Germ Warfare Feared In Death Of Midwest Hogs

NORFOLK, Neb. — (AP) — Rep. Karl Stefan (R-Neb.) says he fears some kind of biological warfare by enemies of the United States has been causing the heavy death rate among hogs in the Midwest corn belt.

He said he would call FBI director J. Edgar Hoover and also get in touch with the Department of Agriculture and ask for help and an investigation.

(As early as July, 1949, the Agriculture department sent investigators into Iowa and Nebraska to check reports of unusually heavy death losses among hogs. No causes were advanced at the time).

Stefan's comment came after alarmed farmers visited his Norfolk office and told of losing large numbers of their hogs after they had been vaccinated for cholera.

"This is more serious than the hoof and mouth disease in Mexico which we are spending $25,000,000 to check," Stefan said.

"This could wipe out our pork population."

Spokesmen for the Crofton and Bloomfield, Neb., farmers who visited Stefan said they have become so alarmed over the losses they have stopped vaccinating and now fear a cholera outbreak that could virtually destroy the hog population.

Actress Corrects U.S. Idea About French Girls; Comes To Hollywood For Picture

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Americans have the wrong idea about French girls, thinks Leslie Caron, latest gift of the Republic of France to Hollywood.

Miss Caron, imported to dance with Gene Kelly in "American in Paris," said we should not judge her countrywomen by the pictures we see of them in French bathing suits and low-cut gowns. Actually, she declared, French girls are not as uninhibited as it might seem.

"French girls have much less liberty than American girls," said the 18-year-old ballet beauty. "The French mothers keep a close eye on their daughters. The girls are not allowed to wear lipstick until they are 17 or 18 and then very little. They cannot have dates until they are 18 and then they are chaperoned."

"But in America I see little girls only so high wearing lipstick. And lots of them start going out on dates before they are 14."

"The Young French girl cannot dress as — can I say it? — sexy as the American. The French girl usually has straight hair until she has grown up, and the American starts curling her hair when she is very young. The French girl wears very plain clothes, and the American has a variety of good-looking dresses."

What about the French bathing suit?

"The suit, it is nothing. When we see it on the beaches, we think nothing of it, because we are used to it. It is just as though someone from the North Pole would come to your beaches; he would think it was shocking to see legs exposed."

"As a matter of fact, the brief suit is going out of style in France. It was popular for three years after the war. Now the girls are wearing the one-piece suit. Of course, it is cut a little higher on the side of the leg."

Miss Caron, I might add, is herself a good advertisement for her countrywomen. She has a trim, dancer's figure and a face that is best described as piquant. She is quiet and soft-spoken, but has definite ideas.

She was discovered by Gene Kelly in Paris, which is her home town. Kelly saw her in a ballet a couple of years ago. When he returned this year to find a leading lady, he remembered her.

It turned out that Leslie's mother had been an American dancer who had appeared in George Gershwin shows and had known the composer. She retired and married Leslie's father, a French chemical manufacturer.

Leslie would like to commute between Hollywood films and Parisian ballet. "I love it here," she remarked. "The ice cream and cake is wonderful."

KDND
DIAL-LOG

By CAROL KERR

Bobby Benson, MDL's juvenile cowboy star, has joined his elder western brethren in radio programming on the coast-to-coast Mutual-Don Lee network every Sunday. The "Bobby Benson" Big Bend country of Texas, are heard from 5:00-5:30 p. m. Sunday. The 12-year-old cowboy, currently heard on week-days only, will be part of an MDL Sunday September schedule that will feature such other outstanding western heroes as "Hopalong Cassidy" and "Roy Rogers."

The extreme popularity of this juvenile star, which has skyrocketed so sharply that Bobby Benson apparel is now worn by children in addition to their "Hoppy," "Roy Rogers" and "Straight Arrow" equipment, won the coveted Sunday suit for Bobby. The MDL Sunday afternoon parade of programs has consistently drawn the largest listening audiences in network radio. "Bobby's" popularity with the small-fry is attributed to the belief that young listeners have a much easier time identifying themselves with a juvenile hero, rather than the shoving-fifty-type such as Cassidy.

Flying saucers are plaguing America's fighting pilots — even in Tokyo. Bob Stewart, one of several war correspondents covering the Korean operation for Mutual-Don Lee listeners, reported the other day that the Japanese, after only recently reading stories about flying saucers, are now blandly asking air force fighter pilots:

TONIGHT: Amateur vocalists vie for cash prizes on "What's the Name of That Song?" (8:00-8:30 p. m.)... For the first time on the series of "Music You Want" concerts, the catchy music of the ballet "Helen of Troy" based on compositions by Jacques Offenbach will be heard (10:15-10:45 p. m.). The excerpts will be performed by Antal Dorati, conducting the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Hospital Ship's Radio Antenna Not Connected

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — The Benevolence—rammed and sunk—didn't flash an SOS because her antenna was down.

Warrant Officer W. R. Jackson told a coast guard board of inquiry he tried to send an SOS but—"Things were happening pretty fast and I'm afraid I forgot to connect the antenna."

Jackson said he disconnected it when giving lessons to a recruit—and remembered only when he was floating around in the Pacific.

The hospital ship sank Aug. 25 off the Golden Gate after she was rammed by the freighter, Mary Luckenbach.
