquarters, 13th Naval District, Seattle.

Sawmill Men To Attend Session

Between two and three hundred key sawmill men from the Douglas fir, pine and redwood areas of the western lumber industry are expected to attend the sawmill operating conference to be held at the Multnomah hotel in Portland, Oregon, August 21-22.

An imposing program has been arranged for the two-day intensive business sessions, by a 20-man industrial advisory committee, directed to improving the standards of lumber manufacture in the west. Subjects to be discussed will include all phases of lumber manufacture of pine, redwood and Douglas fir, general mill layout for greatest efficiency, maintenance problems around the mill, types and kinds of saws and where they should be properly used, grade improvement, the expanding of the utilization of mill left overs, discussions of various types of equipment and many other important topics.

The meeting is being sponsored by The Timberman, an international lumber journal, published in Portland. There will be no registration fees, and no machinery show or extra activities at this strictly business conference. Sawmill men and equipment representatives are invited to attend the sessions.

FIREMEN OBLIGE

WAKEFIELD, Mass.—(AP)—A meek voice asked Wakefield firemen over the phone if they would do a woman a great favor.

They indicated they might. "Well," asked Mrs. Arthur E. Goodwin, "will you turn off the gas in my home and save the carrots?"

Mrs. Goodwin explained that she was in Topsfield—20 miles away—and had left the gas burning under a pan of carrots.

The firemen saved the carrots—and possibly the house from an explosion.

Boy Dies After Train Passes Over His Body

COLUMBUS, O., July 24.—(AP)—Ten-year-old Henry Town died in a hospital Friday night, six hours after 70 loaded coal cars of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train passed over his body.

Police and firemen watched helplessly as the slow-moving cars passed over his body.

The boy told hospital attendants he slipped while trying to crawl over the train. His right leg was amputated at the hip and his left arm and leg were deeply lacerated.

HEAR OUR SIDE OF THE STORY
Is This A Free America?
Here's what the Union is doing to The Rose Cafe

Our many friends and customers have asked us why we haven't expressed our side of the story; so we have taken this opportunity in explaining to the Public our side.

On January 6, 1950, the Culinary and Bartenders local union 293 of Roseburg started picketing our cafe and advertised it as unfair to organized labor. We didn't feel that we were unfair, as there was no labor dispute within our establishment. We pay union scale, our help is happy and so are we. The union is trying through picketing to force us, as owners of the Rose Cafe, to join their union and then we in turn force our help to join.

They never contacted our employees to hear their views. After picketing our cafe for two months and four days, with their objective still not won, the president of the local 293 and the business agent of the carpenters local came in to hear our side of the story. I asked them if they would tell me why and how that we were "unfair". They both admitted they couldn't see where we were. Yet they allowed their business agent to put a picket line in front of our place advertising us as unfair to organized labor. They said they were sorry for the misunderstanding. So after two months and four days they removed their pickets and came in and talked to the help like they should have done in the first place. The help refused to join their union. They contacted us again and we told them not to talk to us, to talk to the help. They claimed they had talked to the help and they said they would join, so would we sign the contract? We told them to get the names of the employees on the contract and bring it to us and we would sign it. They said, "Oh no, you sign it first and they'd have to." This was a false statement on their part as the help refused to sign the contract again. They then sent two members of the central labor council to talk to me again. I told them the same as before, as long as the employees were happy and didn't want to join I refused to sign any contract. They thanked me kindly and advised they'd be back to talk to the help. On June 28 they came back alright, not to talk to the help, but with another picket line. This time the picket apron read: "Do not Patronize. This cafe does not employ members of Bartenders and Waitress local union 293."

We are not union, never have been union, but have always paid union scale or above. Employees have never complained of working conditions. There is no labor dispute, so why do we have to hire members of union local 293? Even if we were union we would not have to hire members of that local. We could hire non-union members, and after 30 days, if they wished, they could join.

We are strongly opposed to dictatorship. If the union wants to run our business, we will sell it to them, so they may also pay the bills. We will not be forced! This is America, and when any organization has the power to force by means of picketing to gain their dictatorship, we feel they are taking away our freedom of enterprise and infringing on our rights as free Americans for which we have fought and are still fighting. If this is a free America, why do independent Americans allow a dictator to tell them where they can eat, what they can buy and where they can buy it? If they don't do just as the dictators say, there is a heavy fine hanging over their heads in order that they see it in the same light the dictators see it, and if the owners don't do as the dictators tell us to do, they try to break us up in business through picket lines. These loyal members have to have a heavy fine hanging over their heads to keep them from trading with these businesses marked "Do not Patronize". This alone proves how loyal these members must be, or no fines would be needed to keep them out. They can't even do their own thinking or are fined for doing so.

If we walked up and put a gun in a man's back we'd be arrested for attempted murder. Is this not a small example of—"Either you do what I say or else!" This is a free democracy, or supposed to be, but even local politics enter in it so strong that if they don't see it just as the dictators do, they may lose a vote or two—or if you have a few thousand dollars we may be able to help you. Why should we have to pay for our liberty if this is a free America? We all come under the same constitution as free Americans, yet they give labor organizations all the freedom and takes away freedom of enterprise, because people believe that labor organizations are so strong they are afraid to stand up for their own American rights.

We are not against organized labor. We are against racketeering, and the present day management of organized labor "stinks". It seems to me that we have a war to fight here at home as well as over seas, so we are asking the American public to open up their eyes and weigh our side of the story against that of local union 293 and see why we should be put on the "Do not Patronize" list just because we won't force our help to see the union's side and we refuse to be forced ourselves.
