OMAR of Oriental rug-making fame has nothing on the stock of rug and floor covering styles currently on display at Carsten's furniture in Roseburg. Fine Art Offered By Reproductions

Let pictures give warmth and personality to your walls as well as bringing fine art into your home.

With the aid of modern processes, works of art are available to every home. There are fine reproductions from every phase of artistic expression, embracing all subjects to suit your taste and mode of living.

Also as a result of these processes, the products of contemporary artists can achieve public recognition and popularity during their lifetime. The colors and subjects have been reproduced so faithfully that you will feel that you have the original canvas in your home.

It is of utmost importance that your framed pictures look as though they belong in a particular setting. For they are an integral part of the room's decor. This means that your choice of pictures should blend with the style of furnishings, be in proportion to the wall space, and in keeping with the scale of the furnishings.

When they meet all these requirements, you know that you have made the best choice, and these accessories are contributing the most to the room.

NEVER A SLIP

A heavy duty bathtub mat removes the danger of slipping in the tub, while affording the bather more comfort. Suction cups on the underside anchor the mat firmly to the tub. The mat comes in black, white and decorative pastels.

COLOR MOTIF—This bedspread ensemble has the rich shaded embroidery and minute workmanship of heirloom spreads.

Modern Lamps Are Mellowed

Admirers of modern furniture will be pleased with the new modern lamps.

The designs have mellowed. They are pleasing to the eye, while still retaining the clean-cut, pure lined implied by Modern.

Monotone ceramic bases topped by cone-shaped plastic shades in the identical colors, relieved only by a large flower or leaf design, are attractive. Lamps featuring pottery and wood bases are appropriate for more informal modern interiors.

Shades made from hemp, home-spun nubby fabrics laminated to parchment, and the ever popular hand-laced spun glass complete these modern designs.
