

Red Polls 600,000 Votes In California Primary

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (AP) — A self-described Communist polled more than 600,000 votes in California's primary election last month. Bernadette Doyle of San Diego polled 605,393 votes in her unsuccessful race for state superintendent of public instruction.

Roy E. Simpson won with 1,771,245. Official figures have just been announced.

The office is non-Partisan. Simpson was listed as "incumbent" and Miss Doyle as "organizer and educator." In filing her candidacy, Miss Doyle gave her occupation as "chairman and education director of the Communist party of San Diego."

Although her Communist affiliation did not appear on the June 6 ballot, it was far from being a secret. California newspapers told the voters about it. The California Teachers' association drummed hard on it during the pre-election campaign.

State officials have inclined to write off the success of the woman to these factors: voter "ignorance," a tendency on the part of some people to vote against an incumbent.

Church Delegates Back From Meet

Delegates from the Roseburg Seventh-day Adventist church, who attended the international conference in San Francisco, have returned home. According to Quintus Dickerson, local elder, the Bay city convention broke all records in attendance.

Representing the Roseburg church were Elder and Mrs. L. L. Huntington, pastor; Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Johnson and Alstrup; Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Munroe, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rhodes, Mrs. R. A. Calendenon and Lonnie; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Matthews, Danny, Tommy and Alice Joy; Mrs. Frances Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Quintus Dickerson and Jirgil Olson.

Prior to the close of the 12-day session, the delegates pledged to channel every activity of the church into a new surge of evangelism according to Mr. Dickerson. Reports on increase of church membership, missionaries and publishing of literature were heard.

Governor Earl Warren addressed the delegates in the opening session. He commended Adventists for their work of peace. Elder W. H. Branson was elected president of the world general conference.

Fire Follows Police Swoop On 'Jungles'

The "jungles" across the railroad track just south of town took it "on the chin" yesterday, with a raid by city police which netted the city three alleged vagrants. The raid was followed about an hour later with a fire, which pretty badly scorched a portion of the area.

The fire caused small damage, except to some railroad ties and to some telephone poles in the vicinity. The fire was put out by the city fire department before it could spread to cause additional damage.

JACKSONVILLE, Ore.—The third annual Jacksonville Gold Rush jubilee, sponsored by the Jacksonville Lions club, has been set for Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 5 and 6. The two-day event will include a round of entertainment open to the public when gold rush days in Jacksonville will be revived.

Aug. 5 will be Southern Oregon day when dedication of the Jacksonville museum will be held. Dignitaries invited to attend include Gov. Douglas McKay; Mayor Dorothy Lee, Portland; Cmdr. A. W. Scott, Pacific Greyhound lines; Frank J. Van Dyke, speaker of house of representatives; William E. Walsh, president of state senate; Ben Hur Lampman, editorial writer, the Oregonian; Marshall Dana, editor, Oregon Journal; Manley Robison Oregon State highway commission; Walter J. The museum, open to the public without charge, contains one of the largest collections of memorabilia pertinent to the settling of the west.

Saturday's festivities will include a children's parade at 10 a.m. with entries significant to the gold rush era, to be followed by a parade of persons in authentic old-time attire. Crowning of the jubilee queen and introduction of her court will be made that morning. Other Saturday events will be a log bucking contest, a gold rush for children with "finders keepers"; gold panning contest; tour of miners' village; drill team exhibitions and street entertainment. Both old time and modern dancing will be featured.

Main event Saturday evening will be the Jacksonville Historical pageant depicting the settling of this vicinity and discovery of gold on Daisy creek in Rich gulch in 1851, which for a time made Jacksonville and vicinity the most populated part of Oregon.

Sundays events will be open with church services at 10 a.m. and a talk by Gus Newbury, pioneer speaker, at 11 a.m. The grand parade will be at 1 p.m. Sunday and the big gold rush will take place at 2 p.m. Vials of real gold will be buried in a certain area to be recovered and kept by those who want to enter the contest.
