Wild Turkeys Get More Numerous In United States

WASHINGTON — The wild turkey is staging a comeback. A dozen years ago the stock of this big game bird was very low. But now, a Wildlife Service official told a reporter, wild turkeys are becoming more plentiful over a wide area of the United States. The improvement is mainly the result of conservation steps, such as setting aside and improving special areas for the birds; trapping and transplanting; and raising wild turkeys at state game farms. Habitat improvement has been undertaken in some 15 states. Leaders in this work are Virginia, Texas, Alabama, West Virginia and North Carolina. Colorado last year had its first open season on turkeys in about 50 years. Texas is a leader in the work of trapping and transplanting wild turkeys. Virginia raised more turkeys for release in the woods during the last 10 years than any other state. Fourteen states have placed more than 9,000 turkeys in selected

Foreign Service Call Awaiting Reservists

FORT LEWIS — (AP)—Brig. Gen. Leroy H. Watson, post commander, said last night he had received orders to make all enlisted reservists with from five to 20 points available for foreign service when their training is complete.

The order will affect several thousand of the 10,000 reservists in training here, he said. There was no indication when they would be moving out. The general said the directive provided that personnel without at least one year of previous service will not be shipped overseas.

areas during the last 10 years under the federal-aid program supported by Pittman-Robertson act funds. Most of these were trapped wild birds. Lack of proper habitat woods with open spaces and a water supply — continues to be a big problem in re-establishing the wild turkey in a still wider range. But the biggest problem, the official said, is something else — the out-of-season hunt.

York Rite Masons To Hold Reunion

On Saturday, Nov. 4, in the Masonic temple, Laurel Chapter No. 21, R. A. M., will be host to over 100 York Rite Masons from southwestern Oregon for the purpose of conferring the past master and most excellent master degrees. The program will start at 5 p. m. with the past master degree being conferred by T. G. Havens. Following this, dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. in the Masonic hall. At 8 p. m. the most excellent master degree will be conferred by Sam A. Warg.

This is the sixth of such reunions at which Laurel chapter has been host in the past four years. The present fall class of candidates will represent Royal Arch chapters from Coquille, Coos Bay, Cottage Grove, Gold Beach, Reedsport and Roseburg. Advance notices would indicate this to be the largest single class to receive these two degrees. All visiting York Rite Masons are welcome and urged to be present.

October Jobless Pay 2-Year Monthly Low

SALEM — (AP)—Unemployment compensation during October totaled $483,295 in Oregon, the lowest monthly figure in two years, the State Unemployment Compensation commission reported. But, the commission said, the number of claims started rising slightly in the last half of the month.

The October total was 11.4 percent less than in September, and was 65.5 percent under the October, 1949, total.

The total for the first 10 months of this year was $12,563,296, highest on record, and 39.9 percent more than in the same period last year.

This year's high total was caused by widespread unemployment during last winter's bitter cold weather.

The Herald was the first newspaper in New York to give detailed descriptions of the gowns worn by women at social affairs. James Franklin started the New England Courant in 1721 in Boston. States appeared in Philadelphia in 1784.
