

Classifications In War Draft Order Defined

Many inquiries have come to the local selective service office located in the Carter building, relative to the status of draft carriers. J. L. Saunders, chairman of the Douglas County selective service board, has announced the following information from its state office.

Classification 1-A means the same as in World War II—the President's greeting and induction may come at any time. Reclassification may follow physical examination if the person is found unfit.

Men qualified for service but who have conscientious objection to combat service are classified 1-A-O. They are subject to induction.

Class 1-C includes men enlisted or inducted and not on active duty; men enlisted subsequent to June 24, 1948, and discharged honorably, and those who entered to service subsequent to June 24, 1948, and were released from service before they had served three years and signed up for a reserve organization. Men in the discharged or reserve sections of 1-C will not be reclassified until they reach 25 years of age, when they go into 5-A classification.

Men who were in an active reserve unit before June 24, 1948, or joined the reserves before they became 18 years and six months old, ROTC men accepted for commissions and aviation cadets are in 1-D.

Deferment Provisions
Industrial and agricultural workers are deferred in classifications 2-A and 2-C, if the industry or farming operation can be interpreted as "necessary for the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest." There is no 2-B classification.

Under present regulations men are deferred under the 2-A classification because of dependents. The 4-A division is for veterans, who served three years in the armed forces and received an honorable discharge, who served more than 90 days between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945, or who served more than 12 months from Sept. 16, 1940, to Dec. 7, 1941, and/or from Sept. 2, 1945, to June 24, 1948.

Also included are men who are sole surviving sons of families in which one or more sons or daughters died in line of duty, or subsequently died as a result of injuries or disease incurred during service; men who served in the armed forces of any allied country during World War II. Merchant marine service is not recognized for deferment under 4-A.

Other Classes Defined
Aliens who meet specific conditions which require individual interpretation in each case are listed in 4-C. Aliens who file an application for relief from military service are precluded from ever becoming citizens of the United States.

Ministers, divinity and pre-divinity students are in 4-D. Conscientious objectors to both combat and non-combat service are deferred in 4-E. The 4-F classification remains the same as in World War II, for physically, mentally or morally unfit.

High school students may get a postponement of induction until they complete their high school courses or have attained the age of 20, whichever comes earlier. They are classified as 1-A. The regulation for college students is the same, except that the postponement goes only to the end of the current academic year.

Union Chief Asks New Rent Control In Los Angeles

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Walter P. Reuther of CIO's Auto Workers union has asked President Truman to restore rent controls in Los Angeles.

The union leader urged Mr. Truman to act under his emergency powers as commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

Reuther said there are no housing vacancies in Los Angeles and thousands of new workers are being hired by warplane factories there.

The Los Angeles city council ended rent controls in the city last Friday under the local option clause of the federal rent control act.

Reuther said there must not be a repetition of the situation in Spokane, Wash., where he said the families of war pilots sent to Korea have been evicted from their homes.

Mayor Arthur Meehan of Spokane said July 21 that families of six airmen ordered to the Pacific had been given notices of eviction or rent increases.

Names of the families were not given.

The cases were referred to the area rent advisory board which recommended decontrol of rents here last year. The board took the problem under consideration, and later indicated satisfactory adjustments had been made.

Mayor Meehan said in Spokane the cases had been "settled satisfactorily."

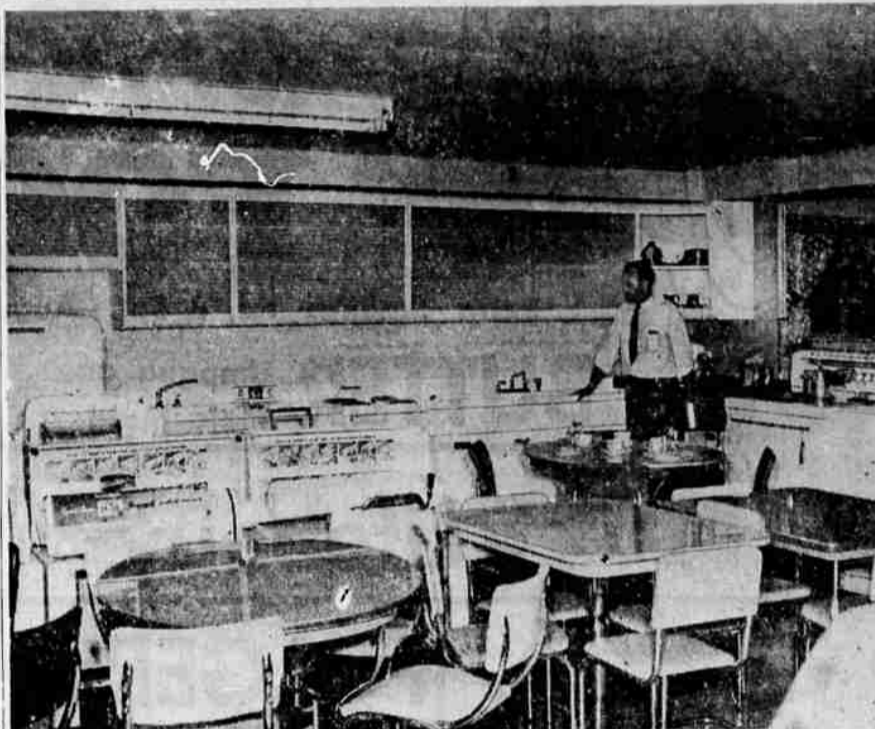

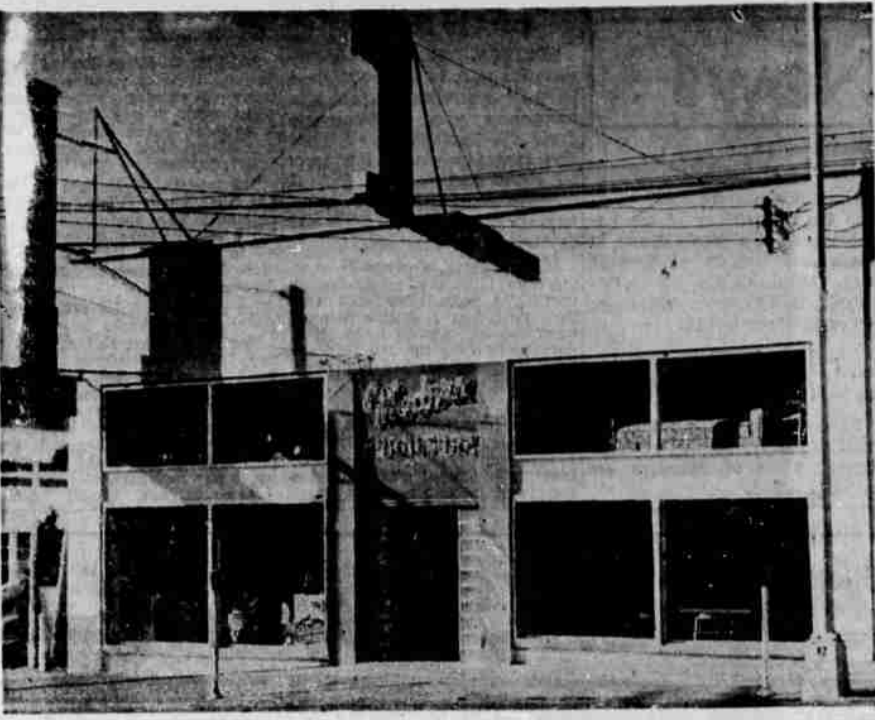

He added that no new hardship cases had been reported.

On the general problem of rentals in the city, Meehan said "decontrol here has worked out very well."

Col. Clifford Rees, commander of the Associated Press here considered the cases "properly settled."

Korean War Shows Russia It Would Meet Opposition In European Blow

BY CARL HARTMAN

PARIS.—(AP)—America's leaders have no hope of defending western Europe from a Russian attack if it comes tomorrow.

But in "X" months—there's a top secret label on the value of "X"—they believe Britain and France can be so strengthened morally and militarily that they could lead a successful stand.

Authoritative sources here who describe that situation say the number of months "X" represents can be shortened if many Europeans are won away from the currently popular attitude of "what's the use?"

That's the view being forcefully argued to the Europeans at North Atlantic pact meetings in London and in man-to-man conference with officials throughout western Europe. The Americans make no effort to hide it, though they fight shy of putting their names to it publicly.

The Communist attack in Korea and its success have put the razor edge on American awareness of how helpless Europe would be in the face of a full Russian assault. Before, this was understood in a dull and distant way, if at all. Red Manpower Superior

This is the way they now paint the picture:
The Russians, according to British defense minister Emanuel Shinwell, could put 175 army divisions into the field tomorrow. Western Europe probably could not scrape together 15. While it might not necessarily take 175 divisions to stop 15, it would take a lot more than 15.

American rearmament of the Atlantic world is going ahead on the assumption that World War III can be avoided. Top American policy makers are said to believe there is less danger now of a major conflict than there was two months ago.

They reason that two months ago the Russians might have thought they could edge ahead without resistance. The Korean war has showed they can expect opposition.

The fact that the Russians have not moved against western Europe seems to mean to observers here that the Soviets do not want a big war. If they did, they could hardly pick a better time than now.

The Americans are known to be telling the British and French—who must be the backbone of western Europe's defense—that there's no use brooding about the scarcity of available opposition to any Russian attack that comes soon.

What can be done, they are saying, is to get into shape in case the Russians decide to attack last

Youth Killed In Second Try To Conquer Horse

ONTARIO, Ore. — (AP) — A horse threw Bill Stewart, 20, into a barbed wire fence a month ago. Stewart suffered a broken leg, but swore he would continue to ride that horse. It was a fatal mistake.

The horse dragged Stewart, an amateur rodeo performer, to death on the ranch land northwest of his home in Vale Tuesday night.

Stewart, his broken leg still in a cast, went out to drive dairy cattle home for the evening milking. When he failed to return, a search was started.

His broken body was found in a six-foot deep hole. It was plain he had been dragged some distance before dropping into the hole with such force that a twisted lariat, curled around one leg, had snapped.

Auto Fire Saves $100,000 In Stolen Gold Bricks

TIMMINS, Ont. — (AP) — Two hooded bandits were forced to abandon three gold bricks worth $100,000 and their getaway car Tuesday when it burst in flames. They had stolen the gold from the office of the Conlastrum Mines Ltd.

The fire-blackened car was found about 25 miles from here hours after the robbery. The bandit had trussed up Bill Edwards, the mine watchman, while they broke into the safe.

The robbers entered the mine's main office before dawn. Ed Edwards' hands and feet and let him lie on the floor and watch them break into the big vault containing the gold.

TO THE LAST DETAIL

DuPonts Receive Nod To Develop Hydrogen Bomb

WASHINGTON. — (AP) — The government has apparently given the Du Pont company top responsibility for developing the hydrogen bomb.

An atomic energy commission announcement provided that hint. Du Pont built and operated for a time the vast atomic energy plant at Hanford, Wash.

AEC said only that the big chemical firm has been selected to design, construct and operate new facilities to produce materials for atomic weapons or fuels potentially useful for power purposes.

Company officials at Wilmington said "the project is of vital importance to the security of the United States."

The AEC said the new plants will be of "advanced design and their operation will provide new knowledge that will speed the progress of the atomic energy program."

But commission officials, as usual, shield away from any direct mention of the H-bomb, the new weapon President Truman has ordered for the atomic arsenal.

Where the new plants will be located has not yet been decided. Du Pont and government experts have been looking for a site, expected to cover some 200,000 acres.

President Truman recently requested Congress to appropriate an additional $250,000,000 for the atomic energy commission, most of it to be used to further work on the H-bomb.

The appropriation would supplement about $600,000,000 cash already earmarked for the commission in regular appropriations for the fiscal year that began July 1.

Loyalty Check Bars Two Sailors From Vessels

SAN FRANCISCO. — (AP) — In its first day of loyalty screening seamen yesterday, the coast guard rejected two sailors as bad security risks.

Both were stopped from shipping out on foreign bound vessels. The coast guard instituted the check to weed out potential saboteurs and other subversives from service in the merchant marine.
