DIAL-LOG

By CAROL KERR

ON THE AIR is station KRXL, Roseburg's newest radio station... 1240 on the dial. KRXL began its initial hour of broadcasting late Tuesday afternoon, at approximately 5:30 p. m., featuring transcribed music out of the Langworth library, interspersed with national and international news from the wires of United Press. The familiar voice of former KRNR announcer, Del McKay, introduced KRXL to Roseburg and vicinity for the first time, with news-shots and special music segments handled by newcomer Jerry Oliver. KRXL promised its listeners a variety of radio entertainment, with programming from the world of sports, music, news, and special events. Welcome... KRXL!

But hold on a minute... let us look at KRNR. Tonight... you'll hear the "Clyde Beatty Show" (8:30-9:30 p. m.) when Clyde and his circus tangle with a "Wild Man from Borneo". Douglas County bank brings you tonight's "Reporter's Roundup" (8:30-9:00 p. m.) when Joe Louis, the retired world's heavyweight boxing champion, will hold a news conference at his Pompton Lakes, N. H., training camp with several noted boxing writers during the broadcast. The "champ" meets Ezzard Charles in a title match on Sept. 27. "Reporter's Roundup" is moderated by Everett Holles, veteran radio reporter, news analyst and commentator. From the Shalimar tonight (9:30-9:45 p. m.) comes the music of the newly-booked "White Trio" colored ensemble currently playing Roseburg. Rumor has it that these boys run a close second to the King Cole Trio with their professional approach toward the handling of a piano, guitar and bass. RCA-Victor Red Seal records on "Music You Want" tonight (10:15 - 10:45) featuring Arthur Fiedler and the Boston "Pops" orchestra in a performance of the music of Ponchielli, Verdi and Saint Saens.

Football lineup over the weekend finds Bob Grant mikeside for a play-by-play description of the Coquille-Roseburg football stint direct from Finlay Field tomorrow night at game-time, or, 8:00 p. m. to conclusion. For the 25th consecutive year, Mutual-Dun Lee will air descriptions of the leading games of the 1950 Pacific Coast Conference football schedule beginning Saturday afternoon, Sept. 22 over KRNR. First game to be heard is Oregon State vs. Michigan State in a morning game, beginning at 11:45 a. m. to conclusion.

Indian Fighter, 81, Now Requesting Pension

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — Sixty-two years ago Edwin M. Wells was fighting Indians with the U. S. cavalry. Now he's 81 years of age and he finally got around to asking for a soldier's pension.

T. E. McDermott, head of the San Pedro veterans center, says yellowing records of the frontier days prove that Wells is entitled to a pension.

Wells made his pension request this week. He related that he ran away from home at the age of 10 to become a cow puncher and joined the cavalry at the age of 19 to campaign against the Cheyenne Indians.

He and his wife Katharine, have been married for 33 years.

Mary Luckenbach Skipper Faces Negligence Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Capt. Leonard C. Smith of Tampa, Fla., skipper of the freighter Mary Luckenbach which rammed the navy hospital ship Benevolence Aug. 25, has been charged with negligence by the coast guard.

The Mary Luckenbach was proceeding "at excessive speed" through the fog when it struck the mercy ship, the coast guard alleged.

Capt. Smith will be tried on the charge at an open hearing before civilian examiner Tilden H. Edwards in San Francisco. Possible results of the hearing, said Capt. Fred MacGurn, Marine inspection officer, are:

1. The skipper can be cleared and the charges dismissed.
2. His license as master can be revoked permanently.
3. His license can be suspended for a period of time.
4. He can be placed on probation, with suspended license.

The charges grew out of a 12-day marine board investigation into the disaster, in which at least 21 died. The investigation had jurisdiction over merchant marine personnel, only, not navy men, the coast guard said.

Date for the hearing was not set.

Boy Loses Fingers In Play With Dynamite

LA GRANDE (AP) — Donald Kline, 12 La Grande lost four fingers and part of a thumb of his left hand and suffered other injuries when a dynamite cap with which he was playing exploded Tuesday.

The boy, who also suffered burns and wounds on the chest, right hand and wrist, was believed to have found the caps at a construction job near his home.

He was in a fair condition at a hospital.

NEW POLIO CASES

PENDLETON (AP) — The 12th and 13th cases of polio have been diagnosed in Umatilla county.

One was a 10-year-old girl from Stanfield and the other a 35-year-old Athena man. The girl's case is the bulbar type.

Dr. R. H. Wilcox, county health doctor, said the trend in Umatilla county is similar to that all over Oregon.

Federal School Aid Bill Sent To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — House passage sent to President Truman Wednesday a bill calling for federal aid to schools where enrollment is swollen by government activities.

The bill simply authorizes the aid to the school districts. Actual funds would be provided in another measure.

The aid would continue until June 30, 1954. The cost has been estimated at $32,000,000 annually.

Steam Roller Takes Boy Driver On Rampage

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Well, if you were a boy, you probably would have the urge to do just what Robert Price, 11, did.

Police said he told them he found a steam roller near a partially constructed school building. He climbed aboard, pushed a button, wiggled some gears and started off across country like an American tank routing a bunch of Reds in Korea.

All went well with Bob, until a two-inch water pipe got in the way of his "tank," broke and flooded the countryside. Juvenile authorities are going to talk it over with him.

MORE LABORATORY AID

ALBANY, Ore. (AP) — The federal bureau of mines laboratory here has been given another $100,000 to boost pilot plant production of zirconium.

Indian Children Truants Stopped From Fishing

CELILO, Ore. (AP) — The Indians are fishing at Celilo falls now, but three truant officers today took some of the sting out of it.

They saw that 92 of them — boys and girls — were in school while their elders dined on salmon at their ancient treaty-right fishing grounds.

An estimated 3000 Indians are here for the fall fishing, laying in their winter's food supply and selling the surplus.

Many brought along the whole family as they came from distant points. The youngsters, until Harvey Wright, Oregon director of Indian education, threw a book at them, joined in the fishing.

There was 13-year-old Francis McFarland, Warm Springs Indian from Pendleton, who netted a mighty salmon in his turn on his father's scaffold, built out beyond the rocks that turn the Columbia river into a churning torrent.

How many did he catch? He wouldn't say. Indians, who have had trouble in the past with whites invading their fishing grounds, view such questions with suspicion.

Before Wright brought in the truant officers, he talked with parents and got their assurance that during school hours their offspring would be in class in the small school just above the home of aging Chief Tommy Thompson, who rules the resident Indians. The truant officers showed up just in case.

Wright said the schooling was a necessary so the young Indians would be up with their classes when they returned home.

Those here for the fishing represent about 13 percent of the 700 Indian children enrolled in public schools around the state.

N.W. Electric Power This Winter Assured

PORTLAND (AP) — The Pacific Northwest is not likely to be confronted with an electric power "brownout" in the coming winter, Paul A. Raver said.

Raver, Bonneville administrator, said there had been talk of a brownout to meet the needs of aluminum production.

But, he said, before the region were penalized to aid one defense industry, he assumed federal authorities would first restrict non-essential civilian use of aluminum.

With average water conditions and full use of steam plants, "all aluminum production can be maintained without any reduction," he said and "I suspect no brownout will be necessary" if a co-operative program worked out by public and private utilities is put into effect to speed power production.
