Week-Old Thrives At 2-Pound 10-Ounce Weight

SEATTLE — (AP) — A tiny squeak emits from a tiny body in the Seattle General hospital today. But that tiny squeak, by comparison with one month ago, is a roar and the body is gigantic.

The squeak comes from Maureen Lynn Werner — all 2 pounds 10 ounces of her. Born just one month ago Friday, Maureen was too small to weigh. But at six days, when she had gained steadily on an eye-dropper diet, Maureen weighed in at 1 pound 15 ounces.

She's not exactly large today — despite that one-third increase in weight. A wedding ring easily encircles her wrist as a bracelet. And she still feeds from an eye dropper. But the quantity has been increased from a few drops every two hours to "almost an ounce."

Hospital attendants said she probably will remain in the incubator she occupies at the hospital until December or adds another 2½ pounds.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Werner. The father hasn't seen the child since she was 10 days old — he was called into service by the marines and now is on duty at Camp Delmar, Calif.

Opposite Demands Bring Miami Divorce Suits

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — Two suits for divorce were filed in Miami yesterday — one by a man who said his wife wanted to stay at home and the other by a woman who said her husband wouldn't take her out.

Ford Reed charged that Nora refused to go out with him and preferred to stay home and knit nearly all night. Then when she did go to bed she made "such a fuss and noise" she disturbed his sleep, he said.

In the Fred M. Belisle home the situation was just the reverse, according to his wife, Marian.

She said in her divorce suit that he wouldn't take her out and avoided her company. When she tried to go with him he called her stupid, Mrs. Belisle asserted.

Holland was the home of freedom of the press in the early 16th century.

Indian Arraigned On Charge Of Intent To Kill

KLAMATH FALLS — (AP) — Percy Ball, 27-year-old Klamath Indian, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Bert Thomas today on a charge of assault with intent to kill Indian service officer John Arkell.

Ball was overpowered at Chilquin. Constable Alvie Youngblood took Ball into custody after a fight that lasted several minutes in the town telephone office. The Indian was surprised while placing a long distance call to Portland.

Rex Butler, 31, jointly charged with Ball in an attack on the 60-year-old Indian officer Thursday, is still on the loose and is believed to be in the mountains near Chilquin.

Arkell was shot at twice and clubbed over the head. He identified Ball and Butler as his assailants.

An Indian woman, Estella Kirk, 23, is also charged with assault with intent to kill and a second girl, Ramona Tupper, 18, is held as a material witness to the attack on Arkell. Both are in the county jail here.
