

Canyonville PTA To Hear Speaker on School Bill

Supt. M. C. Deller of the Myrtle Creek school will be guest speaker for the first meeting of the Canyonville Parent-Teacher association Thursday, Sept. 28, at the school at 8 p. m. His topic will be "Basic School Fund Increase."

This measure, passed at the last legislative session at Salem, is to be voted upon by the voters in the coming November election. It is proposed to increase the amount of state aid to local school districts from $30 to $80 per census child in order to ease the burden of local property taxpayers.

All voters are urged to attend and hear an explanation about the children's bill and how it will affect the educational system in Oregon.

It will be necessary to hold an election for a new president, as Mrs. Norman Anlauf resigned her position because she is moving to Myrtle Creek. She and her executive committee are entertaining the teachers at her home at a dinner in the form of a reception Thursday night before the 8 o'clock meeting.

A large turnout to meet and welcome the teachers is expected.

teria, special dietary and tray service.

"No detail has been overlooked for the efficient care of the patient," Sister Austin said. The maternity department will consist of 22 beds, nursery, premature and work room and formula room. According to Sister Austin, every effort is being made to assure mother and baby the best in safe, scientific care.

The nursery will be equipped with the latest type transparent bassinets giving each baby individual isolation which lessens the danger of cross infection. This type of bassinets also makes supervision less of a strain, because the baby is visible at all times and presents a comforting sight to the parents.

Greater Comfort Assured
The new hospital room ensemble will have soft, soothing colors to restore health faster, and its mechanical features will provide greater comfort and convenience for patients and less work for nurses. These features will be combined in the furnishing of the patients' rooms, said Sister Austin.

An intercommunication system will provide electronic voice communication between patient and nurse. It will give the patient a greater feeling of security by being able to establish at once vocal communication with the nurse in charge. To the nurse it will be a means of greater usefulness to time and energy as many calls may be answered without leaving the nurse station, Sister Austin pointed out.

A central oxygen system will also be installed as a service to patients.
